bring about significant change in a university Universities are inherently creative places but too often there is a pervasive inertia that prevents ideas from being turned into new and better practices This programme aimed to create a culture of innovation Conventional project planning techniques were deliberately avoided and replaced with an approach based on complexity theory recognising that the process of change requires constant adaptation acceptance of non linear progress and subversion of conventional management discourse Offering an unusual example from the higher education sector this study is a distinctive contribution to the extensive literature on organisational change Learning gained from participants is related to theories and research from this wider literature The study proposes a holistic and integrated approach to change which might offer a more culturally relevant and sustainable model both for higher education and for those sectors of industry and commerce from which much change management practice has conventionally been drawn
