Professor Christopher N. Candlin,2014-09-19 Language and Development Teachers in a Changing World comprises twenty one case accounts contributed by language education professionals working in the context of international development Frank and stimulating the contributions explore the implementation of interactive educational approaches in ten Asian countries The accounts draw on real life experiences from countries which collectively have been under represented in the literature to date Cambodia China India Indonesia Laos Malaysia Papua New Guinea the Philippines Singapore and Vietnam

The issues discussed will be familiar to those working in similar situations throughout the world as many questions are raised and answered in the lively depictions of classroom practice project management and funding relationships The editors introductory and concluding sections provide a descriptive conceptual framework for the practice based accounts while allowing the reader the freedom to interpret the meanings and the theoretical implications of each account for themselves

There Heather Rounds,2013-10-29 There follows a young American journalist working in the capital city of the northern Kurdish region of Iraq a land verging on economic boom but never far from a violent past A cross genre work that most closely resembles a novel the story is at once driven and diverted by the young reporter s struggles to negotiate her own uncertainties in a strange land observing participating and retreating daily from the people and events surrounding her Assigned reports that the newspaper bosses deem fit for an inexperienced female foreigner she ultimately turns to writing her own story relayed with careful attention to the intricacies of language rhythm acoustics and repetition What she discovers is that her own in betweenness is only amplified in this foreign place that the tension between ancient customs and contemporary conflicts somehow provides a familiar backdrop for her own attempts to relate to the people back home who confused by her choice to travel to a dangerous place ask why go there
