Summer Fruit Richard Sheffield, 1994 even as he singles out some of us Amos is talking to all of us whose stomachs are full whose bank accounts are full whose calendars are full but whose lives are often empty They look full says Amos but they are like a basket of summer fruit from the Proper 11 sermon Richard L Sheffield writes that the prophets regularly call us like the people of Israel to account for our assumption that what is is what should be They hold up in front of us what will be when God's will is done The prophets are usually read and often misread as those who foresee the future those who tell it like it will be They are really those who clearly discern how it is which is how it will be if things don't change The ten sermons in the book are based on First Lesson texts Many of the texts are from Jeremiah The sermons follow the Revised Common Lectionary Richard L Sheffield is senior pastor of Market Street Presbyterian Church Lima Ohio He holds a master of divinity degree from Princeton Theological Seminary and an M B A from the University of Chicago

What If What They Say Is True? John W. Wurster, 2000 Since much of the prophetic literature of the Old Testament is distant and difficult preachers often neglect it in favor of more direct and easy to preach New Testament passages But John Wurster maintains that for those willing to look a little more closely these texts from the Revised Common Lectionary offer interesting and rich homiletical possibilities His sermons listen to those ancient preachers and produce a fresh harvest of meaning for our time They are full of penetrating insights that will be useful for sermon preparation or for study groups working on these often overlooked texts These thoughtful sermons on the great prophetic texts bring the message of the prophets home to our own time John Wurster is faithful to the biblical word unflinching in his critique of our culture and unceasing in his proclamation of the true word of hope Thomas G Long F L Patton Professor of Preaching and Worship Princeton Theological Seminary John Wurster's sermons give new and surprisingly fresh life to the ancient and sometimes jagged words of the Old Testament prophets Wurster is true to the biblical texts and to the lived realities of everyday life These are well honed sermons about large issues life and death God and grace conflicts and questions love and faithfulness heaven and earth Read them meditate on them and let God touch your soul Dennis T Olson Associate Professor of Old Testament Princeton Theological Seminary John W Wurster is a graduate of Trinity University in San Antonio Texas summa cum laude and Princeton Theological Seminary Currently the associate pastor of Market Street Presbyterian Church in Lima Ohio Wurster is also a D Min candidate at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary He has previously served congregations in Texas New Jersey and Pennsylvania
