Geoff Hamilton, Brian Jones

The First 20 Million Is Always The Hardest:

America the Philosophical Carlin Romano, 2013-04-23 This bold insightful book argues that America today towers as the most philosophical culture in the history of the world an unprecedented marketplace for truth and debate With verve and keen intelligence Carlin Romano Pulitzer Prize finalist award winning book critic and professor of philosophy takes on the widely held belief that the United States is an anti intellectual country Instead he provides a richly reported overview of American thought arguing that ordinary Americans see through phony philosophical justifications faster than anyone else and that the best of our thinkers ditch artificial academic debates for fresh intellectual enterprises Along the way Romano seeks to topple philosophy's most fiercely admired hero Socrates asserting that it is Isocrates the nearly forgotten Greek philosopher who rejected certainty whom Americans should honor as their intellectual ancestor America the Philosophical is a rebellious tour de force that both celebrates our country's unparalleled intellectual energy and promises to bury some of our most hidebound cultural clichés

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of the Contemporary World Paul Graves-Brown, Rodney Harrison, Angela Piccini, 2013-10-17 It has been clear for many years that the ways in which archaeology is practised have been a direct product of a particular set of social cultural and historical circumstances archaeology is always carried out in the present More recently however many have begun to consider how archaeological techniques might be used to reflect more directly on the contemporary world itself how we might undertake archaeologies of as well as in the present This Handbook is the first comprehensive survey of an exciting and rapidly expanding sub field and provides an authoritative overview of the newly emerging focus on the archaeology of the present and recent past In addition to detailed archaeological case studies it includes essays by scholars working on the relationships of different disciplines to the archaeology of the contemporary world including anthropology psychology philosophy historical geography science and technology studies communications and media ethnoarchaeology forensic archaeology sociology film performance and contemporary art This volume seeks to explore the boundaries of an emerging sub discipline to develop a tool kit of concepts and methods which are applicable to this new field and to suggest important future trajectories for research It makes a significant intervention by drawing together scholars working on a broad range of themes approaches methods and case studies from diverse contexts in different parts of the world which have not previously been considered collectively
