light on this connection Mr George Howe Esquire 1791 1837 documented his tasks at a Bristolian owned plantation called New Hope which was owned by well known Bristol merchant slave trader and US senator James DeWolf 1764 1837 Howe expressed mixed personal feelings about local slavery work practices He felt lucky to be employed and was determined to do his job well in spite of the harsh conditions operating at New Hope but he also struggled with his personal feelings regarding slavery Though an oppressive system it was at the core of New Hope s financial success and therefore Howe s well being as an employee This book examines Howe s diary entries in the thematic context of the local Costumbrista literary production Costumbrismo both documented local customs and critically analyzed social ills In his letters to relatives and friends Howe depicted a more personal reaction to the underpinnings of slavery practices a reaction reflecting early abolitionist sentiments

The Merchant of Havana Stephen Silverstein,2021-04-30 LAJSA Book Award Winner 2017 Latin American Jewish Studies Association As Cuba industrialized in the nineteenth century an epochal realignment of the social order occurred In this period of change two seemingly disparate yet nevertheless intertwined ideological forces appeared anti Semitism and abolitionism As the antislavery movement became organized in Cuba the argument grew that Jews participated in the African slave trade and in New World slavery and that this participation gave Jews extraordinary influence in the new Cuban economy and culture What was remarkable about this anti Semitism was the decidedly small Jewish population on the island in this era This form of anti Semitism Silverstein reveals sprang almost exclusively from mythological beliefs California Grocers Advocate ,1912 Congressional Record United States. Congress,1897 The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress It is published daily when Congress is in session The Congressional Record began publication in 1873 Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789 1824 the Register of Debates in Congress 1824 1837 and the Congressional Globe 1833 1873 Mulata Nation Alison Fraunhar,2018-08-24 Repeatedly and powerfully throughout Cuban history the mulata a woman of mixed racial identity features prominently in Cuban visual and performative culture Tracing the figure Alison Fraunhar looks at the representation and performance in both elite and popular culture She also tracks how characteristics associated with these women have accrued across the Atlantic world Widely understood to embody the bridge between European subject and African other the mulata contains the sensuality attributed to Africans in a body more closely resembling the European ideal of beauty This symbol bears far reaching implications with shifting contradictory cultural meanings in Cuba Fraunhar explores these complex paradigms how why and for whom the image was useful and how it was both subverted and asserted from the colonial period to the present From the early seventeenth century through Cuban independence in 1899 up to the late revolutionary era Fraunhar illustrates the ambiguous figure s role in nationhood citizenship and commercialism She analyzes images including key examples of nineteenth century graphic arts avant garde painting and magazine covers of the Republican era cabaret and film performance and contemporary iterations of gender

Fraunhar's study stands out for attending to the phenomenon of mulataje not only in elite production such as painting but also in popular forms popular theater print culture later films and other media where stereotypes take hold Indeed in contemporary Cuba mulataje remains a popular theme with Cubans as well as foreigners in drag shows reflecting queerness in visual culture Uniting Blacks in a Raceless Nation Miguel Arnedo-Gómez, 2016-05-12 The Cuban writer Nicolás Guillén has traditionally been considered a poet of mestizaje a term that whilst denoting racial mixture also refers to a homogenizing nationalist discourse that proclaims the harmonious nature of Cuban identity Yet many aspects of Guillén's work enhance black Cuban and Afro-Cuban identities Miguel Arnedo-Gómez explores this paradox in Guillén's pre-Cuban Revolution writings placing them alongside contemporaneous intellectual discourses that feigned adherence to the homogenizing ideology whilst upholding black interests On the basis of links with these and other 1930s Cuban discourses Arnedo-Gómez shows Guillén's work to contain a message of black unity aimed at the black middle classes Furthermore against a tendency to seek a single authorial consciousness be it mulatto or based on a North American construction of blackness Guillén's prose and poetry are also characterized as a struggle for a viable identity in a socio-culturally heterogeneous society The Worlds of Langston Hughes Vera M. Kutzinski, 2012-09-18 The poet Langston Hughes was a tireless world traveler and a prolific translator editor and marketer Translations of his own writings traveled even more widely than he did earning him adulation throughout Europe Asia and especially the Americas In The Worlds of Langston Hughes Vera Kutzinski contends that for writers who are part of the African diaspora translation is more than just a literary practice it is a fact of life and a way of thinking Focusing on Hughes's autobiographies translations of his poetry his own translations and the political lyrics that brought him to the attention of the infamous McCarthy Committee she shows that translating and being translated and often mistranslated are as vital to Hughes's own poetics as they are to understanding the historical network of cultural relations known as literary modernism As Kutzinski maps the trajectory of Hughes's writings across Europe and the Americas we see the remarkable extent to which the translations of his poetry were in conversation with the work of other modernist writers Kutzinski spotlights cities whose role as meeting places for modernists from all over the world has yet to be fully explored Madrid Havana Buenos Aires Mexico City and of course Harlem The result is a fresh look at Hughes not as a solitary author who wrote in a single language but as an international figure at the heart of a global intellectual and artistic formation

