Women and Employment in Public Policy Susan Milner, 2024-07-20 In the UK women's economic empowerment through employment is a success story of the last three decades. And yet women are over-represented in low-paid insecure jobs, are under-represented in top jobs and earn less than men on average with a marked income gap over the lifecycle. When Labour took office in 1997 a new wave of women MPs entered parliament in record numbers and women gained access to ministerial roles including a newly created minister for women. However policy on women and employment remained an area of conflict. New rights were secured particularly for mothers but when Labour left office a sizeable policy agenda remained unfinished. Using documentary evidence and interviews from leading policy actors from the period Women and Employment in Public Policy takes as its starting point the Women and Work Commission which was convened in 2004 to examine causes of the gender pay gap. The commission was unable to defuse conflicts over equal pay but it set out an agenda for change at the level of government, private sector work organizations and public sector organizations. Milner examines why the commission could not resolve key conflicts and why its broad-based recommendations were only partially taken up. She traces the subsequent development of policy observing well-established preferences for light touch regulation which can raise awareness but leave entrenched practices unchallenged and weaken individual women's access to redress. Detailed study of the working of the commission provides lessons on the policy process particularly for those seeking to influence policy. It also shows that within the wider policy space opportunities for action to effect change are possible based on appeals to instrumental logic or political exchange but are constrained by party leadership.

European Higher Education Area: The Impact of Past and Future Policies Adrian Curaj, Ligia Deca, Remus Pricopie, 2018-07-03 This volume presents the major outcomes of the third edition of the Future of Higher Education Bologna Process Researchers Conference FOHE BPRC 3 which was held on 27-29 November 2017. It acknowledges the importance of a continued dialogue between researchers and decision makers and benefits from the experience already acquired this way enabling the higher education community to bring its input into the 2018-2020 European Higher Education Area EHEA priorities. The Future of Higher Education Bologna Process Researchers Conference FOHE BPRC has already established itself as a landmark in the European higher education environment. The two previous editions 17-19 October 2011 24-26 November 2014 with approximately 200 European and international participants each covering more than 50 countries each were organized prior to the Ministerial Conferences thus encouraging a consistent dialogue between researchers and policy makers. The main conclusions of the FOHE Conferences were presented at the EHEA Ministerial Conferences 2012 and 2015 in order to make the voice of researchers better heard by European policy and decision makers. This volume is dedicated to continuing the collection of evidence and research-based policymaking and further narrowing the gap between policy and research within the EHEA and broader global contexts. It aims to identify the research areas that require more attention prior to the anniversary 2020 EHEA Ministerial Conference with an emphasis on the new issues on rise in the academic and educational community This book gives a platform for discussion on key issues between researchers various direct higher education actors decision makers and the wider public This book is published under an open access CC BY license The Last Oil Shock David Strahan,2011-08-04 This may be the most important book you or anyone else will read in the next fifty years Assuming humanity survives that long Draining the lifeblood of industrial civilization the terminal decline of oil and gas production will spark a crisis far more dangerous than international terrorism and more urgent than climate change World leaders know it so why aren t they telling The last oil shock is the secret behind the crises in Iraq and Iran the reason your gas bill is going through the roof the basis of a secret deal cooked up in Texas between George Bush and Tony Blair the cause of an imminent and unprecedented economic collapse and the reason you may soon be kissing your car keys and boarding pass goodbye David Strahan explains how we reached this critical state how the silence of governments oil companies and environmentalists conspires to keep the public in the dark what it means for energy policy and what you can do to protect yourself and your family from the ravages of the last oil shock Shakespeare and the Middle Ages Martha W. ,2005 Who's who of Southern Africa ,2005 Vols for 1967 70 include as a section Who's who of Rhodesia Mauritius Central and East Africa Obstructive Marketing Maitland Hyslop,2016-05-23 In Obstructive Marketing Maitland Hyslop deals with a very negative kind of activity which embraces activities legal or otherwise designed to prevent or restrict the distribution of a product or service temporarily or permanently against the wishes of the product manufacturer service provider or customer When the author defined this phenomenon as Obstructive Marketing and started to research it more than a decade ago it was seen as a valid concept that was perhaps ahead of its time The World has moved on and in the era of globalization a study of this negative aspect of marketing is now required Obstructive Marketing is now seen as the business equivalent of asymmetric warfare which is increasingly understood because the rise of the South and East at the expense of the North and West has brought some Obstructive Marketing stratagems into sharp focus Using the author's own research this book explains what Obstructive Marketing is and why it is not called Anti Marketing The author explains who practises Obstructive Marketing where when and how and why businesses are particularly vulnerable when entering new markets and engaging in change and innovation Intriguing concepts such as cultural risk are illuminated along with formal links between Obstructive Marketing asymmetric warfare and terrorism This all leads to identification of the need for a strong Government Business partnership to counter the effects of this darkest kind of marketing The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education Richard M.S. Wilson,2014-04-29 Many enquiries into the state of accounting education training undertaken in several countries over the past 40 years have warned that it must change if it is to be made more relevant to students to the accounting profession and to stakeholders in the wider community This book's overriding aim is to provide a comprehensive and authoritative source of reference which defines the domain of accounting education training and which provides a critical overview of the state of this domain including emerging and cutting edge issues as a foundation for facilitating improved accounting education training scholarship and research in order to enhance the educational base of accounting practice The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education highlights the key drivers of change whether in the field of practice on the one hand e g increased regulation globalisation risk and complexity or from developments in the academy on the other e g pressures to embed technology within the classroom or to meet accreditation criteria on the other Thirty chapters written by leading scholars from around the world are grouped into seven themed sections which focus on different facets of their respective themes including student curriculum pedagogic and assessment considerations
