Longo,Rebecca Clausen,Brett Clark,2015-06-25 Winner of the 2017 Paul Sweezy Marxist Sociology Book Award from the American Sociological Association Although humans have long depended on oceans and aquatic ecosystems for sustenance and trade only recently has human influence on these resources dramatically increased transforming and undermining oceanic environments throughout the world Marine ecosystems are in a crisis that is global in scope rapid in pace and colossal in scale In The Tragedy of the Commodity sociologists Stefano B Longo Rebecca Clausen and Brett Clark explore the role human influence plays in this crisis highlighting the social and economic forces that are at the heart of this looming ecological problem In a critique of the classic theory the tragedy of the commons by ecologist Garrett Hardin the authors move beyond simplistic explanations such as unrestrained self interest or population growth to argue that it is the commodification of aquatic resources that leads to the depletion of fisheries and the development of environmentally suspect means of aquaculture To illustrate this argument the book features two fascinating case studies the thousand year history of the bluefin tuna fishery in the Mediterranean and the massive Pacific salmon fishery Longo Clausen and Clark describe how new fishing technologies transformations in ships and storage capacities and the expansion of seafood markets combined to alter radically and permanently these crucial ecosystems In doing so the authors underscore how the particular organization of social production contributes to ecological degradation and an increase in the pressures placed upon the ocean The authors highlight the historical political economic and cultural forces that shape how we interact with the larger biophysical world A path breaking analysis of overfishing The Tragedy of the Commodity yields insight into issues such as deforestation biodiversity loss pollution and climate change The Fisherman's Tomb John O'Neill, 2018-02-27 A Texas oilman A brilliant female archaeologist An unknown world underneath the Vatican In 1939 a team of workers beneath the Vatican unearthed an early Christian grave This surprising discovery launched a secret quest that would last decades a quest to discover the long lost burial place of the Apostle Peter From earliest times Christian tradition held that Peter a lowly fisherman from Galilee whom Christ made leader of his Church was executed in Rome by Emperor Nero and buried on Vatican Hill But his tomb had been lost to history Now funded anonymously by a wealthy American a small army of workers embarked on the dig of a lifetime The incredible sometimes shocking story of the 75 year search and its key players has never been fully told until now The quest would pit one of the 20th century's most talented archaeologists a woman against top Vatican insiders The Fisherman's Tomb is a story of the triumph of faith and genius against all odds ABOUT THE AUTHOR John O'Neill is a lawyer and 1 New York Times bestselling author He has spent much of his life visiting and researching early Christian sites He is a 1967 graduate of the Naval Academy a former law clerk to Supreme Court Chief Justice William Rehnquist and senior partner at a large international law firm The Fisherman's Net Michael Collins, 2005 Examines how the papacy over its two thousand years history has influenced billions of people especially in the areas of religion politics history and the arts *Part 2.
