The Child And Death:

The Child and Death John E. Schowalter, 1983 After the Death of a Child Ann K. Finkbeiner, 2012-12-11 For a parent losing a child is the most devastating event that can occur Most books on the subject focus on grieving and recovery but as most parents agree there is no recovery from such a loss This book examines the continued love parents feel for their child and the many poignant and ingenious ways they devise to preserve the bond Through detailed profiles of parents Ann Finkbeiner shows how new activities and changed relationships with their spouse friends and other children can all help parents preserve a bond with the lost child Based on extensive interviews and grief research Finkbeiner explains how parents have changed five to twenty five years after the deaths of their children The first half of the book discusses the short and long term effects of the child's death on the parent's relationships with the outside world that is with their spouses other children friends and relatives The second half of the book details the effect on the parents internal world their continuing sense of guilt their need to place the death in some larger context and their inability sometimes to consistently do so their new set of priorities the nature of their bond with the lost child and the subtle and creative ways they have of continuing that bond Finkbeiner's central point is not so much how parents grieve for their children but how they love them Refusing to fall back on pop jargon about recovery or to offer easy solutions or standardized timelines Finkbeiner's is a genuine and moving search to come to terms with loss Her complex profiles of parents resonate with the honesty and authenticity of uncomfortable emotions expressed and most importantly shared with others experiencing a similar loss Finally each profile exemplifies the many heroic ways parents learn to live with their pain and by so doing honor the lives their children should have lived Explaining Death to Children Earl A. Grollman, 1998-07 Rabbi Earl A Grollman's best selling book on how we speak of the mystery of death to our children is now issued in a smaller format Also helpful for adults contemplating their own theology of death The Child's Discovery of Death Sylvia Anthony, 2013-07-04 Routledge is now re issuing this prestigious series of 204 volumes originally published between 1910 and 1965 The titles include works by key figures such as C G Jung Sigmund Freud Jean Piaget Otto Rank James Hillman Erich Fromm Karen Horney and Susan Isaacs Each volume is available on its own as part of a themed mini set or as part of a specially priced 204 volume set After the Death of a Child Ann K. Finkbeiner, 1998 Telling a Child about Death Edgar Newman Jackson, 1965 Help Your Marriage Survive the Death of a Child Paul C. Rosenblatt, 2000 Care of the Child Facing Death Lindy Burton, 2022-05-24 Originally published in 1974 and written by paediatricians social workers nurses and a parent who cared for her dying child this book is concerned with pinpointing the problems which exist for parents and those involved in the care of sick children both in terms of accepting the facts of a child's illness and in loving supporting and giving them maximum enjoyment within the limits of their condition The fears and anxieties of such children are examined separation from parents fear of pain an increasing sense of difference and in some cases a very real appreciation of their situation All these limit the child's happiness and ways of counteracting them are suggested Similarly the distress of parents and of medical advisers is discussed A Child Dies
