Social Change In Southeast Asia New Perspectives:

Social Change in South East Asia Jacques Hersh, Johannes Dragsbaek Schmidt, Niels Fold, 2018-10-08 Provides a comprehensive and in depth examination of the ongoing process of development and societal transformation in a dynamic region of the Third World Written by a team of specialists from the fields of development studies sociology and political economy the book looks at some of the fundamental problems facing South East Asia by addressing the following issues the social constellations class culture and political legitimization and industrialisation and labour regulation New Perspectives in Southeast Asian and Pacific Prehistory Philip J. Piper, Hirofumi Matsumura, David Bulbeck, 2017-03-24 This volume brings together a diversity of international scholars unified in the theme of expanding scientific knowledge about humanity's past in the Asia Pacific region The contents in total encompass a deep time range concerning the origins and dispersals of anatomically modern humans the lifestyles of Pleistocene and early Holocene Palaeolithic hunter gatherers the emergence of Neolithic farming communities and the development of Iron Age societies These core enduring issues continue to be explored throughout the vast region covered here accordingly with a richness of results as shown by the authors Befitting of the grand scope of this volume the individual contributions articulate perspectives from multiple study areas and lines of evidence Many of the chapters showcase new primary field data from archaeological sites in Southeast Asia Equally important other chapters provide updated regional summaries of research in archaeology linguistics and human biology from East Asia through to the Western Pacific Mike T Carson Associate Professor of Archaeology Micronesian Area Research Center University of Guam New Perspectives on Pakistan's Political Economy Matthew McCartney, S. Akbar Zaidi, 2019-09-19 This volume makes a major intervention in the debates around the nature of the political economy of Pakistan focusing on its contemporary social dynamics This is the first comprehensive academic analysis of Pakistan's political economy after thirty five years and addresses issues of state class and society examining gender the middle classes the media the bazaar economy urban spaces and the new elite The book goes beyond the contemporary obsession with terrorism and extremism political Islam and simple civilian military relations and looks at modern day Pakistan through the lens of varied academic disciplines It not only brings together new work by some emerging scholars but also formulates a new political economy for the country reflecting the contemporary reality and diversification in the social sciences in Pakistan The chapters dynamically and dialectically capture emergent processes and trends in framing Pakistan's political economy and invite scholars to engage with and move beyond these concerns and issues A New Perspective on Human Mobility in the South Rudolf Anich, Jonathan Crush, Susanne Melde, John O. Oucho, 2014-07-22 This book offers innovative insights on South South human mobility It features a collection of papers that highlight often overlooked mobility patterns among and within regions in the global South as well as address critical realities faced by South South migrants This publication thoroughly investigates key issues of the migration debate spanning from the terminological and contextual meaning of migration and development It also critically examines some of the key features that human mobility in the global South is characterized by including the prevalence of intra regional and labor mobility the role of diasporas communities in developing countries South South remittances patterns the influence of environmental factors on the decision to migrate and the rising number of child migrants By carefully moving the lens from the frequently examined South North and North North movements to human mobility within the Southern regions of the world this book questions the traditional conception of the migration paradigm It offers knowledge and insights that will help to expand the debate as well as stimulate further research on this important topic and hopefully promote future activities aimed at the protection of migrants and their families living in the South As a result it is an ideal resource for migration scholars policy makers and development practitioners New Perspectives on the History and Historiography of Southeast Asia Michael Arthur Aung-Thwin, Kenneth Hall, 2011-05-13 Using a unique old new treatment this book presents new perspectives on several important topics in Southeast Asian history and historiography Based on original primary research it reinterprets and revises several long held conventional views in the field covering the period from the classical age to the twentieth century Chapters share the approach to Southeast Asian history and historiography namely giving agency to Southeast Asia in all research analysis writing and interpretation The book honours John K Whitmore a senior historian in the field of Southeast Asian history today by demonstrating the scope and breadth of the scholar s influence on two generations of historians trained in the West In addition to providing new information and insights on the field of Southeast Asia this book stimulates new debate on conventional ideas evidence and approaches to its teaching research and understanding It addresses and in many cases revises specific critically important topics in Southeast Asian history on which much conventional knowledge of Southeast Asia has long been based It is of interest to scholars of Southeast Asian Studies as well as Asian History The Geography of Southeast Asia Thomas A. Rumney, 2010-04-07 In The Geography of Southeast Asia Rumney discusses an area that has long been of interest to geographers and other academics As interest in Southeast Asia has grown particularly over the past forty years the volume and variety of scholarly publications on the varied geographical aspects of the region have also increased This collection is an attempt to identify organize and present as many of these works as possible The region as a whole and each individual country of the area are covered in individual chapters Each chapter is further systematically organized by topic including general works cultural social geography economic geography historical geography physical geography political geography and urban geography This book presents a myriad of sources such as atlases books chapters articles dissertations and theses are included as well as works written in English French German and other languages providing the reader with a thorough view of Southeast Asian geography New Perspectives on Structural Change Ludovico Alcorta, Neil Foster-McGregor, Bart Verspagen, Adam Szirmai, 2021-03-23 New Perspectives on Structural Change is a comprehensive edited volume that outlines both the historical roots and state of the art debates on the role of structural change in the process of economic development including both orthodox and heterodox perspectives and contributions from prominent scholars in this field The volume consists of four main sections The first section covers the theoretical foundations of the structural change literature The second section presents an empirical overview of the major trends of structural change using up to date data sources and methods The third section presents a broad ranging empirical analysis of the drivers of structural change The fourth section examines how processes such as inclusive growth poverty reduction productive employment the global income distribution and environmental sustainability are affected by structural change and how they can be influenced by policy

