The First World The Third World:

Property for People, Not for Profit Ulrich Duchrow, Franz J. Hinkelammert, 2008-02-29 The issue of private property and the rights it confers remain almost undiscussed in critiques of globalization and free market economics Yet property lies at the heart of an economic system geared to profit maximization The authors describe the historically specific and self consciously explicit manner in which it emerged They trace this history from earliest historical times and show how in the hands of Thomas Hobbes and John Locke in particular the notion of private property took on its absolutist nature and most extreme form a form which neoliberal economics is now imposing on humanity worldwide through the pressures of globalization They argue that avoiding the destruction of people s ways of living and of Nature requires reshaping our notions of private property They look at practical ways for social and ecumenical movements to press for alternatives

Liberal Bourgeois Protestantism Paul Mocombe, 2012-06-07 This work analyzes the Protestant metaphysical origins and basis underlying the sociological process of globalization Specifically it outlines the different conceptions of globalization in the sociological literature and then examines the nature of identity and identity politics in the age of globalization The work concludes by drawing a connection between the nature of identity politics and the globalizing process Encyclopedia of Family Matters Marisel C. Moreno, 2012 Adopting a comparative and multidisciplinary approach to Puerto Rican literature Marisel Moreno juxtaposes narratives by insular and U S Puerto Rican women authors in order to examine their convergences and divergences By showing how these writers use the trope of family to question the tenets of racial and social harmony an idealized past and patriarchal authority that sustain the foundational myth of la gran familia she argues that this metaphor constitutes an overlooked literary contact zone between narratives from both sides Moreno proposes the recognition of a transinsular corpus to reflect the increasingly transnational character of the Puerto Rican population and addresses the need to broaden the literary canon in order to include the diaspora Drawing on the fields of historiography cultural studies and gender studies the author defies the tendency to examine these literary bodies independently of one another and therefore aims to present a more nuanced and holistic vision of this literature

Handbook of the New Sexuality Studies Steven Seidman, Nancy Fischer, Chet Meeks, 2007-03-12 As the field of sexuality studies has become a growth area in academia and classes on sexuality studies are incorporated into various disciplines the expanding book market has been filled with specialist oriented texts which are often theoretically focused and contain too many summaries for an undergraduate audience Addressing this imbalance this key new volume presents the field of sexuality in an accessible and engaging way for undergraduates Breaking new ground both substantively and stylistically this book offers students academics and researchers an accessible engaging introduction and overview of this emerging field Its central premise is to explore the social character of sexuality the role of social differences such as race or nationality in creating sexual variation and the ways sex is entangled in relations of power and inequality Through this novel approach the field of sexuality is considered for the first time in multicultural global and comparative terms and from a truly social perspective This important volume consists of over fifty short and original essays on the key topics and themes in sexuality studies and interviews with twelve leading scholars in the field which convey some of the most innovative work being done Each contribution clearly conveys the latest research with examples Ideal for students of gender and sexuality studies this topical and timely volume will be an invaluable resource to all those with an interest in sexuality studies

The Pre-occupation of Postcolonial Studies Fawzia Afzal-Khan, Kalpana Seshadri-Crooks, 2000

The Pre Occupation of Postcolonial Studies contains essays by both leading figures and younger scholars engaged in the field of postcolonial studies In this state of the field reader editors Fawzia Afzal Khan and Kalpana Seshadri Crooks have created a dynamic forum for contributors from a variety of theoretical and disciplinary vantage points to question both the limits and the limitations of postcolonial thought Since it burst on the academic scene as the hot new disciplinary field during the final decade of the twentieth century postcolonial studies has faced criticism from those who question its troubling trajectories its sometimes suspect epistemological and pedagogical methods and its relatively narrow focus With diverse essays that emerge from such disciplines as South Asian Latin American Arab and Jewish studies this volume responds to skeptics and adherers alike addressing not only the broad theoretical issues at stake within the field but also the position of the field itself within the academy as well as its relationship to modern postmodern and Marxist discourses Contributors offer critiques on ahistorical and universalizing tendencies in postcolonial work and confront the need for scholars to attend to issues of class ideology and the effects of neocolonial practices Seeking to broaden the field's traditionally literary spectrum of methodologies these essayists take up large thematic issues to examine specific sites of colonial activities with all of their historical political and cultural significance Closing the volume is an insightful interview with Homi Bhabha in which he discusses postcolonial studies in the context of contemporary cultural politics and theory The Pre Occupation of Postcolonial Studies not only offers an overview of the discipline but also pushes and pulls at the edges of postcolonial studies offering a comprehensive view of the field's diversity of thought and envisioning clear pathways for its future Contributors Fawzia Afzal Khan Ali Behdad Homi Bhabha Daniel Boyarin Neil Larsen Saree Makdisi Joseph Massad Walter D. Handbook of Globalization, Governance, and Public Administration Ali Farazmand, Jack Pinkowski, 2006-07-25 Globalization transcends borders and cultures as it develops both from the natural flow of information and communication technologies and as a directed and driven quest for global hegemony by self-serving corporations and world political heavyweights It bears a multifaceted web of influence that manifests in inequalities in growth prosperity and

