The Rice Seedling Sutra Yeshe Thabkhe, 2020-03-10 One of Tibet's great scholars presents the Buddha's profound teachings on the laws of karma and dependent arising In the Rice Seedling Sutra the Buddha unpacks the law of cause and effect He notes how in the natural world a seed becomes a sprout which produces a flower which bears fruit A seed has no intention to sprout when the right conditions are assembled the fruit arises Similarly when our senses encounter an object a sense consciousness arises naturally without our intending it This says the Buddha is also how karma works and how actions performed out of ignorance create suffering whether we want it or not And this same law of causality also governs enlightenment when the right conditions are assembled awakening is assured In many sutras like this one the Buddha explains that to understand his Dharma is to understand dependent arising Geshe Yeshe Thabkhe explores dependent arising and the corollary teaching of emptiness through this sutra and others Commenting on the works of Indian masters such as

Shantaraksita he shows how belief in a creator god is incompatible with dependent arising and by illuminating the teachings of Nagarjuna and Chandrakirti he shows how we do and do not exist Geshe Yeshe Thabkhe was among the last generation of scholars to be trained in Tibet before the Chinese occupation He has been teaching Westerners for decades having worked with top scholars in the United States and he is especially familiar with this sutra having translated the commentary by Kamalasila into Hindi Here his deep familiarity combined with his extensive command of the Buddhist scriptures allows him to present the Buddha's words in a rich and authoritative context
