Serial Murder and Media Circuses Dirk C. Gibson,2006-07-30 The Axman of New Orleans specialized in killing grocers of Italian descent in the 1910s apparently to promote jazz music Dorothea Puente was a little old landlady who murdered her tenants but kept cashing their government checks The Manson Family terrorized California in the 1960s as did the Hillside Stranglers a decade later Twelve serial murder cases occurring in eight decades between the 1890s and 1990s had one thing in common significant presence of the mass media This book examines these specific cases of serial murder and the way the media became involved in the investigations and trials of each Gibson argues that the American media plays a multidimensional and integral role in serial killings and their investigation and that this role is not generally a positive one Serial murder cases motivate the media in unfortunate ways and the result is that even typically respectable media organizations can be involved in such things as document theft or in interfering with the capture of serial murderers on the run This link between multiple murderers and mass communication is not accidental or coincidental rather the relationship between the press and serial killers is one of extraordinary importance to both parties Gibson examines the role of the media in serial murder cases the body of knowledge on serial murder as seen through the lens of mass communication the effectiveness of law enforcement responses to serial murderers and how they might be improved if the mass communication influence was better understood the magnitude of the serial murder problem and the interaction between the media the killers and serial murder investigations Specific examples and numerous quotes are provided throughout to illustrate this strange and detrimental relationship between media and serial murderers

Serial Killers and Sadistic Murderers Jack Levin,2009-09-18 After twenty five years of investigating analyzing and interviewing serial killers their family members neighbors and even surviving victims Jack Levin has become one of the world s most respected experts on the motivations and modus operandi of dangerous criminals In this gripping book he taps his wealth of experience with the criminal mind to offer lessons for law enforcement and the general public about how serial killers think as well as the conditions under which hideous murders typically occur These lessons he hopes will lead to more effective ways to thwart such crimes in the future Levin s face to face meetings and correspondence with such notorious murderers as the Hillside strangler Kenneth Bianchi and Orville Lynn Majors the male nurse who was convicted of killing numerous patients in his charge reveal that these types of killers are not motivated by money revenge or rage In fact the only motivation seems to be a sadistic craving for power and a need to feel in control Levin also for the first time lets down his guard and reveals what it feels like to be seated so close to such cold blooded killers Many killers as Levin points out are meticulous planners Levin has found that even in situations that appear spontaneous for instance a workplace shooting by a disgruntled employee the deed is carefully thought out and prepared for in advance Another factor that consistently emerges in conversations with killers who have committed the most heinous of acts is the total absence of remorse or any notion of moral responsibility Murder appears to be easy for these criminals and they kill with a feeling of complete impunity Levin also notes the skillfully deceptive facades that such murderers are able to affect They are extremely adept liars he admits to having been fooled who enjoy playing mind games even though outwardly they seem above suspicion This is one reason they are so dangerous and difficult for investigators to track down and prosecute This chilling glimpse into the minds of some of the worst criminals makes a valuable contribution to criminology and is a must read for both true crime buffs and law enforcement professionals
