The Changing Newspaper:

Time, Change, and the American Newspaper George Sylvie, Patricia D. Witherspoon, 2001-11 This volume combines the study of newspaper management operation with the leadership of change in organizations providing a unique perspective on change in media organizations For scholars students in journalism media management Language Change in English Newspaper Editorials Ingrid Westin, 2002 To test whether the writing style in up market English language newspaper editorials has become less formal over the past century as in many other genres Westin studied language trends in three major British papers After overviewing previous research on newspaper language the author discusses methodological issues in using machine readable corpora for analyzing linguistic change over time and her multi feature multi dimensional approach extending Biber s work on markers of personal involvement to include narrative and other forms of discourse Charted results reveal both linguistic change and continuity Appends the frequency counts for each of the study s linguistic features Lacks an index It is unclear whether Westin is currently affiliated with Uppsala U or U College of Gavle Sweden Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Rewriting the Newspaper Thomas R. Schmidt, 2019-06-19 Between the 1970s and the 1990s American journalists began telling the news by telling stories They borrowed narrative techniques transforming sources into characters events into plots and their own work from stenography to anthropology This was more than a change in style It was a change in substance a paradigmatic shift in terms of what constituted news and how it was being told It was a turn toward narrative journalism and a new culture of news propelled by the storytelling movement Thomas Schmidt analyzes the expansion of narrative journalism and the corresponding institutional changes in the American newspaper industry in the last quarter of the twentieth century In doing so he offers the first institutionally situated history of narrative journalism s evolution from the New Journalism of the 1960s to long form literary journalism in the 1990s Based on the analysis of primary sources industry publications and oral history interviews this study traces how narrative techniques developed and spread through newsrooms advanced by institutional initiatives and a growing network of practitioners proponents and writing coaches who mainstreamed the use of storytelling Challenging the popular belief that it was only a few talented New York reporters Tome Wolfe Jimmy Breslin Gay Talese Joan Didion and others who revolutionized journalism by deciding to employ storytelling techniques in their writing Schmidt shows that the evolution of narrative in late twentieth century American Journalism was more nuanced more purposeful and more institutionally based than the New Journalism myth suggests Principles of Newspaper Management James E. Pollard, 2013-01-15 Written by the once Director of the School of Journalism at the Ohio State University this is a fascinating guide for anybody interested in becoming a journalist or involved in the world of the printed media Many of the earliest books particularly those dating back to the 1900s and before are now extremely scarce and increasingly expensive We are republishing these classic works in affordable high quality modern editions using the original text and artwork Newspaper Journalism Peter

Cole, Tony Harcup, 2009-12-01 Are newspapers faced with an existential threat or are they changing to meet the challenges of a digital world With the newspaper's role in a state of fundamental redefinition Newspaper Journalism offers a timely and up to the minute analysis of newspapers today in the context of their historical importance to society Drawing on their extensive experience in academia and also across local national mainstream and alternative newspapers Cole and Harcup write clearly and engagingly from both industry and scholarly perspectives and contend that far from dying newspapers are doing what they have always done adapting to a changing environment This text is essential reading for all students of the press with comprehensive and critical coverage of the most important debates in the study of newspaper journalism from ethics and investigative journalism to political economy and the future of the industry Given the shifting boundaries and central importance of newspapers it will be of interest to all students of journalism and the media Praise for the Journalism Studies Key Texts series It is easy to describe a good textbook for a specific journalistic format The ideal book has to satisfy a list of requirements that are also bullet pointed in journalism assignment outlines A text has to synthesize the existing body of knowledge explain concepts clearly have a logical order of topics and provide enough information and directions to pursue further study One may also hope it would include real life examples and be lucid vivid and a pleasure to read Hard to find Not anymore The new SAGE series Journalism Studies Key Texts satisfies the main requirements on the list Carefully planned and meticulously edited by Martin Conboy David Finkelstein and Bob Franklin the textbook series is a welcome contribution to the literature of journalism studies All three books follow the same structural template an overview of historical development explication of the political and economic frameworks