Donoghue,2011-04-14 Denis Donoghue has been a key figure in Irish studies and an important public intellectual in Ireland the UK and US throughout his career These essays represent the best of his writing and operate in conversation with one another He probes the questions of Irish national and cultural identity that underlie the finest achievements of Irish writing in all genres Together the essays form an unusually lively and far reaching study of three crucial Irish writers Swift Yeats and Joyce together with other voices including Mangan Beckett Trevor McGahern and Doyle Donoghue's forceful arguments deep engagement with the critical tradition buoyant prose and extensive learning are all exemplified in this collection This book is essential reading for all those interested in Irish literature and culture and its far reaching effects on the world The

Good Girl's Guide to Getting Lost Rachel Friedman,2011-03-29 Rachel Friedman has always been the consummate good girl who does well in school and plays it safe so the college grad surprises no one more than herself when on a whim and in an effort to escape impending life decisions she buys a ticket to Ireland a place she has never visited There she forms an unlikely bond with a free spirited Australian girl a born adventurer who spurs Rachel on to a yearlong odyssey that takes her to three continents fills her life with newfound friends and gives birth to a previously unrealized passion for adventure As her journey takes her to Australia and South America Rachel discovers and embraces her love of travel and unlocks more truths about herself than she ever realized she was seeking Along the way the erstwhile good girl finally learns to do something she's never done before simply live for the moment The Northern Ireland Troubles in Britain Graham Dawson,Jo

Dover,Stephen Hopkins,2016-11-28 This ground breaking book provides the first comprehensive investigation of the history and memory of the Northern Ireland Troubles in Britain It examines the impacts of the conflict upon individual lives political and social relationships communities and culture in Britain and explores how the people of Britain including its Irish communities have responded to and engaged with the conflict in the context of contested political narratives produced by the State and its opponents Setting an agenda for further research and public debate the book demonstrates that unfinished business from the conflicted past persists unaddressed in Britain and advocates the importance of acknowledging legacies understanding histories and engaging with memories in the context of peace building and reconciliation Ageing in Irish Writing Heather Ingman,2018-07-18 Age is a missing category in Irish literary criticism and this book is the first to explore a range of familiar and not so familiar Irish texts through a gerontological lens Drawing on the latest writing in humanistic critical and cultural gerontology this study examines the portrayal of ageing in fiction by Elizabeth Bowen Molly Keane Deirdre Madden Anne Enright Iris Murdoch John Banville John McGahern Norah Hoult and Edna O'Brien among others The chapters follow a logical thematic progression from efforts to hold back time to resisting the decline narrative of ageing solitary ageing versus ageing in the community and dementia and the world of the bedbound and dying One chapter analyses the changing portrayal of older people in the Irish short story Recent demographic shifts in Ireland have focused attention on an increasing ageing population making this study a timely intervention in the field of literary gerontology
