O. Flower, 2015-07-06 Excerpt from The Century of Sir Thomas More There are many things in the Commonwealth of Nowhere that I rather wish than hope to see embodied in our own It was with these words of characteristic irony that More closed the first work which embodied the dreams of the New Learning Destined as they were to fulfilment in the course of ages its schemes of social religious and political reform broke in fact helplessly against the temper of the time At the moment when More was pleading the cause of justice between rich and poor social discontent was being fanned by new exactions and sterner laws into a fiercer flame While he was advocating toleration and Christian comprehension Christendom stood on the verge of a religious strife which was to rend it forever in pieces John Richard Green M A in History of the English People About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Century of Sir Thomas More Flower B O 1858-1918, 2013-01 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy The century of Sir Thomas More, by B.O. Flower B. O. Flower, 1896 The century of Sir Thomas More, by B.O. Flower. Illustrated with numerous portraits B. O. Flower, 1896 The Life of Sir Thomas More William Roper, 2009-01-01 English statesman and writer Sir Thomas More 1478 1535 is best remembered as both a humanist scholar as author of the classic 1516 political satire Utopia and a religious martyr he was beheaded by King Henry VIII for refusing to acknowledge the monarch as the head of the Church of England Much of what we know about his life comes courtesy of this biography by his son in law English politician WILLIAM ROPER 1498 1578 Written in the mid 16th century but not published till 1626 this is history told from the perspective of a primary source it is a riveting eyewitness account of the last days of one of the great figures of English history and literature This reprint of an 1822 edition includes some family letters including More s last written communication before his death The Arena ,1901