The Oxford Handbook of Economic Imperialism Zak Cope, Immanuel Ness, 2022 Including thirty four chapters written by academics and experts in the field of international political economy The Oxford Handbook of Economic Imperialism examines the history of economic imperialism from the early modern age to the present The Handbook demonstrates the persistence of economic imperialism in today's postcolonial world and the enduring control wielded by great powers even after the end of formal empire Moreover the Handbook reveals how emerging powers are expanding economic control in new geographic and geopolitical contexts and highlights the significance of economic imperialism in the structures relations processes and ideas that sustain poverty and conflict worldwide Dictionary of Sociology Tony Lawson, Joan

Garrod, 2012-11-12 With full coverage of areas such as social stratification crime and deviance culture and identity mass media power and politics and religion the Dictionary of Sociology is designed to give the reader a sound introduction to the debates and issues in which sociologists engage Cross references abound while illustrations and tables further aid understanding and the A Z format makes the book exceptionally easy to use International Human Rights Michael

Haas, 2012-08-06 This book provides a comprehensive introduction to international human rights international human rights law why international human rights have increasingly risen to world prominence what is being done about violations of human rights and what might be done to further promote the cause of international human rights so that everyone may one day have their rights respected regardless of who they are or where they live It explains how the concept of international human rights has developed over time the variety of types of human rights empirical findings from statistical research on human rights a listing of all international human rights agreements the newest dimensions in the field of human rights gay rights animal rights environmental rights Richly illustrated throughout with case studies controversies court cases think points historical examples biographical statements and suggestions for further reading International Human Rights is the ideal introduction for all students of human rights The Quality of Society, Volume II Adolfo Figueroa, 2021-09-16 This book articulates a unified theory of capitalism as an attempt to provide a comprehensive scientific theory of this social system A unified theory of capitalism is not the combination of the predominant economic theories neoclassical classical and Keynesian so as to make them compatible It is not a composite economic theory It is a new economic theory Predictions of the theory's models were consistent with eight basic empirical regularities of capitalism dealing with economic growth income inequality employment level and environment degradation Therefore the unified theory can be accepted as a good approximation of the real capitalist world But the models were constructed at a high level of abstraction Also problematic was the need to work out more fully the public policy implications of the theory It is therefore no wonder that essays on the unified theory to answer these questions are a natural outcome of a new scientific endeavor attempting to reach a unity of knowledge in economics The Politics of Transnational Television Austin Ogunsuyi, 2004-05-29 The central focus of this study is to provide an improved basis for articulating the politics of transnational television and its potentials for improving relations among nations In this context the politics of transnational television means the decision making process that determines the degree of freedom of the press tolerated by individual governments and how that could affect broadcasting mode and attitudes toward other nations The motivation for this research stems from a conviction that the cultural imperialism perspective on the nature and modes of transnational television are erroneous and therefore susceptible to a wide and often misleading theoretical assumption with wide ranged implications In reevaluating the concept of cultural imperialism some fundamental questions are raised to determine to what extent its arguments are true Using the elite theory of power in various societies aided by Johan Galtung s model of a global communication in four worlds we see a pattern of global television that suggests a similar motivation underlying media ownership in all societies We acknowledge with the support of a literature review and other data sources the existence of a global systemic order where technology rich nations dominate technology over poor nations But there is also substantial evidence to prove some of the poorer nations exercise some degree of autonomy This makes it more difficult to explain cultural imperialism simply as a relationship where developed and developing nations are arranged in dominant subordinate or top down order Through a strategy of original intent we are able to show the elite in various societies acquire television mainly to satisfy their political economic or social interest Media attitudes therefore are largely the ideological expression of local elite who determines foreign policy

