Congress, 2007 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy, 1991 Meir Aaron Goldschmidt and the Poetics of Jewish Fiction David Gantt Gurley, 2016-12-09

Meir Aaron Goldschmidt and the Poetics of Jewish Fiction presents a bold new reading of one of Denmark's greatest writers of the nineteenth century situating him first and foremost as a Jewish artist. Offering an alternative to the nationalistic discourse so prevalent in the scholarship, Gurley examines Goldschmidt's relationship to the Hebrew Bible and later rabbinical traditions such as the Talmud and the Midrash. At the same time, he shows that Goldschmidt's midrashic style in a secular context predates certain narrative movements within Modernism that are usually associated with the twentieth century and especially Czech writer Franz Kafka. Goldschmidt was remarkable in his era both as a writer who explored his peripheral identity in the mainstream of European culture and as a writer of the first truly Jewish bildungsroman. In this groundbreaking study of Goldschmidt's narrative art, Gurley refashions his position in both the Danish and Jewish literary canons and introduces his extraordinary work to a wider non-Scandinavian audience. F-O Library of Congress. We do not pretend to have produced the writers included in this book. Their talent was inevitably shaped by the genes rattling in ancestral closets. We did give them a community in which to try out the quality of their gift. Meanwhile There Are Letters Suzanne Marrs, Tom Nolan, 2015-07-14

2016 Edgar Award Finalist 2016 Anthony Award Finalist 2016 Macavity Award Finalist

In 1970, Ross Macdonald wrote a letter to Eudora Welty, beginning a thirteen-year correspondence between fellow writers and kindred spirits. Though separated by background, geography, genre, and his marriage, the two authors shared their lives in witty, wry, tender, and at times profoundly romantic letters, each drawing on the other for inspiration, comfort, and strength. They brought their literary talents to bear on a wide range of topics, discussing each other's publications, the process of translating life into fiction, the nature of the writer's block each encountered, books they were reading, and friends and colleagues they cherished. They also discussed the world around them: the Vietnam War, the Nixon-Carter and Reagan presidencies, and the environmental threats facing the nation. The letters reveal the impact each had on the other's work, and they show the personal support Welty provided when Alzheimer's destroyed Macdonald's ability to communicate and write. The editors of this collection, who are the definitive biographers of these two literary figures, have provided extensive commentary and an introduction. They also include Welty's story fragment, "Henry," which addresses Macdonald's disease. With its mixture of correspondence and narrative, Meanwhile There Are Letters provides a singular reading experience, a prose portrait of two remarkable artists and one unforgettable relationship. Critical Survey of Poetry Philip federal legislation and practices have had an institutional bias toward large scale farms and agribusiness and have hastened the demise of family farms Dr Vogeler examines the struggle between land interests in the private and public sectors and finds that the myth of the family farm has been used to obscure the dominance of agribusiness and that the corporate penetration of agriculture has in turn contributed to the plight of migrant workers the decline of small towns and the economic difficulties of independent farmers Dr Vogeler also identifies the major shortcomings of agribusiness and federal land related laws and programs examines the regional impact of agribusiness and federal farm programs on rural areas and considers the role of racial minorities and women in the development of agrarian capitalism In conclusion he offers a structural analysis that provides the means for progressive social change and states that the achievement of economic equality in rural America and the dismantling of the corporate control of agriculture can be realized through farmer labor alliances
