Solidarity and Prosocial Behavior Detlev Fetchenhauer, Andreas Flache, Abraham Buunk, Sigwaart

Lindenberg, 2006-08-29 This book is the product of an intensive cooperation between psychologists and sociologists who study solidarity and prosocial behavior and its fruits are briefly summarized in Chapter 1 The topics of solidarity and prosocial behavior are at the core of both disciplines and thus one might expect that an intensive cooperation like the one that produced this book is not uncommon Surprisingly however it is extremely rare that sociologists and psychologists get together to combine their knowledge in these fields Instead researchers from both disciplines tend to ignore each other's work quite generally and the work on prosocial and antisocial behavior is no exception The conviction that sociology and psychology can benefit from each other's work led us a group of sociologists and psychologists at the University of Groningen The Netherlands in 1999 to launch a joint research project on solidarity and prosociality The aim was to find a common ground on which insights from each discipline could contribute to a broader understanding of solidarity and prosocial behavior This interdisciplinary research project was called Prosocial Dispositions and Solidary Behavior and it was financed by the University of Groningen as a so called breedtestrategie program i.e. a program for broadening disciplinary approaches

Agency, Motivation, and the Life Course

Lisa J. Crockett, 2002-01-01 In what ways do individuals influence the course of their lives How do people construct a unique life path within the opportunities and constraints afforded by their world This volume examines how agency in the life course can be conceptualized and investigates the specific ways in which personal characteristics and contextual variables play a role in shaping individual lives The contributors offer differing perspectives on agency how its expression changes over a lifetime and how it is constrained channeled or altered by cultural and social institutions Each chapter focuses on one aspect of individual agency that can have a cumulative influence on an individual's life Following an overview of the subject by Lisa J Crockett Jochen Brandtstädter and Klaus Rothermund provide a life span model of agency focused on intentional self development and goal accommodation Ellen Skinner and Kathleen Edge discuss the development of coping a potential underpinning of agency In a concluding essay Michael J Shanahan and Glen H Elder Jr examine agency within a life course framework showing that the impact of individual agency on people's lives depends on the opportunities and constraints present during a particular historical era
