Guess,2005 In 2000 Governor George Ryan of Illinois a Republican and a supporter of the death penalty declared a moratorium on executions in his state In 2003 he commuted the death sentences of all Illinois prisoners on death row Ryan contended that the application of the death penalty in Illinois had been arbitrary and unfair and he ignited a new round of debate over the appropriateness of execution Nationwide surveys indicate that the number of Americans who favor the death penalty is declining As the struggle over capital punishment rages on twelve states and the District of Columbia have taken bold measures to eliminate the practice This landmark study is the first to examine the history and motivations of those jurisdictions that abolished capital punishment and have resisted the move to reinstate death penalty statutes

Maine's Place in the Environmental Imagination Michael D. Burke,2020-12-15 The essays in Maine s Place in the Environmental Imagination address from a variety of perspectives how Maine s unique identity among the states of the United States has been formed and what that identity is A place that is still imagined by others primarily through its environmental associations its nature and landscape rather than through its social arrangements and human history The collection attempts a foundational study not of a regional literature but of a state literature In doing so it makes the case that Maine was constructed imaginatively and environmentally through its literature and that this image is the one that endures even now The essays suggest how this identity was formed by discussing writings ranging from the recently recovered work of Joseph Nicolar a member of the Penobscot Nation in the late 19th century to the contemporary Maine author Carolyn Chute from Thoreau s canonical essay Ktaadn to the modernist E B White whose works have an under appreciated environmental project Contributors include scholars Nathaniel Lewis Annette Kolodny Linda Kornasky Daniel Malachuk Kent Ryden and Lynn Wake American Naval History in 50 Ships James M. Caiella,2025-08-01 The course of American naval history has not been set only by the relatively few famous ships whose stories have been told and retold This volume spotlights 50 less recognized vessels each significant in its own way from the Continental Navy to the first supercarriers while touching on many others with which their stories are interwoven Attention is given not only to the design and conceptual changes the vessels embodied but also the crews whose toil and heroism gave them life and sometimes notoriety One captain tried to sell his warship in the midst of the Civil War Each ship is detailed chronologically in chapters that often dispel timeworn misconceptions Some were trailblazers others were misdirected in their inspiration design or execution indeed two could not float and one was dampened only by rain Yet each helped shape America s seafaring history

CARE principles of conservation planning Comprehensiveness Adequacy Representativeness and Efficiency Hundreds of papers have been written on this theme and several different kinds of software program have been developed and used around the world making conservation planning based on these principles global in its reach and influence Does this mean that all the science of conservation planning is over that the discovery phase has been replaced by an engineering phase as we move from defining the rules to implementing them in the landscape This book and the continuing growth in the literature suggest that the answer to this question is most definitely no All of applied conservation can be wrapped up into a single
