The Feeling of Space Christopher Bardt,2024-12-31 A richly illustrated exploration of humanity s drive to shape life as a spatial project from Plato s time to the digital era Place is something real but space is generally conceived as abstract and immaterial In The Feeling of Space Christopher Bardt explores this damaging modern binary and traces the contradictory impulses that have dematerialized our sense of space through history fear and wonder a yearning for the infinite and intimate and the need for autonomy and belonging Using rich illustrations and examinations of art technology and philosophy Bardt argues that if we can get back to first feeling space then we can treat space as the substance that gives agency to our intersubjectivity the exchange of conscious and unconscious thoughts we have with others Expertly connecting ideas with clear examples from lived experiences Bardt s revolutionary framework will appeal to a broad readership particularly those who are interested in the theoretical and philosophical aspects of spaces In an age where digital media has dissolved instead of increased our sense of connection The Feeling of Space shows that when we learn to experience space as a medium as real as a place we not only see ourselves as inherently spatialized beings but we can also rebuild the bonds that tie us together

Islamic Philosophy

and Occidental Phenomenology on the Perennial Issue of Microcosm and Macrocosm Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2006-09-22

By proposing the Microcosm and Macrocosm analogy for dialogue between Islamic Philosophy and Occidental Phenomenology the authors of this volume are reviving the perennial positioning of the human condition in the play of forces within and without the human being This theme has run from Plato through the Middle Ages Renaissance and Modernity and has been ignored by contemporaries It now acquires a new pertinence and striking significance due to the scientific discoveries into the infinitely small in life on the one hand and the prodigious technological discoveries of the infinitely great on the other Both open up undreamt of prospects for the continuing conquest of cosmic forces The human person thrown into turmoil by the new approaches to life and needing to acquire new habits of mind having lost security of all beliefs desperately seeks a new clarification of the Human Condition within the unity of everything there is of cosmic forces and of his destiny The dialogue between Islamic Philosophy and phenomenology of life can show the way

The Thought at the Back of the Mind Annette Aronowicz, 2024-10-31 The Thought at the Back of the Mind is a plea for the centrality of the humanities as a vehicle of knowledge about ourselves and about the reality around us It illustrates the interpretative arts through Aronowicz's close reading of Charles Peguy Don DeLillo Bernard d Espagnat Wys awa Szymborska and Marilynne Robinson Each author exhibits a complex relationship to the narratives emanating from the sciences wonder terror appreciation resistance All in different ways point to a dimension of the human that cannot be captured through the scientific method For the most part they make their points not through abstract argument but through an exploration of daily life Each writer gives pride of place to metaphor humor and or intuition as indispensable conduits to the reality within and without us The Thought at the Back of the Mind explores the religious dimension embedded in the narratives emanating from the natural sciences as well as in the quest to formulate what eludes them These two contrary dimensions of our relation to the sciences in their various configurations reveal us to ourselves in our historical moment

Green Man, Earth Angel Tom Cheetham, 2012-02-01 Green Man Earth Angel explores the central role of imagination for understanding the place of humans in the cosmos Tom Cheetham suggests that lives can only be completely whole if human beings come to recognize that the human and natural worlds are part of a vast living network and that the material and spiritual worlds are deeply interconnected Central to this reimagining is an examination of the place of language in human life and art and in the worldview that the prophetic religions Judaism Christianity and Islam presuppose If human language is experienced only as a subset of a vastly more than human whole then it is not only humans who speak but also God and the world with all its creatures If humans internal poetry and creative imaginations are part of a greater conversation then language can have the vital power to transform the human soul and the
