Australian Dictionary of Biography, 1981-1990 Diane Langmore, 1966 Volume 17 of the Australian Dictionary of Biography contains 658 biographies of individuals who died between 1981 and 1990. The first of two volumes for the decade it presents a colourful mosaic of twentieth century Australian life. It contains biographies of well known identities such as Sir Henry Bolte, Sir Robert Askin, Sir Reginald Ansett, Sir Macfarlane Burnet, Sir Raphael and Lady Cilento, Sir Arthur Coles, Robert Holmes O'Court, Sir Warwick Fairfax, Sir Edmund Herring, Albert Facey, Donald Friend, Sir Roy Grounds, Sir Bernard Heinze and Sir Robert Helpmann. Eminent Australian women in the volume include Dame Elizabeth Couchman, Dame Kate Campbell, Dame Doris Fitton, Dame Zara Holt and Lady Maie Casey. Although many of the women achieved prominence in those professions conventionally regarded as the preserve of women, others—such as Ruby Boye Jones, coast watcher Ellen Cashman, union organiser Elsie Chauvel, film maker Dorothy Crawford, radio producer Ruth Dobson, diplomat Mary Hodgkin, anthropologist Margaret Kelly, restaurateur and Patricia Jarrett, journalist—demonstrate that some women at least were breaking free of the constraints of traditional expectations. The lives of fifteen Indigenous Australians are included, as are those of a number of immigrants who fled from persecution in Europe to establish a new life in Australia.

Boom: The Underground History of Australia, from Gold Rush to GFC Malcolm Knox, 2013-08-21

One of our finest writers on one of our most dramatic stories. Mining divides the country: development against conservation, north and west against south and east, pro tax against anti tax. It's an important industry but why do passions run so high? What does mining really mean to us? And how much do we understand about our underground history? Although we favour the romantic vision of Australia riding to prosperity on the sheep's back, in reality we have always owed as much to the shovel. The gold rush kick started the nation, populating our cities and building our regional centres, and our fortunes have since risen and fallen according to what we've been able to dig from the ground. Boom is not a textbook history of Australian mining but a narrative of the people behind the facts and figures: from the eccentric loners who staked the first claims to the emergence of the modern mega magnates. It takes us deep underground with men working in mortal danger by candlelight and on the extraordinary journey 25 000 tonnes of the raw Australian landscape makes from the Pilbara to Shanghai. Boom reveals the history of mining as the Australian story for better or worse. Insightful, compellingly readable and full of extraordinary characters, it shows how mining and miners have shaped our history and gripped our imagination through boom and bust. A shrewd and captivating work of history. Weekend Australian. Knox asks questions on awkward topics and sieves a lot of history in the attempt to provide answers. Even those who disagree with some or many of his conclusions must concede that he vigorously stirs a pot that is crucial. Geoffrey Blainey. The Sydney Morning Herald. A must read for understanding the DNA of the nation. Charter Eye opening detail. Knox
