Ecocriticism, Ecology, and the Cultures of Antiquity Christopher Schliephake, 2016-12-07 Although current environmental debates lay the focus on the Industrial Revolution as a sociopolitical development that has led to the current environmental crisis many ecocritical projects have avoided historicizing their concepts or have been characterized by approaches that were either pre historic or post historic while the environmental movement has harbored the dream of restoring nature to a state untouched by human hands there is also the pessimistic vision of a post apocalyptic world exhausted by humanity s consumption of natural resources Against this background the decline of nature has become a narrative template quite common among the public environmental discourse and environmental scientists alike The volume revisits Antiquity as an epoch which witnessed similar environmental problems and came up with its own interpretations and solutions in dealing with them This decidedly historical perspective is not only supposed to fill in a blank in ecocritical discourse but also to question problematize and inform our contemporary debates with a completely different take on nature and humanity s place in the world Thereby a productive dialogue between contemporary ecocritical theories and the classical tradition is established that highlights similarities as well as differences This volume is the first book to bring ecocriticism and the classical tradition into a comprehensive dialogue It assembles recognized experts in the field and advanced scholars as well as young and aspiring ecocritics In order to ensure a dialogic exchange between the contributions the volume includes four response essays by established ecocritics which embed the sections within a larger theoretical and practical ecocritical framework and discuss the potential of including the pre modern world into our environmental debates

Empire's Nature Amy R. W. Meyers,Margaret Beck Pritchard,2012-12-01 Completed in 1747 Mark Catesby s Natural History of Carolina Florida and the Bahama Islands was the first major illustrated publication on the flora and fauna of Britain s American colonies Together with his Hortus Britanno Americanus 1763 which detailed plant species that might be transplanted successfully to British soil Catesby s Natural History exerted an important though often overlooked influence on the development of art natural history and scientific observation in the eighteenth century Inspired by a major traveling exhibition of Catesby s watercolor drawings from the Royal Library Windsor Castle this collection of interdisciplinary essays considers Catesby's endeavors as a naturalist artist scientific explorer experimental horticulturist ornamental gardener and early environmental thinker in terms of the interests held by the various overlapping communities in which he functioned particularly as those interests related to the British colonial enterprise The contributors are David R Brigham Joyce E Chaplin Mark Laird Amy R W Meyers Therese O Malley and Margaret Beck Pritchard

Design at Home Grace Lees Maffei, 2013-12-17 Domestic advice literature is rich in information about design ideals of domesticity consumption and issues of identity yet this literature remains a relatively neglected resource in comparison with magazines and film Design at Home brings together etiquette homemaking and home decoration advice as sources in the first systematic demonstration of the historical value of domestic advice literature as a genre of word and image and a discourse of dominance This book traces a transatlantic domestic dialogue between the UK and the US as the chapters explore issues of design domesticity consumption social interaction and identity markers including class gender and age Areas covered include the use of domestic advice by historians relationships between advice housing and the middle class links between advice and gender advice and the teenage consumer Design at Home is essential reading for students and scholars of cultural and social history design history and cultural studies

Luxury in the Low Countries Rengenier C. Rittersma, 2010 Painting a panoramic view of conspicuous consumption in the Netherlands and Flanders from 1500 to the present this collection of essays explores the economic forces that produce a boom in luxury goods Working from disciplines such as archaeology art history historical ethnology linguistics and media studies these scholarly contributors explore both the wealth and the social display that fuels the search for rare commodities

Nuclear Reactions James W. Feldman, 2016-11-01 Nuclear Reactions explores the nuclear consensus that emerged in post World War II America characterized by widespread support for a diplomatic and military strategy based on nuclear weapons and a vision of economic growth that welcomed nuclear energy both for the generation of electricity and for other peaceful and industrial uses Unease about the environmental consequences of nuclear energy and weapons development became apparent by the early 1960s and led to the first challenges to that consensus The documents in this collection address issues such as the arms race mutually assured destruction the emergence of ecosystems ecology and the environmental movement nuclear protests and climate change They raise questions about how nuclear energy shaped and continues to shape the contours of postwar American life These questions provide a useful lens through which to understand the social economic and environmental tradeoffs embedded within American choices about the use and management of nuclear energy

Struggle for Freedom Basilius J. Groen, 2024-12-15 The study presents ways of structuring civil codes on the basis of selected codifications from Central and Eastern Europe since the end of 18th century until the modern times In five chapters the author depicts the arrangement of an possible general part of the law of obligations of ius in re of family law and the law of persons as well as of inheritance law The focus of the study is searching the most common systematic patterns and the main differences between the socialist and bourgeois codifications Meals Matter Michael Symons, 2020-06-02 Until the early nineteenth century political philosophy and economics were dining companions Both took up fundamental questions of how we should feed one another But with the rise of corporate capitalism modern economics lost sight of its primary task and turned away from the complexities of real people's sustenance in favor of the single minded pursuit of money In Meals Matter Michael Symons returns economics to its roots in the distribution of food and the labor required Setting the table with vivid descriptions of conviviality he offers a gastronomic rebuttal to the narrow worldview of mainstream economics Engaging with a wide variety of thinkers including Epicurus Enlightenment philosophers such as Thomas Hobbes and John Locke the gastronome Jean Anthelme Brillat Savarin and economic theorists from François Quesnay and Adam Smith through the neoliberals Symons traces how we went astray and how we can find our way back to a more caring sustainable way of life He finds hope for shared table pleasure in institutions like community gardens street markets and banquets and in eating fresh local and slow food An innovative historically based argument at the intersection of food history and social thought Meals Matter challenges us to reject the economics of greed in favor of a community based economics of sharing and gastronomic enjoyment

Unhomely Cinema Dwayne Avery, 2014-10-15 Representations of troubled and inhospitable domestic places are a common feature of many cinematic narratives Unhomely Cinema explores how the unhomely nature of contemporary film narrative provides an insight into what it means to dwell in today's global societies Providing analyses of a variety of film genres from Michel Gondry's comedy Be Kind Rewind to Laurent Cantet's eerie suspense thriller Time Out Unhomely Cinema presents an engaging discussion of some of the most pertinent social and cultural issues involved in the question of making home in contemporary societies