Writing Cyprus Bahriye Kemal,2019-10-28 Bahriye Kemal s ground breaking new work serves as the first study of the literatures of Cyprus from a postcolonial and partition perspective Her book explores Anglophone Hellenophone and Turkophone writings from the 1920s to the present Drawing on Yi Fu Tuan s humanistic geography and Henri Lefebvre s Marxist philosophy Kemal proposes a new interdisciplinary spatial model at once theoretical and empirical that demonstrates the power of space and place in postcolonial partition cases The book shows the ways that place and space determine identity so as to create identifications together these places spaces and identifications are always in production In analysing practices of writing inventing experiencing reading and construction the book offers a distinct solidarity that captures the truth of space and place for the production of multiple mutable Cypruses shaped by and for multiple mutable selves ending in a differential Cyprus Mediterranean and world Writing Cyprus offers not only a nuanced understanding of the actual and active production of colonialism postcolonialism and partition that dismantles the dominant binary legacy of historical political deadlock discourse but a fruitful model for understanding other sites of conflict and division Women's Human Rights

Susan Deller Ross,2013-10-09 According to Susan Deller Ross many human rights advocates still do not see women s rights as human rights Yet women in many countries suffer from laws practices customs and cultural and religious norms that consign them to a deeply inferior status Advocates might conceive of human rights as involving torture extrajudicial killings or cruel and degrading treatment all clearly in violation of international human rights and think those issues irrelevant to women Yet is female genital mutilation practiced on millions of young girls and even infants not a gross violation of human rights When a family decides to murder a daughter in the name of honor is that not an extrajudicial killing When a husband rapes or savagely beats his wife knowing the legal authorities will take no action on her behalf is that not cruel and degrading treatment Women s Human Rights is the first human rights casebook to focus specifically on women s human rights Rich with interdisciplinary material the book advances the study of the deprivation and violence women suffer due to discriminatory laws religions and customs that deny them their most fundamental freedoms It also provides present and future lawyers the legal tools for change demonstrating how human rights treaties can be used to obtain new laws and court decisions that protect women against discrimination with respect to employment land ownership inheritance subordination in marriage domestic violence female genital mutilation polygamy child marriage and the denial of reproductive rights Ross examines international and regional human rights treaties in depth including treaty language and the jurisprudence and general interpretive guidelines developed by human rights bodies By studying how international human rights law has been and can be implemented at the domestic level through local courts and legislatures readers will understand how to call upon these newly articulated human rights to help bring about legislation court decisions and executive action that protect women from human rights violations Technology Transfer in Fibres, Textiles and Apparel Gerard Karel Boon,1979-02-28

the twentieth century and beyond Filling a niche in Global Film and Media Studies and South Asian Studies it will be of interest to scholars and students of these disciplines Research Handbook on Law and Marxism O'Connell, Paul, Özsu, Umut, 2021-12-14 This Research Handbook offers unparalleled insights into the large scale resurgence of interest in Marx and Marxism in recent years with contributions devoted specifically to Marxist critiques of law rights and the state In Quest of Humane Development Byasdeb Dasgupta, Prasenjit Sarkhel, Archita Ghosh, Bishakha Ghosh, 2022-05-13 This book presents a multidimensional perspective on the interlinkage between human development community characteristics and public service delivery with special reference to India The chapters in the book analyze the influence of public service delivery on human development from neo classical as well as Marxian point of view Thus the expositions in the book provides a balanced mix of macro and micro approaches in the study of development The analytical discussions are supplemented by case studies and empirical estimates so as to demonstrate the applicability of the theory and the theoretical discourse about human development community network and the success and failures of critical public services in the Indian context The methodology followed in the chapters involves critical survey of existing literature case studies field survey and use of econometric techniques as well as statistical tools of index construction While contributors are primarily scholars from neo classical economics discipline some are intellectuals from the field of political economy and development studies Given the wide array of development perspectives this book is of interest not only to students and researcher of development economics social science and management but also a valuable reading for development practitioners and policy makers who would be interested in understanding how community and public institutions interact to determine access to health education and social security services that shapes the wellbeing of disadvantaged populations The lessons and implications are extremely pertinent to other emerging economies in particular those in South Asia