within particular types of journalism a review of contemporary practices social demographics a comparative analysis of practices around the world a summary of main conceptual approaches an indication of future directions recommendations for further reading This strong organization resembles a template for a course outline This is intentional because the series is aimed both at students and their practice based lecturers who often come straight from industry and need time to adjust to the academic environment The series achieves its aim to bridge the sometimes too evident dissonance between journalism theory and practice They successfully situate discussions about journalism in social and historical contexts We see the faces of individual journalists the circumstances of news production the relationship with owners the battle between the public service and the profit nature of news the relevance of journalism work The detailed account of the conditions under which newspaper radio and alternative journalism is produced and performed make the Journalism Studies Key Texts series mandatory reading for both journalism students and their lecturers Verica Rupar Journalism Studies Digitised Newspapers - A New Eldorado for Historians? Estelle Bunout, Maud Ehrmann, Frédéric Clavert, 2022-12-31 The application of digital technologies to historical newspapers has changed the research landscape historians were used to An Eldorado Despite undeniable advantages the new digital affordance of historical newspapers also transforms research practices and confronts historians with new challenges Drawing on a growing community of practices the impresso project invited scholars experienced with digitised newspaper collections with the aim of encouraging a discussion on heuristics source criticism and interpretation of digitized newspapers This volume provides a snapshot of current research on the subject and offers three perspectives how digitisation is transforming access to and exploration of historical newspaper collections how automatic content processing allows for the creation of new layers of information and finally what analyses this enhanced material opens up impresso Media Monitoring of the Past is an interdisciplinary research project that applies text mining tools to digitised historical newspapers and integrates the resulting data into historical research workflows by means of a newly developed user interface The question of how best to adapt text mining tools and their use by humanities researchers is at the heart of the impresso enterprise The British Newspaper Industry John Hill, 2016-04-08 It is never very obvious to spectators of the newspaper business just why it is that the industry has suffered so badly in recent years Most ascribe the reasons to the arrival of the Internet in all its forms when in truth most of its problems were created by the newspaper managements themselves either by weak management in the control of its environment by a serious lack of foresight in looking to the future or by assuming that change if it were to come would be at the slow pace of past change The magisterial attitudes of most newspaper managements served to engender a growing resentment particularly among the advertisers who were forced to pay increased rates to enable the cover prices of the publications to be held down The British Newspaper Industry sets out to distinguish the newspaper industry from the generality of single product organisations and to provide tailored solutions to its problems by drawing on a variety of techniques and practices successfully used in other industries Failing Newspaper Act United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Antitrust and Monopoly, 1967 Considers S 1312 to exempt from the antitrust laws certain combinations and arrangements necessary for the survival of failing newspapers Includes report Newspaper Monopolies and the Antitrust Laws a Study of the Failing Newspaper Act by International Typographical Union 1967 p 125 172 Australian Newspapers in the Television Age, 1956-2006 Rodney Tiffen, 2025-04-15 This book looks at Australian newspapers over the half century following the introduction of television in 1956 Through a quantitative study it illuminates how the nature of news has changed and how central journalistic practices have developed It examines newspapers changing size and structure their story priorities their use of visual aids and interpretive frames their changing range and treatment of sources and how these changes affected their political and international coverage The content analysis shows a dominant theme of growth and improvement Newspapers offered their readers much more at the end of the half century than at the beginning The much larger volume of news was presented in more visually attractive and reader friendly ways than before News agendas expanded in response both to changing reader interests and a changing political environment Newspapers had a more active orientation towards using a wider range of sources All papers shared in the major trends but to varying degrees so that by the end of the period there were sharper differences between the papers than at the beginning Mapping the multi dimensional nature of change in this pivotal period lays a groundwork for analysing the changing nature of journalism during the existential crisis that news organisations are now facing during the digital age Newspaper Preservation Act United States.
