The History Of Lady Sophie Sternheim Womens Classics:

The History of Lady Sophia Sternheim James Lynn, 2019-01-14 The best known novel of Sophie von La Roche a German 18th century woman writer The plot reflects typical 18th century concerns the value of sentiment and the importance of virtue in attaining a good life The publication of this novel reflects a recent revival of interest in the author Amalia Holst: On the Vocation of Woman to Higher Intellectual Education Andrew Cooper, 2023-07-18 This edition offers the first English translation of Amalia Holst's daring book On the Vocation of Woman to Higher Intellectual Education 1802 In one of the first works of German philosophy published under a woman's name Holst presents a manifesto for women's education that centres on a basic provocation as far as the mind is concerned women are equal partakers in the project of Enlightenment and should thus have unfettered access to the sciences in general and to philosophy in particular Holst's manifesto resonates with the work of several women writers across Europe including Olympe de Gouges Mary Wollstonecraft and Germaine de Staël Yet in contrast to the early works of feminism we celebrate today her book had little success Its reception confronts us with a darker side of the German Enlightenment that until recently has been neglected Holst sought to unearth the gendered nature of the fundamental concepts of the Enlightenment including vocation education and culture which enabled men to establish the subordinate status of women by philosophical means However her argument was scorned by male reviewers who denied the very possibility of a woman philosopher With an introduction by Andrew Cooper and translations of biographical material and early reviews this edition provides students and scholars of German philosophy with a timely resource for developing a richer understanding of their field and general readers with a powerful early feminist text that reveals the opportunities and difficulties facing women philosophers at the turn of the nineteenth century Great Books by German Women in the Age of Emotion, 1770-1820 Margaretmary Daley, 2022 Literature written by women in German during the period long known patriarchally as the Age of Goethe was largely lumped in with other unserious or artistically unworthy works under the category Trivalliteratur literally trivial literature Using insights from Gender Studies yet acknowledging the need for a literary canon Great Books by German Women offers a critical interpretation of six canon worthy German novels written by women in the period for which it coins the term Age of Emotion The novels are chosen because they depict women's ordinary yet interesting lives and equally because each displays formal strengths that yield prose particularly able to express emotion The first Sophie von La Roche's Die Geschichte des Fräuleins von Sternheim The History of Lady von Sternheim draws on the tradition of the epistolary novel while also finding new ways to depict empathetic emotions The second Friederike Unger's Julchen Grunthal brings to the Frauenroman or women's novel the use of irony to portray a heroine's emotions during her coming of age The next novels add lyricism to their prose to capture sensual emotions Sophie Mereau's Blütenalter der Empfindung The Blossoming of Feeling imagines women's affinity for the philosophical sublime while Caroline Wolzogen depicts female desire in her Agnes von Lilien The fifth novel Die

Honigmann's The Honeymoon by Karoline Fischer explores the agony that extreme emotions cause not only for women but also for men. The last novel Caroline Pichler's Frauenwürde: The Dignity of Women expands the focus from a young heroine to multiple mature characters while maintaining the centrality of women's talents and emotions. Finally, this study accords honorable mention to some other women's novels before concluding that the influence of these six works was in no way trivial, either in portraying women's lives and emotions or in the history of German literature. The History of Lady Sophia Sternheim Sophie von La Roche, 1991 Lessing Yearbook XXVI Richard E. Schade, Susanne Kord, 1995 This official publication of the Lessing Society is a source of information on German culture, literature, and thought in the 18th century.

Matilde Serao: 'The Conquest of Rome' Ann Caesar, 1992-03-01 Tells of life in turn of the century Roman times. The novel's insights into the social and political temperaments of the times makes for involving reading. The Bookwatch: An indefatigable writer and the author of over 40 books, Matilde Serao (1857-1927) was arguably the most famous Italian woman journalist of the nineteenth century. The Conquest of Rome (1885) which tells the story of the arrival in Rome of a provincial deputy from the poor South, paints a brilliant portrait of political and social life in contemporary Rome. Upon his arrival in Rome, Francesco Sangiorgio dreams of a glittering future there. Although the Eternal City greets the young man's ambition with indifference, he gradually makes his mark on his parliamentary colleagues, soon establishing a place in high society. His fate is sealed, however, when he falls under the sway of the enigmatic Angelica Vargas and the conquest of Rome that seemed so tantalizingly close begins to slip away. Writing the Self, Creating Community Elisabeth Krimmer, Lauren Nossett, 2020 This volume examines the world of German women writers who emerged in the burgeoning literary marketplace of eighteenth century Europe. Sophie von La Roche: 'The History of Lady Sophia Sternheim' James Lynn, 1993-02-01 The mix of famous and obscure writers should offer something to both academic and popular taste; altogether, the series seems admirable in its aims and in its execution. London Times reveals the audacious diversity of women's imaginations before feminism. The Observer relates the sufferings of a superlatively virtuous heroine victimized by a sadistic libertine lover and worldly relatives. Its expressive delineation of feelings, particularly the delicate sensitivity of the heroine, introduced the sentimental novel into Germany and inspired Goethe's Sorrows of Young Werther. Belles Lettres Sophie von La Roche (1731-1807) is the most famous German 18th century woman writer, and this is her best known novel. It is also the first novel by a German woman to appear in print. A psychologically intense drama of the struggle of a young country woman to live virtuously in the face of the malevolent intrigues of family, friends, and lovers, it became an icon for young writers of the Sturm und Drang generation of the late 18th century. Goethe admired it and wrote The Sorrows of Young Werther under its influence. With its message of the triumph of truth and virtue over self-love, this book stands as one of the great works of the Age of Sentiment.
