The Films Of The Twenties:

Films of the 1920s Richard Dyer MacCann, 1996-12-26 Contains essays and articles from seventeen noted film studies experts Chapters provide the reader with a well rounded view of the societal influences that inspired the films and the techniques that directors filmmakers and actors used to portray the world around them American Cinema of the 1920s Lucy Fischer, 2009 In ten original essays American Cinema of the 1920s examines the film industry's continued growth and prosperity while focusing on important themes of the era that witnessed the birth of the star system that supported the meteoric rise and celebrity status of actors including Charlie Chaplin Mary Pickford Joan Crawford Greta Garbo and Rudolph Valentino while black performers relegated to race films appeared infrequently in mainstream movies

The Films of Martin Scorsese, 1963-77 L. Grist, 2000-05-11 A study of Martin Scorsese's early career from his student short films to New York New York As well as discussing the films in detail they are considered in relation both to the issue of film authorship and a period of American cinema marked by crisis and change Looking at both Scorsese's film making and the debates surrounding film authorship this book is also about American film making in the sixties and seventies about in short authorship and context Alcohol in the Movies, 1898-1962 Judy Cornes, 2015-03-12 A 1906 film called The Dream of a Rarebit Fiend shows a man drinking and eating voraciously at a restaurant then going home to bed In the surreal scenes that follow furniture disappears tiny devils poke the man's head with pitchforks and his bed hurls itself out the window and across the city But it wasn't commentary on drinking rather it was a showcase of early special effects double exposure photography panning shots and montage Turn of the century films typically treated drinking as a subject for comedy and ridicule and the comic possibilities translated well into silent movies As talkies developed and the film industry matured alcohol's portrayal was reflected in the times prohibition the Great Depression the war years and as social commentary Here is a study of 64 years of alcohol as portrayed in film The author begins with the appearance in 1898 of what is probably the first commercial a 30 second film of men in kilts dancing and the words Scotch Whiskey appearing in the background The final film is 1962's Days of Wine and Roses which addresses alcoholism The author includes a film from each decade those with artistic or historical value those that represent the comedy drama and musical genres and well known pictures such as The Lost Weekend and A Star Is Born The first three chapters cover 1903 to 1939 The remaining chapters follow not a timeline but the growing complexity of the movies A recurring motif is the use of the term white logic a phrase used by writer Jack London in his 1913 memoir John Barleycorn It refers to disillusionment with everyday life brought on by and exacerbated by alcohol An annotated filmography lists the date source and other relevant information about movies in this study Chinese Film in the Twenty-First Century Corey Schultz, Cecilia Mello, 2023-10-13 This book examines Chinese film in the twenty first century Organized around the themes movements genres and intermedia it reflects on how Chinese cinema has changed adapted and evolved over past decades and prognosticates as to its future trajectories It considers how established film genres in China have adapted and transformed themselves and discusses current shifts in documentary filmmaking the ethos and practices of grassroots intellectual independent filmmakers and the adaption of foreign film genres to serve the ideological and political needs of the present It also explores how film is drawing on the socio historical and political contexts of the past to create new cinematic discourses and the ways film is providing a voice to previously marginalised ethnic groups In addition the book analyses the influences of past aesthetic traditions on the creative and artistic expressions of twenty first century films and cinema s relation to other media forms including folktales moving image installations architecture and painting Throughout the book assesses how Chinese films have been conceptualized examined and communicated domestically and abroad and emphasizes the importance of new directions in Chinese film thus highlighting the plurality vitality and hybridity of Chinese cinema in the twenty first century Chapter 10 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

The Thirties Mary Ellen Sterling,1996 The Jew in American Cinema Patricia Erens,1988-08-22 Placing cinematic representations of the Jew within their historical context Bartov demonstrates the powerful political social and cultural impact of these images on popular attitudes He argues that these representations generally fall into four categories the Jew as perpetrator as victim as hero and as anti hero Examples range from film s early days to the present from Europe Israel and the United States

China on Film Paul G. Pickowicz,2013-02-28 Leading scholar Paul G Pickowicz traces the dynamic history of Chinese filmmaking and discusses its course of development from the early days to the present Moving decade by decade he explores such key themes as the ever shifting definitions of modern marriage in 1920s silent features East West cultural conflict in the movies of the 1930s the strong appeal of the powerful melodramatic mode of the 1930s and 1940s the polarizing political controversies surrounding Chinese filmmaking under the Japanese occupation of Shanghai in the 1940s and the critical role of cinema during the bloody civil war of the late 1940s Pickowicz then considers the challenging Mao years including chapters on legendary screen personalities who tried but failed to adjust to the new socialist order in the 1950s celebrities who made the sort of artistic and political accommodations that would keep them in the spotlight in the post revolutionary era and insider film professionals of the early 1960s who actively resisted the most extreme forms of Maoist cultural production The book concludes with explorations of the highly cathartic films of the early post Mao era edgy postsocialist movies that appeared on the eve of the Tiananmen demonstrations of 1989 the relevance of the Eastern European velvet prison cultural production model and the rise of underground and independent filmmaking beginning in the 1990s Throughout its long history of film production China has been embroiled in a seemingly unending series of wars revolutions and jarring social transformations Despite daunting censorship obstacles Chinese filmmakers have found ingenious ways of taking political stands and weighing in for better or worse on the most explosive social cultural and economic issues of the day Exploring the often gut wrenching controversies generated by their work Pickowicz offers a unique and perceptive window on Chinese culture and society
