Adoptees' Ethnic Identity Within Family and Social Contexts Ellen E. Pinderhughes, Rosa Rosnati, 2015-12-15 This special issue addresses the construction of ethnic identity among international transracial adoptees which typically involve the placement of Black Asian Hispanic or Multiracial children with White parents International transracial adoptees similar to immigrants navigate a cultural and ethnic context other than their birth culture However they are unique in that they navigate these experiences within families who don't share their cultural ethnic and racial background Critical questions emerge about the construction and development of their ethnic identity These questions include the role that transracial adoptive parents play in providing cultural socialization exposure to children's birth culture the impact of culture camps designed to provide cultural socialization in the context of peers the intersection of adoptive identity and ethnic identity and youth adjustment whether relations between ethnic identity and adjustment are linear or curvilinear the role of bicultural identity integration as a link between ethnic identity and psychosocial adjustment and ethnic identity processes among internationally transracially adopted young adults who mentor younger adoptees from similar cultures These questions are addressed in this special issue in a collection of studies that examine ethnic identity among diverse international transracial adoptees at different ages adopted into two countries and using differing sample sizes and methodologies International transracial adoptive families represent a microcosm of the growing international transracial and transethnic social transactions taking place in this diverse world The collective findings in this special issue about the multidimensionality of ethnic identity and its intersectionality with other identities across developmental eras not only enhance knowledge about identity development among international transracial adoptees but also expand understanding about identity development in general This is the 150th volume in this Jossey Bass series New Directions for Child and Adolescent Development Its mission is to provide scientific and scholarly presentations on cutting edge issues and concepts in this subject area Each volume focuses on a specific new direction or research topic and is edited by experts from that field

Exploring Family Relationships With Other Social Contexts Ross D. Parke, Sheppard G. Kellam, 2013-07-04 In the 1990s it is no longer news that families do not operate independently from other social organizations and institutions Instead it is generally recognized that families are embedded in a complex set of relationships with other institutions and contexts outside the family. In spite of this recognition a great deal remains to be discovered about the ways in which families are influenced by these outside agencies or how families influence the functioning of children and adults in these extra familial settings school work day care or peer group contexts. Moreover little is known about the nature of the processes that account for this mutual influence between families and other societal institutions and settings. The goal of this volume is to present examples from a series of ongoing research programs that are beginning to provide some tentative answers to these questions. The result of a summer workshop characterized by lively exchanges not only between speakers and the audience but among participants in small group discussions as well this volume attempts to communicate some of the dynamism and excitement that was evident at the conference. In the final analysis this book should stimulate further theoretical and empirical advances in understanding how families relate to other contexts.

The Social Context of Birth Caroline Squire, 2017-04-06 Midwives and other health care professionals need to have a deep understanding of the various lives childbearing women live in order to support them insightfully and practise in a nuanced manner. The Social Context of Birth has been revised updated and enlarged to provide an essential understanding of the different lives women live and in which they birth their children. For the first time it also contains original primary research on the perspectives of student midwives as they progress through their three year training. This comprehensive guide provides countless valuable insights into the many different lives experiences and expectations of women in their childbearing years in the twenty first century especially vulnerable women. Written by a team of highly experienced health professionals it also covers contentious areas of maternity care such as new reproductive technologies and fetal surveillance. A true essential for all healthcare professionals who work with women giving birth such as midwives nurses health visitors and obstetricians and wish to deepen their knowledge of women's lives.

The Social Context of Learning in India Manoj Kumar Tiwary, Sanjay Kumar, Arvind Kumar Mishra, 2023-05-09 Why are children from disadvantaged and minority communities overrepresented among academic underachievers poor learners and school dropouts? This volume engages with this question and examines classroom learning as a process that involves a multitude of actors situated in specific social cultural and historical contexts. The volume covers an interdisciplinary spectrum of educational processes contexts educational ambitions and limitations of low caste working class and middle class students from different Indian communities and regions. The volume delves into the problem of academic underperformance from a social identity perspective and probes into social context based variability in classroom learning systemic disadvantages in the form of negative stereotypes and the family as an under studied social group in all discussions of schooling. It also examines the teachers perceptions and attitudes towards Adivasi students and other minority groups in primary schools and their effect on children's classroom engagement. The chapters in this volume provide insights into unresolved and critical research questions that require the attention of teachers school management

The Family Business as a Socialisation Context for the Children of Entrepreneurs Simon Caspary,2024-05-28 Simon Caspary examines how the socialisation of offspring from entrepreneurial families is influenced by the existence of a family business To answer the initial question a pluralistic approach is chosen that maps the mechanisms and influencing variables on the socialisation and identity formation of the offspring In addition to a dedicated overview of the relevant literature the comprehensive theoretical review makes a significant contribution to advancing knowledge of the socialisation context of family businesses in academic discourse

Children's Development Within Social Context: Metatheory and theory Lucien T. Winegar, Jaan Valsiner, 1992 These companion volumes bring together research and theoretical work that addresses the relations between social context and the development of children They allow for the in depth discussion of a number of vital metatheoretical theoretical and methodological issues that have emerged as a result of increased investigation in these areas For example Which methodological and statistical procedures are appropriate and applicable to studies of social context and processes of development Should the nature of social context be reconceptualized as something more than different levels of some social independent variable Are theories of development that do not consider social context incomplete Will the increasingly finer definitions of social context lead to extreme situationism and contextualism As developmental theory and investigation continues to address relationships between social and cognitive development it becomes increasingly important that issues concerning social context be elaborated and discussed