Writing for Inclusion Karen Ruth Kornweibel, 2018-09-15 Writing for Inclusion is a study of some of the ways the idea of national identity developed in the nineteenth century in two neighboring nations Cuba and The United States The book examines symbolic narrative and sociological commonalities in the writings of four Afro-Cuban and African American writers Juan Francisco Manzano and Frederick Douglass fugitive slaves during mid-century and Martín Morúa Delgado and Charles W. Chesnutt from the post-slavery period All four share sensitivity to their imperfect inclusion as full citizens engage in an examination of the process of racialization that hinders them in seeking such inclusion and contest their definition as non citizens Works discussed include the slave narratives of Manzano and Douglass Manzano's poetry and play Zafira and Douglass's oratory and novella The Heroic Slave Also considered within the context provided by Manzano and Douglass are Mor a and Chesnutt's non fiction writings about race and nation as well as their second generation tragic mulata novels Sof a and The House Behind the Cedars Based on an examination of the works of these four authors Writing for Inclusion provides a detailed examination of examples of self emancipation the authors symbolic use of language their expression of social anxieties or irony within the quest for recognition and their arguments for an inclusive vision of national identity beyond the quagmires of race By focusing on the process of racialization and ideas of race and national identity in a comparative context the study seeks to highlight the artificial and contested nature of both terms and suggest new ways to interrogate them in our present day

Writing to Cuba Rodrigo Lazo, 2006-03-08 In the mid nineteenth century some of Cuba's most influential writers settled in U S cities and published a variety of newspapers pamphlets and books Collaborating with military movements known as filibusters this generation of exiled writers created a body of literature demanding Cuban independence from Spain and alliance with or annexation to the United States Drawing from rare materials archived in the United States and Havana Rodrigo Lazo offers new readings of works by writers such as Cirilo Villaverde Juan Clemente Zenea Pedro Santacilia and Miguel T Tolon Lazo argues that to understand these writers and their publications we must move beyond nation based models of literary study and consider their connections to both Cuba and the United States Anchored by the publication of Spanish and English language newspapers in the United States the transnational culture of writers Lazo calls los filibusteros went hand in hand with a long standing economic flow between the countries and was spurred on by the writers belief in the American promise of freedom and the hemispheric ambitions of the expansionist U S government Analyzing how U S politicians journalists and novelists debated the future of Cuba Lazo argues that the war of words carried out in Cuban U S print culture played a significant role in developing nineteenth century conceptions of territory colonialism and citizenship

Black Women as Custodians of History: Unsung Rebel (M)Others in African American and Afro-Cuban Women's Writing Paula Sanmartin, 2014-03-28 This book is an essential addition to the study of comparative black literature of the Americas it will also fill the gap that exists on theoretical studies exploring black women's writing from the Spanish Caribbean This book examines literary representations of the historic roots of black women's resistance in the United States and Cuba by studying the following texts by both African American and Afro Cuban women from four different literary genres autobiographical slave narrative contemporary novel on slavery testimonial narrative and poetry Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl 1861 by the African American former slave Harriet Jacobs Dessa Rose 1986 by the African American writer Sherley Ann Williams Reyita sencillamente testimonio de una negra cubana nonagenarian Simply Reyita Testimonial Narrative of a Nonagenarian Black Cuban Woman 1996 written transcribed by the Afro Cuban historian Daisy Rubiera Castillo from her interviews with her mother Mar a de los Reyes Castillo Bueno Reyita

and a selection of poems from the contemporary Afro Cuban poets Nancy Morejón and Georgina Herrera The study argues that the writers participate in black women's self inscription in the historical process by positioning themselves as subjects of their history and seizing discursive control of their histories Although the texts form part of separate discourses the book explores the commonalities of the rhetorical devices and narrative strategies employed by the authors as they disassemble racist and sexist stereotypes re constructing black female subjectivity through an image of active resistance against oppression one that authorizes unconventional definitions of womanhood and motherhood The book shows that in the women's revisions of national history their writings also demonstrate the pervasive role of racial and gender categories in the creation of a discourse of national identity while promoting a historiography constructed within flexible borders that need to be negotiated constantly The study's engagement in crosscultural exploration constitutes a step further in opening connections with a comparative literary study that is theoretically engaging in order to include Afro Cuban women writers and Afro Caribbean scholars into scholarly discussions in which African American women have already managed to participate with a series of critical texts The book explores connections between methods and perspectives derived from Western theories and from Caribbean and Black studies while recognizing the black women authors studied as critics and scholars In this sense the book includes some of the writers own commentaries about their work taken from interviews many of them conducted by the author Paula Sanmartín herself as well as critical essays and letters Black Women as Custodians of History adds a new dimension to the body of existing criticism by challenging the ways assumptions have shaped how literature is read by black women writers Paula Sanmartín's study is a vivid demonstration of the strengths of embarking on multidisciplinary study This book will be useful to several disciplines and areas of study such as African diaspora studies African American studies Afro Latin American and Afro Caribbean studies women's studies genre studies and slavery studies

The Other America J. Michael Dash, 1998 A wide ranging work that explores two centuries of Caribbean literature from a comparative perspective While haunted by the need to establish cultural difference and authenticity Caribbean thought is inherently modernist in its recognition of the interplay between cultures brought about by centuries of contact domination and consent

Looking Within Nancy Morejón, 2003 The African Cuban poet Nancy Morejón set out at a young age to explore the beauty and complexities of the life around and within her Themes of social and political concern loyalty friendship and family African identity women's experiences and hope for Cuba's future all found their way into her poems through bold metaphor and tender lyricism This panoramic anthology selected from ten volumes of Morejón's work and organized by theme contains some poems that have already been acclaimed in several languages others that are less known and some never before published Overall they present to Morejón's readership an enhanced broader and updated spectrum of her poetry in a Spanish English edition Although Morejón does not sympathize as much with intellectualized feminism as with street feminism the kind that erupts with force as it confronts daily life her poems illuminate issues in women's existence

Without intending to she has revitalized contemporary Caribbean feminist literary discourse One can find in her work the tensions between colonizer and colonized dominator and dominated and at the same time enjoy the sheer beauty of images depicting suffering strength and hope
