The Church-as-family and Ethnocentrism in Sub-Saharan Africa Gerald K. Tanye, 2010 Ethnocentrism is one of the greatest obstacles to peace on the African continent Taking the Church as Family of God as a model of evangelization this work explores means of inculturating the Gospel message in African cultures in order to transform them make them blossom and enable Africans to live as authentic Christians in their cultures It examines the values of African extended families and the prospects of interreligious dialogue as means through which the various religious bodies can effectively work together to overcome ethnocentrism and its evil effects and thus establish a wholesome African society where every human person is at home irrespective of family orientation or tribal background Paul's Understanding of the Church's Mission Robert L. Plummer, 2006-06-01 Did Paul expect his churches to engage in evangelistic activity which mirrored his own Or have modern readers of the Bible wrongly projected Paul's apostolic passion upon the communities that he founded Such is the charge of several recent authors and if their thesis is correct nothing could have larger implications for how the modern church engages in mission In this book Robert L Plummer engages in a careful study of Paul's letters to determine if the apostle expected the communities to which he wrote to engage in outward directed missionary activity Plummer helpfully summarizes the discussion to date on the debated issue judiciously handles contested texts and provides a way forward in addressing this critical question While admitting that Paul rarely explicitly commands the communities he founded to evangelize Plummer amasses significant incidental data to provide a convincing case that Paul did indeed expect his churches to engage in outward directed missionary activity Throughout the study Plummer progressively builds a theological basis for the church's mission that is both compelling and distinctively Pauline Conciliarism Paul Valliere, 2012-02-09 A comprehensive introduction to conciliarism decision making and conflict resolution in the history of the Christian church

Marking the Church Greg Peters, Matt Jenson, 2016-12-09 More than one person has joked over the years that Evangelical believers do not have an ecclesiology In one sense that is absurd Evangelical churches especially if you include Pentecostals in that group are some of the fastest growing most vibrant churches in the world Evangelicals are proclaiming the gospel praising the Lord reading the Bible and loving the poor But there is a case to be made that the Evangelical devotion to the mission of the church has left Evangelicals with little time to reflect on the church itself In this collection of essays first given at annual meetings of the Evangelical Theological Society the authors take time to reflect on the nature of the church in an Evangelical context asking after the
