Imagining Our Neighbors as Ourselves Mary W. McCampbell,2022-04-19 Anyone reading comments in online spaces is often confronted with a collective cultural loss of empathy This profound loss is directly related to the inability to imagine the life and circumstances of the other Our malnourished capacity for empathy is connected to an equally malnourished imagination In order to truly love and welcome others we need to exercise our imaginations to see our neighbors more as God sees them than as confined by our own inadequate and ungracious labels We need stories that can convict us about our own sins of omission or commission enabling us to see the beautiful complex world of our neighbors as we look beyond ourselves In this book Mary McCampbell looks at how narrative art whether literature film television or popular music expands our imaginations and in so doing emboldens our ability to love our neighbors as ourselves The prophetic artists in these pages Graham Greene Toni Morrison and Flannery O Connor among them show through the form and content of their narrative craft that in order to love we must be able to effectively imagine the lives of others But even though we have these rich opportunities to grow emotionally and spiritually we have been culturally trained as consumers to treat our practice of reading watching and listening as mere acts of consumption McCampbell instead insists that truly engaging with artists who have the prophetic capacity to create art that wakes us up can jolt us from our typically self concerned spiritual stupors She focuses on narrative art as a means of embodiment and an invitation to participation hospitality and empathy Reading seeing or listening to the story of someone seemingly different from us can awaken us to the very real spiritual similarities between human beings The intentionality that it takes to surrender a bit of our own default self centeredness is an act of spiritual formation Imagining Our Neighbors as Ourselves presents a journey through initial self reflection to a richer more compassionate look outward as narrative empowers us to exercise our imaginations for the sake of expanding our capacity for empathy Writing for the Screen

Anna Weinstein, 2017-02-17 Writing for the Screen is a collection of essays and interviews exploring the business of screenwriting This highly accessible guide to working in film and television includes perspectives from industry insiders on topics such as breaking in pitching developing and nurturing business relationships juggling multiple projects and more Writing for the Screen is an ideal companion to screenwriting and filmmaking classes demystifying the industry and the role of the screenwriter with real world narratives and little known truths about the business With insight from working professionals you ll be armed with the information you need to pursue your career as a screenwriter Contains essays by and interviews with screenwriting consultants television writers feature writers writer directors of independent film producers and professors Offers expert opinions on how to get started including preparing your elevator pitch finding mentors landing an internship and moving from an internship to the next step in your career Reveals details about taking meetings what development executives are looking for in a screenwriter how and when to approach a producer and how to pitch Explores strategies for doing creative work under pressure finding your voice choosing what to write sticking with a project over the long haul overcoming discrimination and reinventing yourself as a writer Illuminates the business of screenwriting in the United States New York and Los Angeles as compared to other countries around the globe including England Ireland Peru France Australia and Belgium Geology Along the Southern Margin of the Absaroka Range, Wyoming John David Love, 1939
