There are two types of free kick in a soccer game:

- A direct free kick is a kick where the player taking the free-kick can score a goal directly without any other player having to touch the ball first. Usually results from a contact foul or a handball.
- An indirect free kick is a free-kick where the player taking the kick cannot score directly from the kick. The ball must touch another player before a goal can be scored, most other types of foul apart from from a contact foul or a handball
- All free kicks are taken from the place where the offense occurred.
- The kicker must not touch the ball again until it has touched another player.

 - The opposing team of the player who last touched the ball is required to throw the ball back into play with their hands.
 - A goal cannot be scored directly from a throw-in.

- stand facing the field of play
 - have part of each foot on the touchline or on the ground outside the touchline
 - throw the ball with both hands from behind and over the head from the point where it left the field of play

16. THE GOAL KICK

- A goal kick is awarded when the whole of the ball passes over the goal line, on the ground or in the air, having last touched a player of the attacking team.
- After the ball is in play the kicker cannot touch the ball again before it has touched another player.
- The ball must be stationary and is kicked from any point within the goal area by a player of the defending team.
- The ball is in play when it is kicked and clearly moves.
