The Changing World Britains Changing Countryside:

The Changing World of Farming in Brexit UK Matt Lobley, Michael Winter, Rebecca Wheeler, 2018-11-22 The 2016 referendum resulted in a vote for the United Kingdom to withdraw from the European Union This has led to frenzied political debate across the whole spectrum of policy and agriculture is no exception For the first time in a generation the future of agriculture is unclear and unfettered by the constraints and incrementalism of the Common Agricultural Policy This book makes an empirical contribution to the Brexit debate bringing a social dimension to agri Brexit and sustainable agriculture discourses Understanding the social in the context of farmers is vital to developing a way forward on food security and agricultural sustainability Farmers are the recipients of the market and policy signals that link to global uncertainties and challenges This book is a commitment to understanding farmers as occupiers and managers of land Chapters in this book explore farmers own aspirations and knowledge about patterns of land use and production which underpin discussions around the environment and sustainability There is a deficit in understanding what kind of agricultural industry we now have following years of restructuring and repositioning This book is an attempt to address that deficit and will appeal to students and researchers exploring agriculture food politics and rural sociology Britain's Changing Environment from the Air Tim Bayliss-Smith, Susan E. Owens, 1990-11-15 Commercial pressures and mechanization have rendered almost unrecognizable the natural and man made landscapes of Britain as they existed before World War I How this happened and how we can best conserve what is left is charted using the perspective of aerial photography in this book Canals in a Changing Britain Jules P. Gehrke, 2024-12-15 Canals in a Changing Britain Construction Culture and Environment 1760 1968 assesses canals as a major technological system re shaping Britons relationship with their landscape and environment for over 200 years It offers a sustained narrative addressing canal construction in the late eighteenth century living and working communities alongside canals in the nineteenth century canals relationship to concerns regarding de industrialization in the early twentieth century and canals as sites for the experience of nature and rural life in the postwar era between 1945 and 1968 This book makes use of a variety of archival and published material on canals and references academic publications on histories of technology and the environment as well as scholarship related specifically to canals It argues contemporary conversations regarding the current and future use of canals as multi faceted sites of recreation leisure heritage and experience of the natural environment in Britain must be seen in the context of an arc of historical experience between 1760 and 1968 The Changing World of Outdoor Learning in Europe Peter Becker, Barbara Humberstone, Chris Loynes, Jochem Schirp, 2018-06-12 The Changing World of Outdoor Learning in Europe sets out to provide a comprehensive analysis of the economical and political changes that have occurred in European outdoor culture in the preceding two decades from a diverse range of perspectives including institutional theoretical national and educational views The book looks at how outdoor education has been transformed into an increasingly global field where established and influenced practices have been introduced into modernising and democratising nations With contributions from the members of the board of the European Institute of Outdoor Adventure Education and Experiential Learning and representatives of the networks that stand behind it this unique book provides thorough factual analyses and examinations of outdoor learning that have never been presented before The book contains contributions from across Europe with authors from the UK Germany Finland Sweden Slovenia Poland Norway and the Czech Republic Chapters within the volume by non European authors provide another perspective on the European story in a wider context As a whole the book will stimulate the ongoing debate about the nature function and organisation of outdoor education around the globe The Changing World of Outdoor Learning in Europe will be of great interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of outdoor education leadership and recreation and outdoor sport environmental and leisure studies It should also be essential reading for those involved in outdoor organisations in Europe and worldwide

British Economic and Social History R. C. Richardson, William Henry Chaloner, 1996

Town and Country Planning in the UK Barry Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2006-10-16 This revised fourteenth edition reinforces this title's reputation as the bible of British planning It provides a thorough explanation of planning processes including the institutions involved tools systems policies and changes to land use

Animal Welfare in a Changing World Andrew Butterworth, 2018-09-24 Contemporary and challenging this thought provoking book outlines a number of the key dilemmas in animal welfare today and tomorrow The key issues range from the welfare of fur and fashion animals to debates around intensive farming versus sustainability and climate change to animals in tourism rodeos races and fiestas The human animal welfare impact is explored including human impact on marine mammals fish wildlife companion and farm animals together with our impact on zoo and laboratory animals Animal Welfare in a Changing World gives Concise highly readable summaries on the important issues in animal welfare by world experts and key opinion leaders Opinions which are balanced with an evidence based approach and are challenging Color illustrations and links to videos to further illustrate the debates A wide ranging collection of case studies and descriptions of animal welfare topics which outline the dilemmas to anchor them in the real world This must read book is essential for animal and veterinary scientists ethologists policy and opinion leaders NGOs conservation biologists and indeed anyone who feels passionately about the welfare of animals

Net Zero, Food and Farming Neil Ward, 2022-08-04 This book examines the implications of the net zero transition for food and farming in the UK and how these can be managed to avoid catastrophic climate change in the crucial decades ahead For the UK to meet its international obligations for reducing greenhouse gas emissions nothing short of a revolution is required in our use of land our farming practices and our diet Taking a historical approach the book examines the evolution of agriculture and the food system in the UK over the last century and discusses the implications of tackling climate change for food farming and land use setting the UK situation in an international context The chapters analyse the key challenges for this transition including dietary change and food waste afforestation and energy crops and low emission farming practices

This historical perspective helps develop an understanding of how our food farming and land use system has evolved to be the way that it is and draws lessons for how the agri food system could evolve further to support the transition to net zero and avoid catastrophic climate change Written in a clear and accessible style this book will be essential reading to students and scholars of food agriculture and the environment as well as policymakers and professionals involved climate change policy and the agriculture and food industry