One Belt One Road Eyck Freymann, 2022-03-07 In 2013 Chinese leader Xi Jinping announced a campaign for national rejuvenation The One Belt One Road initiative or OBOR has become the largest infrastructure program in history Nearly every Chinese province city major business bank and university have been mobilized to serve it spending hundreds of billions of dollars overseas building ports and railroads laying fiber cables and launching satellites Using a trove of Chinese sources author Eyck Freymann argues these infrastructure projects are a sideshow OBOR is primarily a campaign to restore an ancient model in which foreign emissaries paid tribute to the Chinese emperor offering gifts in exchange for political patronage Xi sees himself as a sort of modern day emperor determined to restore China's past greatness Many experts assume that Xi's nakedly neo imperial scheme couldn't possibly work Freymann shows how wrong they are China isn't preying on victims Freymann argues It's attracting willing partners including Western allies from Latin America to Southeast Asia to the Persian Gulf Even in countries where OBOR megaprojects fail Freymann finds that political leaders still want closer ties with China Freymann tells the monumental story of Xi's project on the global stage Drawing on primary documents in five languages interviews with senior officials and on the ground case studies from Malaysia to Greece Russia to Iran Freymann pulls back the veil of propaganda about OBOR giving readers a page turning world tour of the burgeoning Chinese empire a guide for understanding China's motives and tactics and clear recommendations for how the West can compete

Tribal Communities in the Malay World Geoffrey Benjamin, 2003-08-01 The Malay World Alam Melayu spanning the Malay Peninsula much of Sumatra and parts of Borneo has long contained within it a variety of populations Most of the Malays have been organized into the different kingdoms kerajaan Melayu from which they have derived their identity But the territories of those kingdoms have also included tribal peoples both Malay and non Malay who have held themselves apart from those kingdoms in varying degrees In the last three decades research on these tribal societies has aroused increasing interest This book explores the ways in which the character of these societies relates to the Malay kingdoms that have held power in the region for many centuries past as well as to the modern nation states of the region It brings together researchers committed to comparative analysis of the tribal groups living on either side of the Malacca Straits in Indonesia Malaysia Thailand and Singapore New theoretical and descriptive approaches are presented for the study of the social and cultural continuities and discontinuities manifested by tribal life in the region

Rethinking

Chinese Transnational Enterprises Leo Douw, Cen Huang, David Ip, 2013-10-11 Affinity to the Chinese culture personalized social networks and a firm control of ownership and management have often been considered the key ingredients for the success of many diaspora Chinese transnational enterprises in South China and Southeast Asia In view of the recent Asian crisis and the rapid changes imposed by globalization scholars are increasingly concerned whether these family owned Chinese transnational enterprises would survive the challenges in the new millennium Intercultural Communication.

