Claiming the City in South African Literature Meg Samuelson,2021-08-23 This book demonstrates the insights that literature brings to transdisciplinary urban studies and particularly to the study of cities of the South Starting from the claim staked by mining capital in the late nineteenth century and its production of extractive and segregated cities it surveys over a century of writing in search of counterclaims through which the literature reimagines the city as a place of assembly and attachment Focusing on how the South African city has been designed to funnel gold into the global economy and to service an enclaved minority the study looks to the literary city to advance a contrary emphasis on community conviviality and care An accessible and informative introduction to literature of the South African city at significant historical junctures this book will also be of great interest to scholars and students in urban studies and Global South studies Peripheral Centres, Central Peripheries Martina Ghosh-Schellhorn,Vera Alexander,2006 Prominent scholars in literary and cultural studies anthropology sociology linguistics media studies theatre production and translation challenge the centre periphery dichotomy used as a paradigm for relations between colonizers and their erstwhile subjects in this collection of critical interventions Focussing on India and its diaspora s in western industrialized nations and former British colonies this volume engages with topics of centrality and or peripherality particularly in the context of Anglophone Indian writing the Indian languages Indian film as art and popular culture cross cultural Shakespeare diasporic pedagogy and transcultural identity

Imagining the Edgy City Loren Kruger, 2013-10-30 All roads lead to Johannesburg remarks the narrator of Alan Paton's novel Cry The Beloved Country Taking this quote as her impetus Loren Kruger guides readers into the heart of South Africa's largest city Exploring a wide range of fiction film architecture performance and urban practices from trading to parades Imagining the Edgy City traverses Johannesburg's rich cultural terrain over the last century The edgy city in Kruger's exploration refers not only to persistent boundaries between the haves and have nots but also to the cosmopolitan diversity and innovation that has emerged from Johannesburg The book begins with the building boom performances and uneven but noteworthy inter racial exchange that marked the city's fiftieth anniversary celebration at the Empire Exhibition in 1936 This celebration rapidly gave way to the political repression and civil unrest that characterized South Africa from 1950 to 1990 Yet poetry drama fiction and photography continued to thrive bearing witness not only against apartheid but to alternatives beyond it In the late twentieth century the not quite post apartheid condition fired the artistic imaginations of film makers as well as novelists Urban neglect rising crime and the influx of migrants inspired noir cinema like Michael Hammon's Wheels and Deals and fiction about migration from Achmat Dangor to Phaswane Mpe and in the twenty first urban renewal has produced public art that incorporates the desire lines of newcomers as well as natives Alongside well known artists such as Nadine Gordimer William Kentridge and David Goldblatt the book introduces many artists architects writers and other chroniclers who have hitherto received little attention abroad Ultimately Johannesburg emerges as a city whose negotiation of the tensions between incivility and innovation invites comparisons with modern conurbations across the world not only African cities such as Dakar or other cities of the south such as Bogot but also with major metropolises in North America and Europe from Chicago to Paris A multi faceted work that speaks to scholars in urban studies literature and history Imagining the Edgy City is a rich example of interdisciplinary scholarship at its best

New Fiction in English from Africa: West, East, and South André Viola, Jacqueline Bardolph, Denise Coussey, 2022-05-20 The term recent or new covers novels and some short fiction published between 1980 and 1995 a period characterized by growing pessimism about the state of affairs in both East and West Africa The section on South Africa deals more narrowly with the 1985-95 watershed marking the end of official apartheid and the beginning of reconstruction The three sections aim at giving a coherent picture of the main directions in production highlighting three main centres of interest Nigeria Kenya and the Republic of South Africa although some novelists from neighbouring countries are also considered such as Kofi Awoonor from Ghana Nuruddin Farah from Somalia and M G Vassanji and Abdulrazak Gurnah from Tanzania The evaluations conducted in the three sections lead to the emergence of a number of common themes in particular the writers predilection for topicality the role of the past and the controversy over the idea of the nation Central themes also include the role of women in fending for themselves both in rural and in urban environments A further major theme is the role of the past the Nigerian civil war the Mau Mau period in Kenya the revisiting of slavery the refurbishing of myth the questioning of historical reconstructions The preoccupation of the West East and South African novel with the idea and ideal of the nation is explored particularly in the context of migrancy hybridity and transculturalism characterizing the anglophone diaspora The volume is aimed at literary scholars and students and more generally readers of fiction seeking an introduction to contemporary literary developments in various parts of sub Saharan anglophone Africa No categorical distinction is drawn between popular and high literature Though still selective and not intended as an exhaustive catalogue the present survey covers a large number of titles Rather than resorting to broad and ultimately somewhat abstract thematic categories the contributors endeavour to keep control over this mass of material by applying a micro thematic taxonomy This approach well tested in the tradition of literary studies within France groups works analytically and evaluatively in terms of such categories as actional motifs plot frames and sociologically relevant locations or topics thereby enabling a clearer focus on the dynamics of preoccupation and tendency that form networks of affinity across the fiction produced in the period surveyed
