Woolf, Andrew Feldherr, Grant Hardy, Ian Hesketh, 2011 A chronological scholarly survey of the history of historical writing in five volumes

Each volume covers a particular period of time from the beginning of writing to the present day and from all over the world

Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate Additionally the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality In addition to the Western tradition it includes substantial assessments of African Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies

The Oxford History of Historical Writing Stuart Macintyre, Juan Miguashca, Attila Pók, 2011-10-27 Volume 4 of The Oxford History of Historical Writing offers essays by leading scholars on the writing of history globally from 1800 to 1945 Divided into four parts it first covers the rise consolidation and crisis of European historical thought and the professionalization and institutionalization of history The chapters in Part II analyze how historical scholarship connected to various European national traditions Part III considers the historical writing of Europe's Offspring the United States Canada South Africa Australia New Zealand Mexico Brazil and Spanish South America The concluding part is devoted to histories of non European cultural traditions China Japan India South East Asia Turkey the Arab world and Sub Saharan Africa This is the fourth of five volumes in a series that explores representations of the past from the beginning of writing to the present day and from all over the world This volume aims at once to provide an authoritative survey of the field and especially to provoke cross cultural comparisons

The Present State of Historical Writing in America John Franklin Jameson, 1910 The Oxford History of Historical Writing Daniel R. Woolf, Andrew Feldherr, Grant Hardy, 2011-05-05 A chronological scholarly survey of the history of historical writing in five volumes Each volume covers a particular period of time from the beginning of writing to the present day and from all over the world

History of American Historical Writing (1790-1830). Jay Golub, 1927 The Historical Profession in the United States W. Stull Holt, 2009-03-01 Writings on American History, 1911 Companion to Women's Historical Writing M. Sponberg, A.

Curthoys, B. Caine, 2016-04-30 This A Z reference work provides the first comprehensive reference guide to the wide range of historical writing with which women have been involved particularly since the Renaissance The Companion covers biographical writing travelogue and historical fictions broadening the concept of history to include the forms of writing with which women have historically engaged The focus is on women writing in English internationally but historical and historiographical traditions from beyond the English speaking world are also examined Brief biographies of individual writers are included

The Hispanic American Historical Review James Alexander Robertson, 1927 Includes Bibliographical section Women and the Historical Enterprise in America: Gender, Race and the Politics of Memory Julie Des

Jardins,2004-07-21 In Women and the Historical Enterprise in America Julie Des Jardins explores American women's participation in the practice of history from the late nineteenth century through the end of World War II a period in which history became professionalized as an increasingly masculine field of scientific inquiry Des Jardins shows how women nevertheless transformed the profession during these years in their roles as writers preservationists educators archivists government workers and social activists Des Jardins explores the work of a wide variety of women historians both professional and amateur popular and scholarly conservative and radical white and nonwhite Although their ability to earn professional credentials and gain research access to official documents was limited by their gender and often by their race these historians addressed important new questions and represented social groups traditionally omitted from the historical record such as workers African Americans Native Americans and religious minorities Assessing the historical contributions of Mary Beard Zora Neale Hurston Angie Debo Mari Sandoz Lucy Salmon Mary McLeod Bethune Dorothy Porter Nellie Neilson and many others Des Jardins argues that women working within the broadest confines of the historical enterprise collectively brought the new perspectives of social and cultural history to the study of a multifaceted American past In the process they not only developed the field of women's history but also influenced the creation of our national memory in the twentieth century     Senate documents ,1895     The Writing of American History Michael Kraus,1968