Singapore River Stephen Dobbs, 2013-11-11 For most of its modern history to speak of Singapore was to speak of the Singapore River physical centre of the city and site of the greater part of the colony's entrepot trade The river has been transformed over the last 25 years from a polluted industrial sewer choked with traffic to a clean placid waterway that forms the centrepiece of Singapore's financial civic and entertainment districts This transformation symbolizes the city state's efforts to remake itself for the 21st century Stephen Dobbs sets out the history of this waterway and of the people who made it their home and workplace He describes the tidal swamp in the early days of the British settlement where merchants ignored Raffles much vaunted city plan and built their businesses on the limited high ground along the marshy riverbanks Later even as the long distance shipping moved to new port facilities elsewhere on the island the river remained the base for a large regional trade and boatmen and businessmen struggled to cope with silting over crowding and bridges that were too low to be passed at high tide Looking at the post war years Dobbs zeros in on the boatmen who carried goods between the godownse or warehouses along the river and the freighters lying at anchor in the roads Despite its pollution the river remained home to a vital community of coolies and tally clerks and the tumultuous urban life that swirled around them Today the waterfront community has been relocated The shophouses and warehouses along the river are now chic cafes and upmarket restaurants fish have returned to the Singapore River and urban dwellers stroll on walks along the river's edge Blending social history geography economic history and urban studies this book will be of interest to anyone wishing to understand Singapore's many transformations during the past two centuries The Changing Japanese Family Marcus Rebick, Ayumi Takenaka, 2006-04-18 The Japanese family is shifting in fundamental ways specifically in terms of attitudes towards family and societal relationships and also the role of the family in society Changing Japanese Family explores these significant changes which include an ageing population delayed marriages a fallen birth rate which has fallen below the level needed for replacement and a decline in three generational households and family businesses The authors investigate these changes and the effects of them on Japanese society whilst also setting the study in the context of wider economic and social changes in Japan They offer interesting comparisons with international societies especially with Southern Europe where similar changes to the family and its role are occurring This fascinating text is essential reading for those with an enthusiasm in Japanese studies but will also engage those with a concern in Japanese culture and society as well as appealing to a readership with a wider interest in the sociology of the family Screening China's Soft Power Paola Voci, Luo Hui, 2017-10-02 Promoting China's cultural soft power by disseminating modern Chinese values is one of the policies of President Xi Jinping Although it is usually understood as a top down initiative implemented willingly or unwillingly by writers filmmakers artists and so on and often manifesting itself in clumsy and awkward ways for example the concept of the Chinese dream intended to rival and perhaps appeal more strongly than the American dream modern Chinese values are in fact put forward in many ways by many different cultural actors Through analyses of film festivals CCTV Confucius Institutes auteurs blockbusters reality TV and online digital cultures this book exposes the limitations of China's officially promoted soft power in both conception and practice and proposes a pluralistic approach to understanding Chinese soft power in local regional and transnational contexts As such the book demonstrates the limitations of existing theories of soft power and argues that the US derived concept of soft power can benefit from being examined from a China perspective Matriliny and Modernity Maila Stivens, 2023-09-15 Matriliny and Modernity 1996 explores the situation both past and present of women living in the matrilineal society of Negeri Sembilan in a rapidly modernising Malaysia Written from a feminist anthropological viewpoint it considers how far both the colonial and post colonial remakings of matrilineal cultural practices within modernity have left women with what many western feminists would call a degree of social agency if not autonomy Maila Stivens looks critically at the appropriateness of such judgements at the same time reflecting on the ways that western knowledge production and the continuing importance of images of exotic matriarchies in the western imagination have shaped debates about such societies As well as appealing to those with an interest in issues of gender and development Asian Studies and women's situation in modernising societies the book's explanation of the past and present of relatively more egalitarian gender arrangements also contributes to wider debates about causes of sexual inequality and the possibilities for gender equality Southeast Asia-North Korea Relations Chiew-Ping Hoo, Shine Choi, Brian Bridges, 2024-09-18

Southeast Asia North Korea Relations reveals the genesis and evolution of Southeast Asian countries diplomatic relations with the Democratic People's Republic of Korea DPRK North Korea by unpacking the underlying political economic and security connections In this book chapters analyse in detail the individual bilateral linkages of the ten states of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN with the DPRK that vary in intensity and visibility Bringing together an international group of experts including uniquely authors representing every individual ASEAN state this edited volume dissects the parameters of the bilateral relationships as well as the multi faceted regional level interactions and the roles of certain key external actors especially South Korea and China This book is a path breaking addition to the study and analysis of regional inter linkages in Asia and will be of interest to students and scholars working on North Korean studies Southeast Asia including ASEAN and also on Korean Peninsula topics as well as international relations and security studies especially considering the role of small states Explorations in Economic Anthropology Deema Kaneff, Kirsten W. Endres, 2021-07-16 At a time of rising global economic precarity and social inequality the field of economic anthropology offers solutions through the study of local and contextualized economic practices This book is made up of an exciting collection of succinct essays authored by leading scholars primarily from the field of economic anthropology but also featuring contributions from sociology and history The chapters engage with debates at the cutting edge of research on the topics of Eurasia the anthropology of postsocialism and the embeddedness of economic practices Gender and Ageing Theresa W Devasahayam, 2014-11-07 This book examines common themes related to gender and ageing in countries in Southeast Asia Derived from quantitative or qualitative methods of data collection and analysis the chapters reveal how ageing has become tempered by globalization cultural values family structures women's emancipation and empowerment social networks government policies and religion The chapters are concerned primarily with the following questions related to gender and ageing a how do women and men experience old age b do women and men have different means of coping financially and socially in their old age c does having engaged in wage work for longer periods of time serve as an advantage to older men in contrast to older women d does a woman's primary role as caregiver serve to disadvantage her in old age e what kinds of identities have older women and men constructed for themselves f do women and men prepare for ageing differently and has this preparation been mediated by educational levels g does having a higher level of education make a difference to how one experiences ageing h how does class shape the way women and men cope in old age and i what does it mean to be a single older person who has either lost a spouse through death or has never been married Because the book employs a cross country analysis readers gain an understanding of contemporary emergent trends not only in each of the countries but also in Southeast Asia as a whole Wherever relevant some chapters have also identified similarities in trends on gender and ageing between countries in the Western hemisphere and those in Southeast Asia to highlight broader patterns across the world The Making of Singapore Sociology Tong Chee-Kiong, Lian Kwen-Fee, 2021-11-08 This book presents a collection of essays of how the city state of Singapore's societal dynamics have evolved from the time of its birth as a nation in 1965 to the present. Key areas of Singapore society are explored contributing to the understanding of the social organisation of the city. This study reveals a shift from the modernisation studies in the 1970s to a more political economic turn as a consequence of the influence of dependency and world systems theories. Topics covered include urban studies, family, education, medical care, class and social stratification, work, language, ethnic groups, religion, and crime and deviance.
