The Challenge Of Global Stewardship Roman Catholic Responses:

The Challenge of Global Stewardship Maura A. Ryan, Todd Whitmore, 1997 This volume represents an attempt by 12 Roman Catholic scholars to take up the challenge of Global Stewardship to raise up the rich traditions of value and distinctive commitments of a particular faith community as resources for an ethic of preservation equity and restraint

The Cambridge Companion to Christian Ethics Robin Gill, 2011-11-24 In this second edition of the best selling Cambridge Companion to Christian Ethics Robin Gill brings together twenty essays by leading experts to provide a comprehensive introduction to Christian ethics which is both authoritative and up to date This volume boasts four entirely new chapters while previous chapters and all bibliographies have been updated to reflect significant developments in the field over the last decade Gill offers a superb overview of the subject examining the scriptural bases of ethics as well as discussing Christian ethics in the context of contemporary issues including war and the arms trade social justice ecology economics medicine and genetics All of the contributors have a proven track record of balanced comprehensive and comprehensible writing making this book an accessible and invaluable source not only for students in upper level undergraduate courses graduate students and teachers but anyone interested in Christian ethics today

Children, Adults, and Shared Responsibilities Marcia J. Bunge, 2012-09-27 This collection of essays by Jewish Christian and Muslim scholars underscores the significance of sustained and serious ethical inter religious and interdisciplinary reflection on children Essays in the first half of the volume discuss fundamental beliefs and practices within the religious traditions of Judaism Christianity and Islam regarding children adult obligations to them and a child's own obligations to others The second half of the volume focuses on selected contemporary challenges regarding children and faithful responses to them Marcia J Bunge brings together scholars from various disciplines and diverse strands within these three religious traditions representing several views on essential questions about the nature and status of children and adult child relationships and responsibilities The volume not only contributes to intellectual inquiry regarding children in the specific areas of ethics religious studies children's rights and childhood studies but also provides resources for child advocates religious leaders educators and those engaged in inter religious dialogue

Who Count as Persons? John F. Kavanaugh, 2001-05-23 Just what is a human being Who counts The answers to these questions are crucial when one is faced with the ethical issue of taking human life In this affirmation of the intrinsic personal dignity and inviolability of every human individual John Kavanaugh S J denies that it can ever be moral to intentionally kill another Today in every corner of the world men and women are willing to kill others in the name of realism and under the guise of race class quality of life sex property nationalism security or religion We justify these killings by either excluding certain humans from our definition of personhood or by invoking a greater good or more pressing value Kavanaugh contends that neither alternative is acceptable He formulates an ethics that opposes the intentional killing not only of medically marginal humans but also of depersonalized or criminalized enemies Offering a philosophy of the person that embraces the undeveloped the wounded and the dying he proposes ways to recover a personal ethical stance in a global society that increasingly devalues the individual Kavanaugh discusses the work of a range of philosophers artists and activists from Richard Rorty and S ren Kierkegaard to Albert Camus and Woody Allen from Mother Teresa to Jack Kevorkian His approach is in stark contrast to that of writer Peter Singer and others who believe that not all human life has intrinsic moral worth It will challenge philosophers students of ethics and anyone concerned about the depersonalization of contemporary life Toddling to the Kingdom, 2008 Children, Consumerism, and the Common Good Mary M. Doyle Roche, 2009-01-01 The children are full interdependent members of the communities of which they are a part they have a claim on our resources and our solidarity as well as a right to participate in social life Their participation easily becomes exploitation in the context of consumer culture The tradition of the common good within Christianity moves communities toward practices of resistance and transformation to this culture in a spirit of solidarity with children The Impact of the Family John Witte, Michael Welker, Stephen Pickard, 2022-02-22 The family is humanity s oldest and most basic social institution but today it is fragile fractured and fraught in many liberal lands This volume gathers scholars from sociology psychology history religion ethics law and medicine from five continents to analyze the complex nature and place of the family in character formation and human flourishing The chapters study the impact of catechesis schooling work and discipline on the development of individual moral agency and responsibility They document the critical roles of family love trust fidelity and story telling in shaping the moral character of all family members from infancy to old age They describe effective strategies of resistance and resilience for family members who face abuse divorce death chauvinism racism and homophobia And several chapters challenge modern arguments and policies that aim to flatten if not abolish the marital family even while they call for family law reforms Contributions by Enola G Aird Helen Alvar Robert N Bellah Margaret Jane Brining Michael J Broyde Marcia Bunge Stephen Carter Jean Bethke Elshtain Robyn Fivuush Patrick Hornbeck Andreas Kruse Nadia Marais Gordon Mikoski Bonnie Miller McLemore Patrick Parkinson Katja Patzel Mattern Sabina Pauen Stephen G Post Eugene C Roehlkepartain and Thomas Xutong Qu The Shame that Lingers A. Denise Starkey, 2009 In The Shame That Lingers A Survivor Centered Critique of Catholic Sin Talk A Denise Starkey argues that the dominant legal model of sin in the Catholic Church is inadequate for hearing the experience of sin for survivors of childhood and domestic violence because it functions to shame rather than to heal A universal understanding of the sinner as found in mainstream Catholic sin talk and confession impedes human flourishing by silencing radical suffering in ways that make survivors complicit for the harm done to them Starkey argues that a shame free theology of sin is necessary if survivors are to encounter the profound love of God Understanding sin from the perspective of the sinned against makes possible a transformative solidarity with the other by reinvisioning the roles of speaker and listener Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so. These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology. The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa. Children, Theology, and Bioethics Jessica Bratt Carle, 2024-12-15. Children remain at the periphery when bioethics envisions autonomous adults as normative human beings. Children: Theology and Bioethics Beyond Autonomy explores the full humanity of children, inviting greater recognition of their place in the moral landscape of healthcare. Theological insights into vulnerability, dependence, and agency summon appreciation for the experiences of pediatric patients and reveal what it means to be human at every age. Interdisciplinary dialogue between bioethics, childhood studies, and pastoral theology is woven throughout with illustrative clinical vignettes from Bratt Carle's experience as a pediatric chaplain and clinical ethicist.
