The Letters Of Virginia Woolf Vol 4:

The Letters of Virginia Woolf Virginia Woolf, 1975 Virginia Woolf is 47 at the beginning of this volume and struggling to complete her masterpiece The Waves rewriting it three times interrupted by illness and unwanted visitors But she continued to meet and correspond with old friends such as Roger Fry Lytton Strachey Vita Sackville West and Ottoline Morrell and made several new ones The most important of these was the composer Ethel Smyth over 70 explosively energetic and openly in love with Virginia who gradually replaced Vita as her most intimate friend Virginia's letters to Ethel in which she discussed frankly her madness sex her literary aspirations and even her thoughts of suicide are among the strongest and most personal she ever wrote Google Books

The Collected Letters of Katherine Mansfield: Volume IV: 1920-1921 Katherine Mansfield, 1996-03-28 The letters in this volume cover the eighteen months Katherine Mansfield spent in England France and Switzerland from May 1920 to the end of 1921 It is the period of her finest stories and when her life took its most decisive turn There is a subtle but unmistakable change in her expectations a new spiritual insistence that is both elusive and resolute From her Chekovian acceptance that they are cutting down the cherry trees she derives a tough existential directness the little boat enters the dark fearful gulf Nobody listens The shadowy figure rows on One ought to sit still and uncover one's eyes There is a determined push not always successful towards a necessary honesty as much as to artistic achievement while those qualities of her earlier correspondence remain undiminished the precision and directness the intelligence and wit the dark incisiveness as much as sheer fun Above all perhaps these letters comprise a record of very considerable courage against increasingly adverse odds as they approach the final years of her life

A Companion to British Literature, Volume 4 Robert DeMaria, Jr., Heesok Chang, Samantha Zacher, 2013-12-13 A Companion to British Literature Victorian and Twentieth Century Literature 1837-2000

The Edinburgh Edition of the Collected Letters of Katherine Mansfield: Letters to correspondents A-J Katherine Mansfield, 2020 Organized by recipient this innovative four volume edition allows the reader to explore and share Katherine Mansfield's individual relationships via her letters Well known Mansfield scholars Claire Davison and Gerri Kimber have returned to the author's original letters retranscribing and fully annotating them incorporating recently discovered biographical material as well as previously unpublished letters As the four volumes in the Collected Letters reveal letter writing was an essential part of Mansfield's literary production

The Destructive Element Lyndsey Stonebridge, 2018-10-24 Freud's account of the sublimated drives at work beneath the surfaces of advanced societies alongside the modernist fictions of Joyce Proust Kafka Woolf and others both reflected and inaugurated a strain of modernism preoccupied with the darkest elements of the human psyche In The Destructive Element Lyndsey Stonebridge examines the career and legacy of British psychoanalyst Melanie Klein as a lens through which to examine the 20th century's fascination with death drives the sublimation of civilization's discontents and the socialization of children fascinations that would surface throughout the cultural production of the West At once cultural history and psychoanalytic theory and a bold reformulation of the legacies of modernism The Destructive Element is an essential contribution to our understanding of the Western tradition The Bloomsbury Group and Modernity Dianne C. Betts, 2025-05-05 Historians have long noted the change in England's social and political life that occurred after the death of Queen Victoria in 1901. The Bloomsbury Group began to coalesce during the early years of Edwardian England, responding to the shifts that were occurring. Among these writers, artists, critics, political scientists, and economists, a shared sensibility and common ethos drove the group to scrutinize middle class values and authority and to champion the priorities of the individual in the face of a stifling socioeconomic system. This study examines the relationship between the Bloomsbury intellectuals and the moral compass of society. Their philosophy influenced English history as each member in their own way sought to realize the civilization of their dreams, constantly fluctuating between the illusion of their ideals and the disillusion of reality.

Proust's Cup of Tea Emily Eells, 2017-03-02 Proust's Cup of Tea analyzes Proust's reading of various Victorian authors and shows how they contributed to A la recherche du temps perdu. This book proves that British literature and art played a fundamental role in Proust's writing process by citing from the manuscript versions of his novel as well as from his correspondence, essays, and the lengthy critical apparatus accompanying his translations of Ruskin. Eells reflects here on why Proust was attracted to Victorian culture and how he incorporated it into his novel. The works of the British novelists he was most interested in, Thomas Hardy and George Eliot, address questions of gender which Proust develops in his own work. He builds Sodome et Gomorrhe I, the section of his novel focusing on homosexuality, on a series of explicit citations and guarded allusions to Shakespeare, Darwin, Walter Scott, Oscar Wilde, and Robert Louis Stevenson. Eells explores how Proust followed in the pioneering footsteps of those British writers who had ventured beyond the boundaries of conventional sexuality, though he took pains to erase their traces in the definitive version of his work. This study also highlights how Proust made his fictitious painter Elstir into a master of ambiguity by modeling his art on Turner, the Pre-Raphaelites, and Whistler. Eells shows that Proust drew on Victorian culture in his depiction of sexual ambiguity, arguing that he confounded eroticism and aestheticism in the way he inextricably linked the man-woman figure with British art and literature. As Proust aestheticized male and female homosexuality using references to British art and letters, Eells coins the term Anglosexuality to refer to his characters of the third sex. She defines Anglosexuality as an intersexuality represented through intertextuality as an artistic sensitivity, an aesthetic stance, and a new way of seeing. Proust's Cup of Tea thus demonstrates that Victorian culture and homoeroticism form one of the cornerstones of Proust's monumental work. Katherine Mansfield and Literary

Influence Sarah Ailwood, 2015-06-16 This book maps the ecologies of Mansfield's influences beyond her modernist and postcolonial contexts, observing that it roams wildly over six centuries across three continents and beyond cultural and linguistic boundaries. Self Impression Max Saunders, 2010-04-22 I am aware that once my pen intervenes I can make whatever I like out of what I was. Paul Valéry. Moi. Modernism is often characterized as a movement of impersonality, a rejection of auto biography But most of the major works of European modernism and postmodernism engage in very profound and central ways with questions about life writing Max Saunders explores the ways in which modern writers from the 1870s to the 1930s experimented with forms of life writing biography autobiography memoir diary journal increasingly for the purposes of fiction He identifies a wave of new hybrid forms from the late nineteenth century and uses the term autobiografiction discovered in a surprisingly early essay of 1906 to provide a fresh perspective on turn of the century literature and to propose a radically new literary history of Modernism Saunders offers a taxonomy of the extraordinary variety of experiments with life writing demonstrating how they arose in the nineteenth century as the pressures of secularization and psychological theory disturbed the categories of biography and autobiography in works by authors such as Pater Ruskin Proust Mark Rutherford George Gissing and A C Benson He goes on to look at writers experimenting further with autobiografiction as Impressionism turns into Modernism juxtaposing detailed and vivacious readings of key Modernist texts by Joyce Stein Pound and Woolf with explorations of the work of other authors including H G Wells Henry James Joseph Conrad Ford Madox Ford and Wyndham Lewis whose experiments with life writing forms are no less striking The book concludes with a consideration of the afterlife of these fascinating experiments in the postmodern literature of Nabokov Lessing and Byatt Self Impression sheds light on a number of significant but under theorized issues the meanings of autobiographical the generic implications of literary autobiography and the intriguing relation between autobiography and fiction in the period
