Peters,2018-05-15 In The Written World Space Literature and the Chorological Imagination in Early Modern France Jeffrey N Peters argues that geographic space may be understood as a foundational originating principle of literary creation By way of an innovative reading of chora a concept developed by Plato in the Timaeus and often construed by philosophical tradition as space Peters shows that canonical literary works of the French seventeenth century are guided by what he calls a chorological approach to artistic invention The chorological imagination describes the poetic as a cosmological event that gives location to or more accurately in Plato s terms receives the world as an object of thought In analyses of well known authors such as Corneille Moli re Racine and Madame de Lafayette Peters demonstrates that the apparent absence of physical space in seventeenth century literary depiction indicates a subtle engagement with rather than a rejection of evolving principles of cosmological understanding Space is not absent in these works so much as transformed in keeping with contemporaneous developments in early modern natural philosophy The Written World will appeal to philosophers of literature and literary theorists as well as scholars of early modern Europe and historians of science and geography Painting a New World Donna Pierce,Rogelio Ruiz Gomar,Clara Bargellini,Frederick and Jan Mayer Center for Pre-Columbian and Spanish Colonial Art,2004-05-01 The little known story of viceregal Mexico is told by an international team of scholars whose work was previously available only

Figure of This World Mathew Abbott,2014-01-08 What if we've been wrong when reading Agamben Mathew Abbott argues that Agamben's thought is misunderstood when read in terms of critical theory or traditional political philosophy Instead he shows that it engages with political ontology studying the political stakes of the question of being Abbot demonstrates the crucial influence of Martin Heidegger on Agamben's work locating it in the post Heideggerian tradition of the critique of metaphysics As he clarifies it Abbott links Agamben's philosophy with Wittgenstein's picture theory and Heidegger's concept of the world picture showing the importance of this for understanding and potentially overcoming the forms of alienation characteristic of the society of the spectacle The Literary World,1848 This is Not Just a Painting Bernard Lahire,2019-04-15 In 2008 the Musée des Beaux Arts de Lyon acquired a painting called The Flight into Egypt which was attributed to the French artist Nicolas Poussin Thought to have been painted in 1657 the painting had gone missing for more than three centuries Several versions were rediscovered in the 1980s and one was passed from hand to hand from a family who had no idea of its value to gallery owners and eventually to the museum A painting that had been sold as a decorative object in 1986 for around 12 000 euros was acquired two decades later by the Musée des Beaux Arts de Lyon for 17 million euros What does this remarkable story tell us about the nature of art and the way that it is valued How is it that what seemed to be just an ordinary canvas could be transformed into a masterpiece that a decorative object could become a national treasure This is a story permeated by social magic the social alchemy that transforms lead into gold the ordinary into the extraordinary the profane into the sacred Focusing on this extraordinary case Bernard Lahire lays bare the beliefs and social processes that underpin the creation of a masterpiece Like a detective piecing together the clues in an unsolved mystery he carefully reconstructs the steps that led from the same material object being treated as a copy of insignificant value to being endowed with the status of a highly prized painting commanding a record breaking price He thereby shows that a painting is never just a painting and is always more than a piece of stretched canvass to which brush strokes of paint have been applied this object and the value we attach to it is also the product of a complex array of social processes with its distinctive institutions and experts that lies behind it And through the history of this painting Lahire uncovers some of the fundamental structures of our social world For the social magic that can transform a painting from a simple copy into a masterpiece is similar to the social magic that is present throughout our societies in economics and politics as much as art and religion a magic that results from the spell cast by power on those who tacitly recognize its authority By following the trail of a single work of art Lahire interrogates the foundations on which our perceptions of value and our belief in institutions rest and exposes the forms of domination which lie hidden behind our admiration of works of art
