Fuller, 2012 This volume examines the connection between socio economic class and bilingual practices a previously under researched area through looking at differences in bilingual settings that are classified as immigrant or elite and are thus linked to socio economic class categories Fuller chooses for this examination bilingual pre teen children in Germany and the U S in order to demonstrate how local identities are embedded in a wider social world and how ideologies and identities both produce and reproduce each other In so doing she argues that while pre teen children are clearly influenced by macro level ideologies they also have agency in how they choose to construct their identities with relation to hegemonic societal discourses and have many other motivations and identities aside from social class membership which shape their linguistic practices Bilingual Youth Kim Potowski, Jason Rothman, 2011-03-16 The present volume represents a variety of portraits of what happens when families attempt to raise children in Spanish while living in English speaking societies Aided by the foregrounding chapter by Suzanne Romaine about language and identity and the afterword by Carol Klee that ties together many issues brought up throughout the collection the reader gains a more complete understanding of the variables that contribute to Spanish bilingualism in English speaking societies and by extension a more complete understanding of the dynamic nature of bilingualism in general This volume the first of its kind brings together an impressive array of sociolinguistic environments while keeping the two languages constant We hope that it marks the beginning of comparative analyses of bilingualism acquisition outcomes and identity construction across environments that share the same languages but where important disparities exist in the sociolinguistic landscapes Educating Emergent Bilingual Youth in High School Jie Y. Bilingual Youth Shontia L. Lowe, 2022 District and school level leaders continue to experience ongoing challenges in the design and in the implementation of supports for immigrant youth that have recently arrived in the United States U S who speak little to no English and who are unfamiliar with the U S school system Umansky et al 2020 There has also been an increased demand placed on education systems by these youth with states and local education agencies struggling to address their needs Sugarman 2015 With the high rates of these recently arrived youth in the U S school systems are experiencing continued challenges in meeting these youth s needs Sugarman 2015 The challenge of meeting these youth s needs in our education systems and in our local education agencies is exacerbated as the youth get older Prior research has suggested that teen immigrants are worse performing when compared to earlier entering immigrants or when compared to those who were born in the U S Stiefel et al 2010 Consequently to mitigate the school district level challenges in the design and implementation of supports and to address the increased demand placed on education systems by these students for services that address their needs this study has given voice to this demographic so that school systems can better identify the needed supports and so they can streamline the process of service identification and service provision programmatically for this rapidly growing sect of the public school s high school population This is at the school and at the district levels and so that the states and local education agencies would not continue to struggle to address these recently arrived immigrants needs Sugarman 2015 As a result the purpose of this phenomenological research study was to explore the lived experiences of what the researcher terms Aspiring Bilingual Immigrant Youth ABIY in U S high schools given the difficulties these youth experience when immigrating in their high school years This study consisted of nine semi structured individual interviews and one focus group that consisted of four participants from the individual interviews to understand the perspective and essence of their lived experiences reflectively upon their entrance into U S high schools and overall Merriam Tisdell 2016 The research questions that informed this study included 1 How do study participants describe their academic and social experiences when they first entered U S public high schools 2 What academic and social support services did participants use in U S high schools 3 What academic and social support was meaningful for participants when they first entered U S high schools Through these questions the experiences of these youth were described to capture the essence of their experiences in U S high schools and their support service needs were explored With this research the purpose is to inform education policies programs and practices related to this demographic and to negate the dearth in research and resolutions that centers their voices in policy program and practice decision making processes Also this research s purpose was for their needs identification and subsequent support services provision components to emerge given this demographic s growth and increasing demand on our public high school education systems and local education agencies embodied mestiza consciousness while designing their schooling trajectories The second chapter focuses on the role of bilingualism in mestiza consciousness as youth leveraged a hybrid perspective to navigate the divergent values attributed to their bilingualism in school spaces The third chapter analyzes how youth organized resources from family school and community networks of support to enhance their schooling experiences access postsecondary opportunities and become designers of new social futures These findings illuminate bilingual youth s borderlands identity work understood as the way youth navigate their schooling trajectories to strategically position themselves for future success This research demonstrates the importance of bilingual youth s critical awareness to read situational power dynamics balance multiple roles and construct empowering personal narratives for specific audiences These strategies helped bilingual Latinx youth who are historically underrepresented at postsecondary institutions to prepare successful college applications manage family responsibilities meet academic expectations and maintain asset based views of bilingualism in the face of marginalizing discourses This research expands ideas of language proficiency to support responsive and sustaining pedagogies for diverse students highlighting the role of bilingualism in issues of equity and college access

Transformative Translanguaging
Espacio Garcia SANCHEZ, 2021-11-30 From High School to Post-Secondary Life--Exploring the College Transition Experiences of Bilingual Latinx Youth Lauren K. McCoy, 2023 The current neoliberal education system often positions bilingual youth as deficient or lacking in skills The discourse from some academic research paradigms tends to also take up this deficit orientation focusing on the issues and needs of Latinx bilingual students or the pedagogical strategies to close achievement gaps The NYC Department of Education has attempted to address gaps in achievement by offering increased access to college and career readiness programs positioning access as synonymous to equity However access alone does not lead to equity when the systems and norms that prioritize assimilation to the dominant white culture are not being challenged moreover increased access will not lead to equity if the voices and experiences of marginalized youth experiencing the transition to college are not amplified This project will add to the growing body of scholarly work that aims to subvert deficit discourse around bilingual students by inviting them to author their own stories about their experiences in the transition to college
