Social Class and the Division of Labour Anthony Giddens, Gavin MacKenzie, 1983-01-20 The problems of class analysis and the division of labour in industrial societies are of fundamental importance in the social sciences Designed as a testimonial volume for Ilya Neustadt Social Class and the Division of Labour provides a comprehensive discussion of the central issues of this debate All the essays in this volume attempt to integrate theoretical debate and empirical investigation some focus directly on the division of labour considering especially Marxist views of its relation to class domination while others are more concerned with the labour process as it currently exists in capitalist productions The volume as a whole demonstrates forcibly that class divisions and class conflict can only be properly understood in conjunction with an elaborated analysis of the division of labour The book represents a major contribution to class theory and analysis which will attract considerable attention amongst sociologists and economists and become a standard textbook for undergraduates in these subjects

Urban Inequality Owen Crankshaw,2022-01-27 Based on new evidence that challenges existing theories of urban inequality Crankshaw argues that the changing pattern of earnings and occupational inequality in Johannesburg is better described by the professionalism of employment alongside high levels of chronic unemployment Central to this examination is that the social polarisation hypothesis which is accepted by many is simply wrong in the case of Johannesburg Ultimately Crankshaw posits that the post Fordist post apartheid period is characterised by a completely new division of labour that has caused new forms of racial inequality That racial inequality in the post apartheid period is not the result of the persistence of apartheid era causes but is the result of new causes that have interacted with the historical effects of apartheid to produce new patterns of racial inequality
