Rickert, 2013-05-10 In Ambient Rhetoric Thomas Rickert seeks to dissolve the boundaries of the rhetorical tradition and its basic dichotomy of subject and object With the advent of new technologies new media and the dispersion of human agency through external information sources rhetoric can no longer remain tied to the autonomy of human will and cognition as the sole determinants in the discursive act Rickert develops the concept of ambience in order to engage all of the elements that comprise the ecologies in which we exist Culling from Martin Heidegger's hermeneutical phenomenology in Being and Time Rickert finds the basis for ambience in Heidegger's assertion that humans do not exist in a vacuum there is a constant and fluid relation to the material informational and emotional spaces in which they dwell Hence humans are not the exclusive actors in the rhetorical equation agency can be found in innumerable things objects and spaces As Rickert asserts it is only after we become attuned to these influences that rhetoric can make a first step toward sufficiency Rickert also recalls the foundational Greek philosophical concepts of kairos time chora space place and periechon surroundings and cites their repurposing by modern and postmodern thinkers as informational scaffolding for how we reason feel and act He discusses contemporary theory in cognitive science rhetoric and object oriented philosophy to expand his argument for the essentiality of ambience to the field of rhetoric Rickert then examines works of ambient music that incorporate natural and artificial sound spaces and technologies finding them to be exemplary of a more fully resonant and experiential media In his preface Rickert compares ambience to the fermenting of wine how its distinctive flavor can be traced to innumerable factors including sun soil water region and grape variety The environment and company with whom it s consumed further enhance the taste experience And so it should be with rhetoric to be considered among all of its influences As Rickert demonstrates the larger world that we inhabit and that inhabits us must be fully embraced if we are to advance as beings and rhetors within it     Vertical File Index ,1969     Bulletin of the Midwest Modern Language Association Midwest Modern Language Association,1969     The National Union Catalogs, 1963-,1964     DIMENSIONS OF MEANING ,1970     Books for College Libraries: Language and literature ,1975
