Abyss Stares Back Stacy Alaimo, 2025-05-13 In an era of accelerating extinctions what does it mean to discover thousands of new species in the deep sea As we see the catastrophic effects of the Anthropocene proliferate advanced technologies also grant us greater access to the furthest reaches of the world's oceans facilitating the discovery of countless new species Sorting through the implications of this strange paradox Stacy Alaimo explores the influence this newfound intimacy with the deep sea might have on our broader relationship to the nonhuman world While many images of these abyssal creatures circulate as shallow clickbait aesthetic representations can be enticing lures for speculating about their lives profoundly expanding our environmental concern The Abyss Stares Back analyzes a diverse range of scientific literary and artistic accounts of deep sea exploration including work from the naturalist William Beebe and the artist Else Bostelmann as well as results of the Census of Marine Life that began at the turn of the twenty first century As she focuses on oft overlooked creatures of the deep such as tubeworms hatchetfish siphonophores and cephalopods which are typically cast as alien Alaimo shows how depictions of the deep seas have been enmeshed in long colonial histories and racist constructions of a threatening abyss Drawing on feminist environmentalism posthumanism science and technology studies and Indigenous and non Western perspectives Alaimo details how our understanding of science is fundamentally altered by aesthetic encounters with these otherworldly life forms She argues that although the deep sea is often thought of as a lifeless void with little connection to human existence our increasing devastation of this realm underscores our ethical obligation to protect the biodiverse life in the depths When the abyss stares back it demands recognition Retail e book files for this title are screen reader friendly with images accompanied by short alt text and or extended descriptions Wonders Frits

Stein,2013-02-11 Karen F Stein University of Rhode Island Kingston USA Rachel Carson is the twentieth century s most significant environmentalist Her books about the sea blend science and poetry as they invite readers to share her celebration of the ocean s wonders Silent Spring her graphic and compelling expos of the damage caused by the widespread aerial spraying of persistent organic pesticides such as DDT opened our eyes to the interconnectedness of all living beings and the ecological systems we inhabit Carson s work challenges our belief that science and technology can control the natural world asks us to recognize our place in the world around us and inspires us to treat the earth respectfully She calls us to rekindle our sense of wonder at nature's power and beauty and to tread lightly on the earth so that it will continue to sustain us and our descendants. This book guides readers on a journey through Carson's life and work, considers Carson's legacies and points to some of the continuing challenges to sustainability. It provides a listing of resources for reading, learning or teaching about the environment, about nature writing and about Carson and the crucial issues she addressed. Examines a handful of famous ocean explorers and naturalists including Jacques Cousteau, Thor Heyerdahl and Rachel Carson among others to demonstrate how their work helped shape the way many Americans would think about and interact with the ocean. The Traveller's Daybook, Fergus Fleming, 2011-11-01. A masterly anthology of extracts from the journals and writings of travelers, explorers and adventurers throughout history, taking the reader on one unforgettable journey for each day of the year. Inviting readers to cross ocean, desert, mountain and ice cap in the company of the world's greatest explorers, wanderers and writers, this day by day anthology of travel writing ranges widely across time as well as place, from Christopher Columbus's discovery of the West Indies in 1492 to Anton Chekhov's journey through Siberia in the 19th century and on to Wilfred Thesiger's wanderings in Arabia's empty quarter in the 1940s. Each quoted extract is accompanied by a brief commentary that introduces the writer and establishes the context of the excerpt, while integrated paintings and black and white etchings chime with the period of the chosen extracts. The itinerary offers the astonishment of the 17th century diarist John Evelyn on beholding the size of women's shoes in Venice, the stoic courage of Captain Scott facing death at 40 degrees below zero, the exasperation of Dylan Thomas at finding himself in a stifflipped, liverish British Guest House in pinking Abadan and the philosophical introspection of Fridtjof Nansen as he drifts in an interminable and rigid world of Arctic ice. Readers will find Napoleon's travel tips to his niece, a flight over Germany with Hitler and an expat dinner in Morocco where human blood is served from the fridge by the pint. Covering the whole calendar including leap years, these 366 journeys are by turn lyrical, witty, tragic and bizarre but always entertaining. Descent, Brad Matsen, 2007-12-18. In Descent: The Heroic Discovery of the Abyss, Brad Matsen brings to vivid life the famous deep sea expeditions of Otis Barton and William Beebe. Beebe was a very well connected and internationally acclaimed naturalist with the power to generate media attention. Barton was an engineer and heir to a considerable fortune who had long dreamed of making his mark on the world as an adventurer. Together Beebe and Barton would achieve what no one had done before: direct observation of life in the blackness of the abyss. Here, against the back drop of the depression, is their riveting tale.
