The Fifties Photographs Of America

Francis Edward Abernethy, Carolyn Fiedler Satterwhite

The Fifties Photographs Of America:

The Fifties Eve Arnold, Magnum Photos, Inc. Staff, 1985 A collection of black white photographs showing life in the US during the decade of the 1950 s The Tumultuous Fifties New York Times Photo Archives, Douglas Dreishpoon, Alan Trachtenberg, Luc Sante, Nancy Weinstock, 2001-01-01 A collection of two hundred duotone photographs from the New York Times which capture the spirit of the United States in the 1950s The 1950s Decade in Photos Jim Corrigan, 2010-01-01 Describes the important world national and cultural developments of the decade 1950 1959 America Worked William A. Ewing, Dan Weiner, 1989 A collection of photographs on the United States during the 1950s from the work of one of the best photojournalists of the time The 1950s Stephen Feinstein, 2015-07-15 During the 1950s the United States became a world leader in business technology and health care The invention of the polio vaccine and the establishment of NASA set the stage for scientific advancement Rosa Parks refused to give up her bus seat spurring the civil rights movement However US troops fought to a deadlock in Korea the Soviet Union took an early lead in the Space Race and Americans worried about the presence of Soviet spies Social mores were being tested by new thinking new music and new idols The 1950s would prove to be a decade that would reimagine pop culture the new normal and the American Dream The Fifties in America John C. Super, 2005 Surveys the events and people of the United States and Canada from 1950 through 1959 Library of Congress Magazine , 2016 Documenting America, 1935-1943 Lawrence W. Levine, Alan Trachtenberg, 1988-10-27 Between 1935 and 1943 a group of photographers under the direction of Roy Emerson Stryker set out to photograph the United States for the Farm Security Administration and the Office of War Information Photographs taken by this celebrated group whose ranks included Dorothea Lange Ben Shahn Gordon Parks Russell Lee and Walker Evans have since become icons of the 1930s and 1940s In recent years however their work has been reproduced with little discussion of the particular circumstances surrounding its creation Documenting America takes a fresh look at these remarkable photographs The book opens with two incisive essays by Lawrence Levine and Alan Trachtenberg that examine issues central to photography and American culture While Levine explains how the pictures portray the complexity of life in the period balancing scenes of Depression hard times with images of the pleasures of life Trachtenberg analyzes the way in which viewers read photographs and the role of the government picture file that stands between the creation of the photographs and their use Both essayists raise important questions about Stryker s grand ambition of a photographic record of America about the ways of seeing that have grown up around the most famous of these photographs and about the whole enterprise of documentary photography and the conventions of realism The images themselves are presented in series selected from groups of pictures created by single photographers A documentary photographer often makes dozens of exposures to portray different elements of the subject experiment with camera angles and cover the stages of an event or steps of a process By studying these pictures in series we come closer to the photographer working in the field We see a tenant farming community in Gee s Bend Georgia the activities of the Salvation Army in San Francisco and the hubbub and commotion that filled Chicago's Union Railway Station in 1943. Texts accompanying each of the book's fifteen series describe the circumstances that gave rise to the creation of the pictures and discuss the relation between government policy and the subjects of the photographs. The nearly three hundred images included vividly portray America in the last bitter years of the Great Depression and the first years of the Second World War.

Nothing Is Lost Ingrid Sischy, 2018-11-20 From the late editor, writer and critic, one of the great chroniclers of the art, fashion and celebrity scenes, an expansive collection of thirty-five essays that offer an intimate look into the worlds of some of the most important and well-known artists, designers and actors of our time. For more than three decades, Ingrid Sischy's profiles and critical essays have been admired for their keen observation and playful style. Many of the pieces that appeared in The New York Times Magazine, The New Yorker and Vanity Fair from the 1980s to 2015 are gathered here for the first time, including her masterful profiles of Nicole Kidman, Kristen Stewart, Miuccia Prada, Calvin Klein, Jeff Koons, Jean Pigozzi, Alice Neel and Francesco Clemente among others, as well as her exclusive interview with John Galiano after his career nose-dived in 2011. Whether writing about a young Alexander McQueen, the photography of Robert Mapplethorpe, Sebastião Salgado, Cindy Sherman or Bob Richardson or the Japanese musical theater group Takarazuka Revue, Sischy's close attention to the unexpectedly telling detail results in vividly crafted, incisive portraits of individuals and their works. Here is a unique collection that gives readers unprecedented access to a dazzling range of artists from one of the greatest cultural critics of a generation.

American Photography and the American Dream James Guimond, 1991 Looks at how documentary photographers have contested the idea of the American dream and discusses the work of Francis Benjamin Johnston, Lewis Hine, Walker Evans, Dorothea Lange, William Klein, Diane Arbus and Robert Frank.

The Proud Decades John P. Diggins, 1988 What happens when public figures' private selves are put forth for examination by public audiences? How do the personal struggles of music artists, specifically those with immigrant backgrounds, compare to the private struggles of other individuals? At a time when many countries in the European Union experience an increase in far-right political party activities, how do individuals from the margins negotiate new ways of thinking about identity, offering hope for greater understanding of shared struggles across societies? This book offers interpretations of identity and belonging by examining the work of two music artists: Faudel Belloua from France and Adam Tensta from Sweden. By analyzing texts produced by these individuals, I argue that ongoing engagement with the materials produced by Belloua and Tensta—a process which I refer to as living biography—presents a unique window into the process of how Belloua and Tensta connect personal struggles to public issues, providing a compelling departure point for further discussions on how interpretations of national identity are changing in France and Sweden and beyond.

Texas Folklore Society: 1943-1971 Francis Edward Abernethy, Carolyn Fiedler Satterwhite, 1992 This is a society that you join because you want to. The purpose of the society is to collect and make known to the public songs and ballads, superstitions, games, plays and proverbs.
