Urban Poverty in the Wake of Environmental Disaster Maria Ela Atienza, Pauline Eadie, May Tan-Mullins, 2019-02-04 This book investigates the best strategies for poverty alleviation in post disaster urban environments and the conditions necessary for the success and scaling up of these strategies Using the case study of Typhoon Yolanda Haiyan in the Philippines the strongest typhoon ever to make landfall the book aims to draw out policy recommendations relevant for other middle and lower income countries facing similar urban environmental challenges Humans are increasingly living in densely populated and highly vulnerable areas often coastal This increased density of human settlements leads to increased material damage and high death tolls and this vulnerability is often exacerbated by climate change This book focuses on urban population risk vulnerability to disasters resilience to environmental shocks and adaptation in relation to paths in and out of poverty Using both qualitative and quantitative methods including primary survey data from victims and those charged with overseeing the relief effort in the Philippines Urban Poverty in the Wake of Environmental Disaster has significant implications for disaster risk reduction as it relates to the urban poor and is highly recommended for scholars and practitioners of development studies environment studies and disaster relief and risk reduction

Israeli Community Action Paula Kabalo, 2020-10-13 A fascinating history of how average citizens banded together to cope and rebuild in the wake of the 1948 War When the

1948 Israeli War of Independence broke out population centers were rocked by sniper fire bombings and roadside ambushes As the fighting moved out of the cities into desert areas private citizens and community organizations left behind organized to revitalize and restore life in their devastated communities In Israeli Community Action Paula Kabalo presents a vivid portrait of these civilians who strove to help each other cope with the realities of war Kabalo explores how civilian militias were recruited how neighborhoods were protected how older populations were enlisted into the war effort and how women were organized to provide medical aid or establish refugee centers She demonstrates that each phase of the war brought along new challenges to the population of the young state of Israel but she also illuminates how the engagement of Israelis in community efforts brought them together and shored them up to face the future in their new country Social Capital, Local Capacity Building, and Poverty Reduction Thomas F. Carroll,2001 Environment, Livelihoods, and Local Institutions Mairi Kristina Dupar,Nathan Badenoch,2002 An analysis of how decentralization reforms are changing local institutions for natural resource management in mainland Southeast Asia The focus is on mountainous areas where impoverished populations struggle to preserve meagre resources remaining biodiversity and food security Urban Livelihoods, Institutions and Inclusive Governance in Nairobi Bob Hendriks,2025-10-01 This study formulates conditions for sustainable impacts of inclusive and responsive governance through invited spaces offered by the government and claimed spaces created by the poor The study questions how increased contributions to poverty reduction and improvement of quality of life for Nairobi citizens can be realised in an equitable and responsible way while contributing to development of the city and country To adequately address this two sided objective of economic growth and poverty reduction in the contemporary context the study analyses both processes and impacts moreover it examines impacts in terms of quality of life as well as influence and political rights The study explores the individually claimed spaces of households in Nairobi s slums the collectively claimed spaces of hybrid mechanisms for access to peri urban land and tenure and the invited spaces of city wide governance networks Federal Register ,1999-05-13 Transitions Peter W Newton,2008-06-27 Formidable challenges confront Australia and its human settlements the mega metro regions major and provincial cities coastal rural and remote towns The key drivers of change and major urban vulnerabilities have been identified and principal among them are resource constraints such as oil water food skilled labour and materials and carbon constraints linked to climate change and a need to transition to renewable energy both of which will strongly shape urban development this century Transitions identifies 21st century challenges to the resilience of Australia s cities and regions that flow from a range of global and local influences and offers a portfolio of solutions to these critical problems and vulnerabilities The solutions will require fundamental transitions in many instances to our urban infrastructures to our institutions and how they plan for the future and perhaps most of all to ourselves in terms of our lifestyles and consumption patterns With contributions from 92 researchers all leaders in their respective fields this book offers the expertise to chart pathways for a sustainability transition
