The Oxford English Literary History: Volume 12: The Last of England? Randall Stevenson, 2005-11-10 English Literature in the 1960s soon threw off its post war weariness and the tepid influences of the previous decade New voices new visions and new commitments profoundly reshaped writing during the 60s and throughout the rest of the century Drama thrived on its rapidly rebuilt foundations New freedoms of style and form revitalised fiction Poetry too gradually recovered the variety and inventiveness of earlier years As well as comprehensively charting these changes in the literary field Randall Stevenson persuasively pinpoints their origins in the historical social and intellectual pressures of the times Literary developments are revealingly related to the wider evolution and profound changes in English experience in the late twentieth century to shadows of war and loss of empire declining influences of class shifting relations between the genders emergent minority and counter cultures and the broadening democratization of contemporary life in general Analyses of the rise of literary theory of publishing and the book trade and of the pervasive influences of modernism and postmodernism contribute further to an impressively thorough insightful description of writing in the later twentieth century a literary period Stevenson shows to be far more imaginative and exciting than has yet been recognised Lucid accessible and engaging this volume of the Oxford English Literary History presents a unique illumination of its age one we have lived through but are only just beginning to understand The first full account of its period it will set the agenda for discussion of late twentieth century literature for many years to come Stewart's Quotable Africa Julia

Stewart,2012-10-02 The African continent is home to spectacularly expressive human beings rebellious anti colonial and opposition leaders eloquent novelists political and social activists comical geniuses pensive and philosophical poets and intellectuals as well as a few raving dictators And the body of proverbial wisdom from Africa alone could fill many volumes Despite being eminently quotable Africa is not so readily quoted Stewart s Quotable Africa covers the whole of Africa north to south and east to west and includes memorable statements from hundreds of speakers including Nelson Mandela Doris Lessing Chinua Achebe Julius Nyerere Kofi Annan among others as well as biblical passages and proverbs Julia Stewart has spent over a decade collecting the 5000 plus quotes found in this book all of them either by Africans or about African subjects

New Fiction in English from Africa: West, East, and South André Viola,Jacqueline Bardolph,Denise

Coussey,2022-05-20 The term recent or new covers novels and some short fiction published between 1980 and 1995 a period characterized by growing pessimism about the state of affairs in both East and West Africa The section on South Africa deals more narrowly with the 1985 95 watershed marking the end of official apartheid and the beginning of reconstruction The three sections aim at giving a coherent picture of the main directions in production highlighting three main centres of interest Nigeria Kenya and the Republic of South Africa although some novelists from neighbouring countries are also considered such as Kofi Awoonor from Ghana Nuruddin Farah from Somalia and M G Vassanji and Abdulrazak Gurnah from Tanzania The evaluations conducted in the three sections lead to the emergence of a number of common themes in particular the writers predilection for topicality the role of the past and the controversy over the idea of the nation Central themes also include the role of women in fending for themselves both in rural and in urban environments A further major theme is the role of the past the Nigerian civil war the Mau Mau period in Kenya the revisiting of slavery the refurbishing of myth the questioning of historical reconstructions The preoccupation of the West East and South African novel with the idea and ideal of the nation is explored particularly in the context of migrancy hybridity and transculturalism characterizing the anglophone diaspora The volume is aimed at literary scholars and students and more generally readers of fiction seeking an introduction to contemporary literary developments in various parts of sub Saharan anglophone Africa No categorical distinction is drawn between popular and high literature Though still selective and not intended as an exhaustive catalogue the present survey covers a large number of titles Rather than resorting to broad and ultimately somewhat abstract thematic categories the contributors endeavour to keep control over this mass of material by applying a micro thematic taxonomy This approach well tested in the tradition of literary studies within France groups works analytically and evaluatively in terms of such categories as actional motifs plot frames and sociologically relevant locations or topics thereby enabling a clearer focus on the dynamics of preoccupation and tendency that form networks of affinity across the fiction produced in the period surveyed
