The Changing Civil Service:

The Civil Service in Hong Kong Ahmed Shafiqul Huque, Grace O.M. Lee, Anthony B.L. Cheung, 1998-07-01 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the organization problems issues and prospects of the civil service in Hong Kong It examines the origin and development of the civil service efforts to deal with the changes before and after the transition and the process of managing public services with references to its changing role and responsibilities The book will be of interest to academics civil servants professionals and students as well as researchers interested in the role of civil servants in changing societies and can be used for teaching courses on public administration and Asian studies

The Changing Civil Service Geoffrey Kingdon Fry, 1985-01-01 The Changing Constitution Jeffrey L. Jowell, Dawn Oliver, 2007-07-26 Since its first edition in 1985 The Changing Constitution has cemented its reputation for providing concise scholarly and thought provoking essays on the key issues surrounding the UK's constitutional development and the current debates around reform The sixth edition of a highly successful volume provides a thorough review of the latest developments in constitutional reform It includes a new chapter on Constitutional Watchdogs and expanded consideration of freedom of information and the control of public expenditure Professors Jowell and Oliver have brought together nineteen expert contributors to offer an invaluable source of material and analysis for all students of public law

Civil Service Journal, 1979 Britain's Modernised Civil Service June Burnham, Robert Pyper, 2008-02-18 Britain's Modernised Civil Service provides detailed analysis of the structure and operation of the modern civil service along with an historically grounded account of its development Key events personalities and scandals help bring the account to life and illuminate and challenge the various theories of what the civil service is or should be The authors take the evolutionary change of the civil service as a central theme and examine the impact of the major reforms of recent years on the historic Whitehall unitary model They assess the impact of the New Public Management agenda of the Thatcher and Major years and the role of the Civil Service in the multi governmental context of devolution and membership of the European Union Further changes associated with New Labour such the increased role of think tanks special advisers and the impact of the freedom of information act further sharpen the picture of today's civil service and lead to a rethinking of theories of its role This readable book by two leading authorities provides an up to date account of Britain's Civil Service that will be essential reading for students of British politics public policy and management June Burnham is a researcher and consultant in the area of public services and public policy and formerly Senior Lecturer in European Government at Middlesex University Robert Pyper is Professor of Government and Public Management and Head of the Division of Public Policy at Glasgow Caledonian University He is author of The British Civil Service for which this is a fully revised replacement volume

Civil Service Pay in Africa Derek Robinson, International Labour Office, 1990 Provides information on how civil service remuneration systems work in African countries Successful reform in civil service remuneration systems in Africa is of particular importance for countries in the process of structural adjustment because of its effect on the overall structural programme Revision of the Civil Service Retirement Act United States. Congress. House. Committee on Post Office and Civil Service,1956 The Official History of the British Civil Service Rodney Lowe,2011-01-25

This first volume of the Official History of the UK Civil Service covers its evolution from the Northcote Trevelyan Report of 1854 to the first years of Mrs Thatcher's government in 1981 Despite current concerns with good governance and policy delivery little serious attention has been paid to the institution vital to both the Civil Service This Official History is designed to remedy this by placing present problems in historical context and by providing a helpful structure in which others and particularly former officials may contribute to the debate Starting with the seminal 1854 Northcote Trevelyan Report it covers the lost opportunity of the 1940s when the Service failed to adapt the needs of big government as advocated by Beveridge and Keynes It then examines in greater detail the belated attempts at modernisation in the 1960s the Service's vilification in the 1970s and the final destruction of the old order during the first years of Mrs Thatcher's government Particular light is shed on the origins of such current concerns as the role of special advisers the need for a Prime Minister's Department the evolution of Parliamentary Select Committees to resolve the potential tension between bureaucracy and Parliamentary democracy This Official History is based on extensive research into both recently released and unreleased papers as well as interviews with leading participants It has important lessons to offer all those both inside and outside the UK seeking to improve the quality of democratic government This book will be of great interest to all students of British history British government and politics and of public administration in general Civil Service Systems in Western Europe A. J. G. M. Bekke,Frits M. Meer,2000-01-01 This comprehensive book will prove popular with scholars and students of public administration political science and international affairs as well as civil servants politicians and policymakers BOOK JACKET Good governance and civil service reform Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Public Administration Select Committee,2011-07-18 The Committee's report on an evaluation of Whitehall departments plans for structural change in response to the twin challenges of major public service reform and significantly reduced administrative budgets The Committee expresses concern that the centre of Government notably the Treasury and the Cabinet Office is providing neither strategic leadership nor a governance framework to departments in managing their change programmes The demand is immediate for an all encompassing strategic approach to change minimising disaggregation and ensuring a joined up Government approach
