History of the American Graves Registration Service, Q.M.C. in Europe United States. Army. American Graves Registration Service, 1976 The First Farmers of Central Europe Penny Bickle, Alasdair Whittle, 2013-07-09 From about 5500 cal BC to soon after 5000 cal BC the lifeways of the first farmers of central Europe the LBK culture Linearbandkeramik are seen in distinctive practices of longhouse use settlement forms landscape choice subsistence material culture and mortuary rites Within the five or more centuries of LBK existence a dynamic sequence of changes can be seen in for instance the expansion and increasing density of settlement progressive regionalisation in pottery decoration and at the end some signs of stress or even localised crisis Although showing many features in common across its very broad distribution however the LBK phenomenon was not everywhere the same and there is a complicated mixture of uniformity and diversity This major study takes a strikingly large regional sample from northern Hungary westwards along the Danube to Alsace in the upper Rhine valley and addresses the question of the extent of diversity in the lifeways of developed and late LBK communities through a wide ranging study of diet lifetime mobility health and physical condition the presentation of the bodies of the deceased in mortuary ritual It uses an innovative combination of isotopic principally carbon nitrogen and strontium with some oxygen osteological and archaeological analysis to address difference and change across the LBK and to reflect on cultural change in general Reconstructing Past Population Trends in Mediterranean Europe (3000 BC - AD 1800) John Bintliff, Kostas Sbonias, 2016-10-03 Archaeology of Populus Monograph in Archaeology of Mediterranean Landscapes Series Population trends and demographics in general are discussed through a variety of case studies based in Mediterranean Europe The range of archaeological techniques and methods of analysis includes regional field surveys artifact scatter analysis palaeoanthropology historical and documentary sources and studies of cemeteries The Archaeology of Death in Post-medieval Europe Sarah Tarlow, 2015-01-01 Historical burial grounds are an enormous archaeological resource and have the potential to inform studies not only of demography or the history of disease and mortality but also histories of the body of religious and other beliefs about death of changing social relationships values and aspirations In the last decades the intensive urban development and a widespread legal requirement to undertake archaeological excavation of historical sites has led to a massive increase in the number of post medieval graveyards and burial places that have been subjected to archaeological investigation The archaeology of the more recent periods which are comparatively well documented is no less interesting and important an area of study than prehistoric periods This volume offers a range of case studies and reflections on aspects of death and burial in post medieval Europe Looking at burial goods the spatial aspects of cemetery organisation and the way that the living interact with the dead contributors who have worked on sites from Central North and West Europe present some of their evidence and ideas The coherence of the volume is maintained by a substantial integrative introduction by the editor Professor Sarah Tarlow This book is a first and a necessary one It is an exciting and far ranging collection of studies on post medieval burial practice across Europe that will most certainly be used extensively Professor Howard Williams The Medieval Networks in East Central Europe Balazs Nagy,András Vadas,Felicitas Schmieder,2018-11-09 Medieval Networks in East Central Europe explores the economic cultural and religious forms of contact between East Central Europe and the surrounding world in the eight to the fifteenth century The sixteen chapters are grouped into four thematic parts the first deals with the problem of the region as a zone between major power centers the second provides case studies on the economic and cultural implications of religious ties the third addresses the problem of trade during the state formation process in the region and the final part looks at the inter and intraregional trade in the Late Middle Ages Supported by an extensive range of images tables and maps Medieval Networks in East Central Europe demonstrates and explores the huge significance and international influence that East Central Europe held during the medieval period and is essential reading for scholars and students wishing to understand the integral role that this region played within the processes of the Global Middle Ages Death and the Body in Bronze Age Europe Marie Louise Stig Sørensen,Katharina Rebay-Salisbury,2023-01-05 The book explains how change in burial practices take place by focussing on how new practices are processed by local communities Local Dimensions of the Second World War in Southeastern Europe Xavier Bougarel,Hannes Grandits,Marija Vulesica,2019-03-15 This book deals with the Second World War in Southeastern Europe from the perspective of conditions on the ground during the conflict The focus is on the reshaping of ethnic and religious groups in wartime on the top down and bottom up dynamics of mass violence and on the local dimensions of the Holocaust The approach breaks with the national narratives and top down political and military histories that continue to be the predominant paradigms for the Second World War in this part of Europe The Lost World of Old Europe David W. Anthony,Jennifer Chi,2010 In the prehistoric Copper Age long before cities writing or the invention of the wheel Old Europe was among the most culturally rich regions in the world Its inhabitants lived in prosperous agricultural towns The ubiquitous goddess figurines found in their houses and shrines have triggered intense debates about women s roles The Lost World of Old Europe is the accompanying catalog for an exhibition at New York University s Institute for the Study of the Ancient World This superb volume features essays by leading archaeologists as well as breathtaking color photographs cataloguing the objects some illustrated here for the first time The heart of Old Europe was in the lower Danube valley in contemporary Bulgaria and Romania Old European coppersmiths were the most advanced metal artisans in the world Their intense interest in acquiring copper Aegean shells and other rare valuables gave rise to far reaching trading networks In their graves the bodies of Old European chieftains were adorned with pounds of gold and copper ornaments Their funerals were without parallel in the Near East or Egypt The exhibition represents the first time these rare objects have appeared in the United States An unparalleled introduction to Old Europe s cultural technological and artistic legacy

The Lost World of Old Europe includes essays by Douglass Bailey John Chapman Cornelia Magda Lazarovici Ioan Opris and Catalin Bem Ernst Pernicka Dragomir Nicolae Popovici Michel S f riad s and Vladimir Slavchev The Megalithic Architectures of Europe Luc Laporte,Chris Scarre,2015-12-31 Megalithic monuments are among the most striking remains of the Neolithic period of northern and western Europe and are scattered across landscapes from Pomerania to Portugal Antiquarians and archaeologists early recognized the family resemblance of the different groups of tombs attributing them to maritime peoples moving along the western seaways More recent research sees them rather as the product of established early farming communities in their individual regions Yet the diversity of the tombs their chronologies and their varied cultural contexts complicates any straightforward understanding of their origins and distribution Megalithic Architectures provides new insight by focusing on the construction and design of European megalithic tombs on the tomb as an architectural project It shows how much is to be learned from detailed attention to the stages and the techniques through which tombs were built modified and enlarged and often intentionally dismantled or decommissioned The large slabs that were employed often unshaped may suggest an opportunistic approach by the Neolithic builders but this was clearly far from the case Each building project was unique and detailed study of individual sites exposes the way in which tombs were built as architectural social and symbolic undertakings Alongside the manner in which the materials were used it reveals a store of knowledge that sometimes differed considerably from one structure to another even between contemporary monuments within a single region The volume brings together regional specialists from Scandinavia Germany Britain France Belgium and Iberia to offer a series of uniquely authoritative studies Results of recent fieldwork are fully incorporated and much of the material is published here for the first time in English It provides an invaluable overview of the current state of research on European megalithic tombs