The Social Context of Health and Health Work Linda J. Jones, 1994-07-19 The Social Context of Health and Health Work breaks new ground by linking together sociology of health and social policy perspectives Linda Jones argues that health and health work cannot be understood in isolation Patterns of disease illness treatment and provision are crucially influenced by class race gender age and disability Conflicts over health policies reflect fundamental debates about the purpose of welfare The writer draws on her specialist knowledge of developing and teaching nursing and health studies courses and on her recent experience of writing distance learning materials to create a book which encourages critical thinking and supports study

The Social Context of Birth Gurcharan Rai, 2017-09-07 Greatly expanded revised and updated with an entirely new chapter on disability The Social Context of Birth Second Edition provides an essential understanding of how social issues affect midwives the birth process and motherhood Childbirth is much more than a biological event or a set of case notes No one has an uneventful pregnancy and women seek narratives through which they can explain and try to make sense of what has happened to them This is often neglected in the relentlessly technocratic modern culture of childbirth Appreciating the social context surrounding an individual enriches the understanding a midwife must have if she is to work successfully alongside a woman and her family throughout a pregnancy and birth in an insightful intelligent and informed manner This comprehensive guide provides countless valuable insights for midwives nurses obstetricians and health visitors into the many different lives experiences and expectations of women in their childbearing years their babies and families in the 21st Century Written by a team of highly experienced health professionals it also covers contentious areas of maternity care such as new reproductive technologies and fetal surveillance

Marriages and Families Karen Seccombe, Rebecca L. Warner, 2003-07 In this fresh more structural alternative to other texts for the marriage and family course Seccombe and Warner provide a comprehensive look at close relationships and the family in just 15 chapters Examining close relationships and families by placing them in social context the authors offer a unique emphasis on the structural and relational aspects of the family with a focus on family resilience The text weaves together a macro view social structural analysis of close relationships with the macro an individualist view The authors demonstrate the interaction of theory and methodology in family studies in Chapter 2 and blend cutting edge research and practical applications throughout Among the highlights of this first edition are the exceptionally thorough exploration of the topics of singlehood and cohabitation in Chapter 7 and the unique six chapter core 8 13 that focuses on all aspects of parenthood and the challenges and crises that families face today The authors emphasis on family resilience and how families can be strengthened is reflected in the Constructing Strong Families boxes that appear throughout the text These features encourage students to apply groundbreaking research on what makes a family strong to their own families and in the concluding chapter Looking Ahead Helping Families Flourish which examines the factors that successful families regardless of ethnicity culture or social class consistently exhibit

Early Adulthood in a Family Context Alan Booth, Susan L. Brown, Nancy S Landale, Wendy D. Manning, Susan M McHale, 2011-12-11 Early Adulthood in a Family Context based on the 18th annual National Symposium on Family Issues emphasizes the importance of both the family of origin and new and highly variable types of family formation experiences that occur in early adulthood This volume showcases new theoretical methodological and measurement insights in hopes of advancing understanding of the influence of the family of origin on young adults lives Both family resources and constraints with respect to economic social and human capital are considered

Handbook of Marriage and the Family Gary W. Peterson, Kevin R. Bush, 2012-09-14 The third edition of Handbook of Marriage and the Family describes analyzes synthesizes and critiques the current research and theory about family relationships family structural variations and the role of families in society This updated Handbook provides the most comprehensive state of the art assessment of the existing knowledge of family life with particular attention to variations due to gender socioeconomic race ethnic cultural and life style diversity The Handbook also aims to provide the best synthesis of our existing scholarship on families that will be a primary source for scholars and professionals but also serve as the primary graduate text for graduate courses on family relationships and the roles of families in society In addition the involvement of chapter authors from a variety of fields including family psychology family sociology child development family studies public health and family therapy gives the Handbook a multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary framework

Family and School Capital: Towards a Context Theory of Students' School Outcomes K. Marjoribanks, 2013-03-14 One of the persistent challenges confronting societies is how to reduce inequalities in the educational and occupational attainment of students from different socio economic ethnic and race group backgrounds This book represents a major advance in examining such educational problems From an analysis of international investigations of family and school influences a context theory of students school outcomes is developed This work brings together wonderful summaries of research and ads new insights from the author's own investigations. One of its substantial attributes is that it integrates qualitative and quantitative research orientations and methodologies which is a major step forward in educational and social science research. A set of family and school measures is included that might be used by researchers and students as they examine the context theory and by educators involved in school reform programs. This book will have a great appeal not only for students and researchers in educational fields but also for scholars in many other social science disciplines.

Working with Children and Families Robert Adams, 2011-10-25. Across 30 chapters a team of experienced teachers and practitioners introduce the fundamental professional issues concerning children, young people and their families in the 21st century. Working with Children and Families explores the diverse contexts in which children develop and the policies and practices that directly affect them, essential knowledge for effective practice. Offering a multidisciplinary approach, this inclusive text gives a broad range of perspectives to support the study of children and childhood. Take a look inside to discover more about:

- Key policies and agendas introduces the policies, agendas and government guidance that serve as the foundation of children's services.
- Contemporary issues tackles complex topics such as anti-discriminatory and ethical practice, child protection and safeguarding.
- Reflective practice offers reflective activities throughout to help you engage, understand and apply knowledge in practice.
- Diversity helps you understand the variety of backgrounds and experiences children may have from sociological, psychological, educational and cultural perspectives.
- Integrative working focuses holistically on the child rather than on specific professional approaches, offering insight into important themes in all areas of work with children.

This text offers a broad basis from which to launch into any area of work or study involving children, including early years, social work, education, social policy, nursing, sociology and childhood studies. It is great introductory reading for foundation and undergraduate degree level students.
