The Sulima Pagoda Erich Theophile, Niels Gutschow, 2003 Eight specialists present their views on the different and often controversial approaches to the conservation of historical buildings in the Kathmandu Valley concentrating on the Sulima Temple in the Durbar Square of Patan possibly the oldest intact multi tier pagoda in the Valley Eight specialists present their views on the different and often controversial approaches to the conservation of historical buildings in the Kathmandu Valley in the 29 years since foreign participation began concentrating on the Sulima Temple in the Durbar Square of Patan possibly Decolonizing Conservation Dean Sully, 2016-09-16 This book argues for an important shift in cultural heritage conservation away from a focus on maintaining the physical fabric of material culture toward the impact that conservation work has on people's lives In doing so it challenges the commodification of sacred objects and places by western conservation thought and attempts to decolonize conservation practice To do so the authors examine conservation activities at Maori marae meeting houses located in the US Germany and England and contrasts them with changes in marae conservation in New Zealand A key case study is the Hinemihi meeting house transported to England in the 1890s where it was treated as a curiosity by visitors to Clandon Park for over a century and more recently as a focal point of cultural activity for UK Maori communities Recent efforts to include various Maori stakeholder communities in the care of this sacred structure is a key example of community based conservation that can be replicated in heritage practice around the world

Post-trauma and the Recovery Governance of Cultural Heritage Toshiyuki Kono, Junko Okahashi, 2022-12-02 This book successfully represents the indispensable interdisciplinarity of viewpoints by its authors combining legal perspectives with architectural and anthropological approaches With the observation and analysis presented here this book is the first to demonstrate research based governance solutions for cultural heritage within the process of recovering from traumatic events Its opening statement is that universal international standards are not effective enough for the specific situations of disaster struck places A major objective of this monograph is to allow its readers to go through a learning experience from plural cases where reconstruction of cultural heritage became central to rebuilding a post disaster society This book introduces Japan as the most disaster prone country with a long history of confronting and overcoming the power of nature resulting in its unique solutions for cultural heritage resilience and sustainability But how do leadership and decision making become efficient in times of recovery Bearing in mind what may be lacking in Japanese practices this work also presents comparable governance models from other countries which indicate alternative solutions While a traumatic event may occur within one night the process of recovery could last for decades Such disasters also tend to recur In order that directly affected communities can sustain resilience throughout the long recovery period and that equally severe social trauma will not be repeated a continuous well maintained governance response is required whether grounded in local knowledge or national policy frameworks At the heart of this book is the matter of the reconstruction process involving networks of small and large communities Each of those has a role that becomes operational through linkages of contacts the interchange of knowledge and skills and above all through the sharing of common goals

Kathmandu Thomas Bell, 2016-04-15 One of the greatest cities of the Himalaya Kathmandu Nepal is a unique blend of thousand year old cultural practices and accelerated urban development In this book Thomas Bell recounts his experiences from his many years in the city exploring in the process the rich history of Kathmandu and its many instances of self reinvention Closed to the outside world until 1951 and trapped in a medieval time warp Kathmandu is as Bell argues a jewel of the art world a carnival of sexual license a hotbed of communist revolution a paradigm of failed democracy a case study in bungled western intervention and an environmental catastrophe The layered development of the city can be seen in the successive generations of its gods and goddesses its comfort in the caste system and ethos of aristocracy and kingship and the recent destabilizing effects of consumerist approaches and the push for egalitarianism and democracy In important ways Kathmandu s rapid modernization can be seen as an extreme version of what is happening in other traditional societies Bell also discusses the ramifications of the recent Nepal earthquake A comprehensive look at a top global destination Kathmandu is an entertaining and accessible chronicle for anyone eager to learn more about this fascinating city Museum Practice Conal McCarthy,2020-11-19 MUSEUM PRACTICE Edited by CONAL MCCARTHY Museum Practice covers the professional work carried out in museums and art galleries of all types including the core functions of management collections exhibitions and programs Some forms of museum practice are familiar to visitors yet within these diverse and complex institutions many practices are hidden from view such as creating marketing campaigns curating and designing exhibitions developing fundraising and sponsorship plans crafting mission statements handling repatriation claims dealing with digital media and more Focused on what actually occurs in everyday museum work this volume offers contributions from experienced professionals and academics that cover a wide range of subjects including policy frameworks ethical guidelines approaches to conservation collection care and management exhibition development and public programs From internal processes such as leadership governance and strategic planning to public facing roles in interpretation visitor research and community engagement and learning each essential component of contemporary museum practice is thoroughly discussed Authenticity in Architectural Heritage Conservation

Katharina Weiler,Niels Gutschow,2016-07-01 The book contributes to a recontextualization of authenticity by investigating how this value is created reenacted and assigned Over the course of the last century authenticity figured as the major parameter for the evaluation of cultural heritage It was adopted in local and international charters and guidelines on architectural conservation in Europe South and East Asia Throughout this period the concept of authenticity was constantly redefined and transformed to suit new cultural contexts and local concerns This volume presents colonial and postcolonial discourses opinions and experiences in the field of architectural heritage conservation and the use of site specific practices based on representative case studies presented by art historians architects anthropologists and conservationists from Germany Nepal India China and Japan With more than 180 illustrations and a collection of terminologies in German English Sanskrit Hindi Nepali and Nepali classical Chinese and standard Mandarin and Japanese these cross cultural investigations document the processual re configuration of the notion of authenticity They also show that approaches to authenticity can be specified with key analytical categories from transcultural studies appropriation transformation and in some cases refusal
