The Aurelian Wall and the Refashioning of Imperial Rome, AD 271-855 Hendrik W. Dey,2011-04-07 This book explores the relationship between the city of Rome and the Aurelian Wall during the six centuries following its construction in the 270s AD a period when the city changed and contracted almost beyond recognition as it evolved from imperial capital into the spiritual center of Western Christendom The Wall became the single most prominent feature in the urban landscape a dominating presence which came bodily to incarnate the political legal administrative and religious boundaries of urbs Roma even as it reshaped both the physical contours of the city as a whole and the mental geographies of Rome that prevailed at home and throughout the known world With the passage of time the circuit took on a life of its own as the embodiment of Rome s past greatness a cultural and architectural legacy that dwarfed the quotidian realities of the post imperial city as much as it shaped them      Quill & Quire ,1998      Missouri Library World ,1997      Far Side Day To Day

description covers such topics as polis status territory settlement pattern urban centre city walls and monumental architecture population military strength constitution alliance membership colonization coinage and Panhellenic victors The first part of the book is a description of the method and principles applied in the construction of the inventory and an analysis of some of the results to be obtained by a comparative study of the 1 035 poleis included in it The ancient Greek concept of polis is distinguished from the modern term city state which historians use to cover many other historic civilizations from ancient Sumeria to the West African cultures absorbed by the nineteenth century colonializing powers The focus of this project is what the Greeks themselves considered a polis to be      Congressional Record United States.
