and producer known for his dramas and Western adventures most notably Broken Arrow and 3 10 to Yuma. Despite the popularity of his films there has been little serious examination of Daves's work. Filmmaker Bertrand Tavernier has called Daves the most forgotten of American directors and to date no scholarly monograph has focused on his work. In The Films of Delmer Daves: Visions of Progress in Mid Twentieth Century America, author Douglas Horlock contends that the director's work warrants sustained scholarly attention. Examining all of Daves's films as well as his screenplays, scripts that were not filmed, and personal papers, Horlock argues that Daves was a serious, distinctive, and enlightened filmmaker whose work confronts the general conservatism of Hollywood in the mid twentieth century. Horlock considers Daves's films through the lenses of political and social values, race, and civil rights, and gender and sexuality. Ultimately, Horlock suggests that Daves's work, through its examination of bigotry and irrational fear, and depiction of institutional and personal morality and freedom, presents a consistent, innovative, and progressive vision of America.

The Encyclopedia of Best Films Jay Robert Nash, 2019-10-23. This all-inclusive A-Z encyclopedia by one of the world's foremost experts on cinema provides comprehensive annotations of the best films produced from 1914 on. The work offers more than 5,000 three to five star entries: three stars (good), four stars (excellent), five stars (masterpiece), and yes, author Jay Robert Nash has viewed every single one of them, as well as many more that did not make the cut. In addition to a précis, each film's entry also includes a listing of the cast, as well as the key principles involved in production, from the director to the hair stylist. Especially unique to this book is a rating system that helps parents determine whether or not a film is appropriate for their children. Unlike the industry rating system, which can be influenced by studio lobbying, Nash objectively evaluates each film and confers upon it one of four recommendations for viewing: recommended, acceptable, cautionary, and unacceptable. Backmatter includes a list of top films by genre (i.e. animated, drama, sports, mystery, adventure, etc.) as well as an annotated name index listing all persons mentioned along with their dates of birth and death. Rounding out this essential volume for the film buff are over 500 still photos from the author's private collection.

The 1931-1940: American Film Institute Catalog of Motion Pictures Produced in the United States American Film Institute, 1993. The entire field of film historians awaits the AFI volumes with eagerness. Eileen Bowser, Museum of Modern Art Film Department, comments on previous volumes: "The source of last resort for finding socially valuable films that received such scant attention that they seem lost until discovered in the AFI Catalog." Thomas Cripps: "Endlessly absorbing as an excursion into cultural history and national memory." Arthur Schlesinger Jr. Louis

L'Amour on Film and Television Ed Andreychuk, 2010-03-08. This reference work presents useful information for every known film and television episode drawn from a Louis L. Amour work. Chronologically arranged, entries include production information, cast credits, a synopsis, a description of the L. Amour source used, and the author's commentary. A brief biography of L. Amour, numerous photographs, and an extensive bibliography complement.
