The Light Garden of the Angel King Peter Levi,1984      The Light Garden of the Angel King Peter Levi,1973      The Garden of God Peter Levi,1995      Asia and Oceania Trudy Ring,Noelle Watson,Paul Schellinger,2012-11-12 From the Taj Mahal to the Parthenon from Gettysburg to Heidelberg from Beacon Hill to Tower Hill from the Great Wall to Hadrian s Wall from Jerusalem to Kyoto the International Dictionary of Historic Places presents some 1 000 comprehensive and fully illustrated histories of the most famous sites in the world Entries include location description and site office details and a 3 000 to 4 000 word essay that provides a full history of the site and the condition of the site today An annotated Further Reading list of books and articles about the site completes each entry      The Greek Experience of India Richard Stoneman,2021-06-08 An exploration of how the Greeks reacted to and interacted with India from the third to first centuries BCE When the Greeks and Macedonians in Alexander s army reached India in 326 BCE they entered a new and strange world They knew a few legends and travelers tales but their categories of thought were inadequate to encompass what they witnessed The plants were unrecognizable their properties unknown The customs of the people were various and puzzling While Alexander s conquest was brief ending with his death in 323 BCE the Greeks would settle in the Indian region for the next two centuries forging an era of productive interactions between the two cultures The Greek Experience of India explores the various ways that the Greeks reacted to and constructed life in India during this fruitful period From observations about botany and mythology to social customs Richard Stoneman examines the surviving evidence of those who traveled to India Most particularly he offers a full and valuable look at Megasthenes ambassador of the Seleucid king Seleucus to Chandragupta Maurya and provides a detailed discussion of Megasthenes s now fragmentary book Indica Stoneman considers the art literature and philosophy of the Indo Greek kingdom and how cultural influences crossed in both directions with the Greeks introducing their writing coinage and sculptural and architectural forms while Greek craftsmen learned to work with new materials such as ivory and stucco and to probe the ideas of Buddhists and other ascetics      Virgil Peter Levi,2012-02-28 Peter Levi teases a remarkably vivid life from Virgil s poems a life long study of poetry and the few facts that have come down to us through Suetonius Born in 70 BC in a small village near Mantua Publius Vergilius Maro Virgil grew up to be hailed as the greatest Roman poet And although his work has influenced Western literature for two millennia little is known about the man himself Who was the man who created The Aeneid one of the most important poems in Western literature and such universal phrases as love conquers all and fortune favours the bold In this highly acclaimed now classic biography the eminent classicist Peter Levi uses Virgil s poems like the Eclogues Georgics and his epic The Aeneid as well as historical and archaeological evidence to discard many of the myths surrounding Virgil s life In doing so he uncovers the life of a poet whose powerful imagination and ethereal ability helped shape the epic vision of modern man Virgil s densely written and beautifully complex verse dominated Augustan Rome the period of unprecedented prosperity peace and expansion that inaugurated the Golden Age of Roman poetry Virgil was the one poet who most fully understood the Roman Empire's enduring legacy and through his poetry defined the idea of civilization for generations to come Although contemporary critics and readers often overlook Virgil's genius Levi demonstrates that to neglect Virgil is to truncate many of the literary foundations of our culture

China in World History S. Adshead, 2016-09-27 This revised edition provides a new preface to this highly popular book The theme of the book is China's relations with the non-Chinese world not only political and economic but cultural social and technological as well It seeks to show that China's history is part of everyone's history In particular it traces China's relationship since the thirteenth century to the emergent world order and the various world institutions of which that order is composed Each chapter discusses China's comparative place in the world the avenues of contact between China and other civilizations and who and what passed along those channels

Violence All Around John Sifton, 2015-05-11 A human rights lawyer travels to hot zones around the globe before and after the September 11 attacks to document abuses committed by warlords terrorist groups and government counterterrorism forces Whether reporting on al Qaeda safe houses the mechanics of the Pentagon's smartest bombs his interviews with politicians and ordinary civilians or his own brush with death outside Kabul John Sifton wants to help us understand violence what it is and how we think and speak about it For the human rights community the global war on terror brought unprecedented challenges Of special concern were the secret detention centers operated by the CIA as it expanded into a paramilitary force and the harsh treatment of prisoners throughout Iraq and Afghanistan In drafting legal memoranda that made domestic prosecution for these crimes impossible Sifton argues the United States possessed not only the detainees but the law itself Sifton recounts his efforts to locate secret prisons and reflects on the historical development of sanctioned military or police violence from hand to hand combat to the use of drones and the likelihood that technology will soon enable completely automated killing Sifton is equally concerned to examine what people have meant by nonviolent social change and he asks whether pure nonviolence is ever possible To invoke rights is to invoke the force to uphold them he reminds us Ultimately advocates for human rights can only shame the world into better behavior and their work may involve advocating the very violence they deplore

Afghan Lessons Fernando Gentilini, 2013-07-02 Fernando Gentilini served nearly two years as the civilian representative of NATO in Afghanistan running a counterinsurgency campaign in the wartorn nation Afghan Lessons is the fascinating story of his mission a firsthand view of Afghanistan through a kaleidoscope He explores Afghan history literature tradition and culture to understand some of the most basic questions of Western involvement What is the purpose What does an international presence mean and how can it help Highlights from Afghan Lessons This is a book about different worlds different realities The reality of everyday life in an unreal world People that need to be looked after jobs that need to be done a country that needs to be restored all from within the necessary confines of an armed camp And this in the middle of another reality which we do not understand full of things forgotten under decades of war The keys to this reality lie in the past perhaps lost from the Foreword by Robert Cooper To tempt me to explore their country the Afghans kept repeating that there were three different Afghanistans The first is the one you Westerners imagine another coincides with the city of Kabul the third is the country of remote provinces far away from the cities and of the three this is the only real Afghanistan There can be no development without security and no security without development Everyone said it over and over again both the civilians and the military but depending on whether it was said by the former or the latter the emphasis was placed on the first or second part of the slogan In all honesty this seemingly obvious concept concealed two contrasting ways of seeing things
