Sehlinger,2004-05-07 As this biography shows Preston was Kentucky s last cavalier the beau ideal of the Old South a dashing defender of the old aristocracy both in the political realm and on the battlefield His is a multidimensional story of power and privilege family connections and gender roles public service and proslavery politics As Kentucky state historian James C Klotter declares in the foreword Preston s life reveals much about his entire generation and his world BOOK JACKET      Short of the Glory Tracy Campbell,2004-10-01 Arthur Schlesinger Jr thought that he might one day become president He was a protege of Felix Frankfurter and Fred Vinson a political prodigy who held a series of important posts in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations Whatever became of Edward F Prichard Jr so young and brilliant and seemingly destined for glory Prichard was a complex man and his story is tragically ironic The boy from Bourbon County Kentucky graduated at the top of his Princeton class and cut a wide swath at Harvard Law School He went on to clerk in the U S Supreme Court and become an important figure in Roosevelt s Brain Trust Yet Prichard known for his dazzling wit and photographic memory fell victim to the hubris that had helped to make him great In 1948 he was indicted for stuffing 254 votes in a U S Senate race J Edgar Hoover never a fan of the young genius made sure he was prosecuted and so many of the members of the Supreme Court were Prichard s friends that not enough justices were left to hear his appeal So the man Roosevelt s advisors had called the boy wonder of the New Deal went to jail Prichard's meteoric rise and fall is essentially a Greek tragedy set on the stage of American politics Pardoned by President Truman Prichard spent the next twenty five years working his way out of political exile Gradually he became a trusted advisor to governors and legislators though without recognition or compensation Finally in the 1970s and 1980s Prichard emerged as his home state's most persuasive and eloquent voice for education reform finally regaining the respect he had thrown away in his arrogant youth

Kentucky Justice, Southern Honor, and American Manhood James C. Klotter, 2006-03-21 When attorney John Jay Cornelison severely beat Kentucky Superior Court judge Richard Reid in public on April 16 1884 for allegedly injuring his honor the event became front page news Would Reid react as a Christian gentleman a man of the law and let the legal system take its course or would he follow the manly dictates of the code of honor and challenge his assailant James C Klotter crafts a detective story using historical medical legal and psychological clues to piece together answers to the tragedy that followed This book is a gem Klotter's astute organization and gripping narrative add to the book's appeal He has written a fascinating book that will be of interest to a wide audience American Historical Review A moving story well told it does force the reader to reflect on our own era and consider whether we value leaders who respect the rule of law or those who believe that honor demands swift and bloody vengeance no matter the costs Ohio Valley History A rich and compelling work that offers fresh insights into the tense interplay among religion law and honor in the American South Register of the Kentucky Historical Society

Cora Wilson Stewart and Kentucky's Moonlight Schools Yvonne Honeycutt Baldwin, 2006-03-03 The first woman elected superintendent of schools in Rowan County Kentucky Cora Wilson Stewart 1875 1958 realized that a major key to overcoming the illiteracy that plagued her community was to educate adult illiterates To combat this problem Stewart opened up her schools to adults during moonlit evenings in the winter of 1911 The result was the creation of the Moonlight Schools a grassroots movement dedicated to eliminating illiteracy in one generation Following Stewart's lead educators across the nation began to develop similar literacy programs within a few years Moonlight Schools had emerged in Minnesota South Carolina and other states Cora Wilson Stewart and Kentucky's Moonlight Schools examines these institutions and analyzes Stewart's role in shaping education at the state and national levels To improve their literacy Moonlight students learned first to write their names and then advanced to practical lessons about everyday life Stewart wrote reading primers for classroom use designing them for rural people soldiers Native Americans prisoners and mothers Each set of readers focused on the knowledge that individuals in the target group needed to acquire to be better citizens within their community The reading lessons also emphasized the importance of patriotism civic responsibility Christian morality health and social progress Yvonne Honeycutt Baldwin explores the elusive line between myth and reality that existed in the rhetoric Stewart employed in order to accomplish her crusade As did many educators engaged in benevolent work during the Progressive Era Stewart sometimes romanticized the plight of her pupils and overstated her successes As she traveled to lecture about the program in other states interested in addressing the problem of illiteracy she often reported that the Moonlight Schools took one mountain community in Kentucky from moonshine and bullets to lemonade and Bibles All rhetoric aside the inclusive Moonlight Schools ultimately taught thousands of Americans in many under served communities across the nation how to read and write Despite the many successes of her programs when Stewart retired in 1932 the crusade against adult illiteracy had yet to be won Cora Wilson Stewart presents the story of a true pioneer in adult literacy and an outspoken advocate of women s political and professional participation and leadership Her methods continue to influence literacy programs and adult education policy and practice A Mere Kentucky of a Place Keith Harper,2023-08-18 As the story goes an itinerant preacher once visited the Bluegrass region and proclaimed heaven to be a mere Kentucky of a place The Commonwealth s first Baptists certainly thought so as they began settling the region a decade before statehood By 1785 a group of pioneering preachers formed the Elkhorn Association widely regarded as the oldest Baptist association west of the Alleghenies Often portrayed in the historiography as the vanguard of a new frontier democracy the Elkhorn Association on closer inspection reveals itself to be far more complex In A Mere Kentucky of a Place Keith Harper argues that the association s Baptist ministers were neither full fledged frontier egalitarians nor radical religionists but simply a people in transition These ministers formed their identities in the crucible of the early national period challenged by competing impulses including their religious convictions Jeffersonian Republicanism and a rigid honor code with mixed results With a keen eye for human interest Harper brings familiar historical figures such as John Gano and Elijah Craig to life as he analyzes leadership in the Elkhorn Association during the early republic Mining the wealth of documents left by the association Harper details the self aware struggle of these leaders to achieve economic wealth status and full social and cultural acceptance demonstrating that the Elkhorn Association holds a unique place in the story of Baptists in the New Eden of Kentucky Ideal for course adoption in religious studies and students of Kentucky history this readable work is sure to become a standard source on the history of religion on the Kentucky frontier Our Rightful Place Terry L. Birdwhistell,Deirdre A. Scaggs,2020-07-21 In 1880 forty three women walked into the president s office at the University of Kentucky UK and signed the student register becoming the first female students at a public college in the commonwealth But gaining admittance was only the beginning For the next sixty five years encompassing two world wars an economic depression and the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment generations of women at UK claimed and reclaimed their right to an equitable university experience Their work remains unfinished Drawing on yearbooks photographs and other private collections Our Rightful Place A History of Women at the University of Kentucky 1880 1945 examines the struggle for gender equity in higher education through the lens of one major institution In the face of shifting resistance pioneering women constructed opportunities for themselves Terry L Birdwhistell and Deirdre A Scaggs highlight three women Sarah Blanding Frances Jewell McVey and Sarah Bennett Holmes who fought for access to basic facilities that were denied to UK women for decades including housing and study spaces By examining the trials and triumphs of UK s first female
