The Building Of Castle Howard:

The Building of Castle Howard Charles Saumarez Smith, 1990-03-27 This book is the first complete study of the circumstances which led to the building of Castle Howard one of the greatest and best known English country houses It describes how and why Charles Howard third earl of Carlisle decided to build it how the architect Sir John Vanbrugh received his first commission how the building was paid for and where the money came from what the original interiors looked like how the gardens and park were laid out and the decision taken to build the first classical mausoleum in England designed by Nicholas Hawksmoor It relates the physical appearance of the architecture to the hopes desires and personalities of those involved in the building and makes it possible to look at the house in the way that it was intended to be seen by visitors in the eighteenth century The Building of Castle Howard should appeal to anyone who is interested in eighteenth century architecture in the history of gardens in country houses and in a historical detective story of a house which Sir John Vanbrugh was determined should be the top seat and garden of England The Building of Britain and the Empire Henry Duff Traill, James Saumarez Mann, 1909 English Homes: Period IV, v. 2: The work of Sir John Vanbrugh and his school, 1699-1736. 1928 Henry Avray Tipping, 1928 Chambers's Encyclopaedia, 1891 House & Garden, 1907 Novel Images Peter Reynolds, 2013-07-18 Written specifically with the student in mind and focusing on a number of well known texts including Les Liaisons Dangereuses Nicholas Nickleby Nice Work and The Color Purple the contributions in this book demonstrate how we can look critically at literary adaptations and learn to distinguish between mythical images and the reality of the process that constructed them They argue that adaptations should not be seen as secondary or marginal because through them we can enter into an exciting debate with the literary text itself Originally published in 1993 Chambers's Encyclopedia, 1874 History and Topography of the City of York and the North Riding of Yorkshire, Etc T. WHELLAN, 1859 Britain in the Hanoverian Age, 1714-1837 Gerald Newman, Leslie Ellen Brown, 1997 In 1714 king George I ushered in a remarkable 123 year period of energy that changed the face of Britain and ultimately had a profound effect on the modern era The pioneers of modern capitalism industry democracy literature and even architecture flourished during this time and their innovations and influence spread throughout the British empire including the United States Now this rich cultural period in Britain is effectively surveyed and summarized for quick reference in a first of its kind encyclopedia which contains entries by British Canadian American and Australian scholars specializing in everything from finance and the fine arts to politics and patent law More than 380 illustrations mostly rare engravings enhance the coverage which runs the whole gamut of political economic literary intellectual artistic commercial and social life and spotlights some 600 prominent individuals and families Chambers's Encyclopaedia Robert Chambers, 1879 History and topography of the city of York; and the North riding of Yorkshire Whellan T. and co, 1859 Chambers's Encyclopaedia. John Dixon Hunt,1992 A collection of Hunt s essays many previously unpublished dealing with the ways in which men and women have given meaning to gardens and landscapes especially with the ways in which gardens have represented the world of nature picturesquely      The Architect and Building News ,1929      American Architect ,1908      Slavery and the Culture of Taste Simon Gikandi,2014-04-27 It would be easy to assume that in the eighteenth century slavery and the culture of taste the world of politeness manners and aesthetics existed as separate and unequal domains unrelated in the spheres of social life But to the contrary Slavery and the Culture of Taste demonstrates that these two areas of modernity were surprisingly entwined Ranging across Britain the antebellum South and the West Indies and examining vast archives including portraits period paintings personal narratives and diaries Simon Gikandi illustrates how the violence and ugliness of enslavement actually shaped theories of taste notions of beauty and practices of high culture and how slavery s impurity informed and haunted the rarified customs of the time Gikandi focuses on the ways that the enslavement of Africans and the profits derived from this exploitation enabled the moment of taste in European mainly British life leading to a transformation of bourgeois ideas regarding freedom and selfhood He explores how these connections played out in the immense fortunes made in the West Indies sugar colonies supporting the lavish lives of English barons and altering the ideals that defined middle class subjects Discussing how the ownership of slaves turned the American planter class into a new aristocracy Gikandi engages with the slaves own response to the strange interplay of modern notions of freedom and the realities of bondage and he emphasizes the aesthetic and cultural processes developed by slaves to create spaces of freedom outside the regimen of enforced labor and truncated leisure Through a close look at the eighteenth century s many remarkable documents and artworks Slavery and the Culture of Taste sets forth the tensions and contradictions entangling a brutal practice and the distinctions of civility      Decorative Plasterwork in Great Britain Geoffrey Beard,Jeff Orton,Richard

Ireland,2015-10-06 Decorative plasterwork was created by skilled craftsmen and for over four hundred years it has been an essential part of the interior decoration of the British country house In this detailed and comprehensive study Geoffrey Beard has created a book that will delight the eye and inform the interested reader For those who have sometimes been puzzled by the complexities of plaster decoration it will be a most useful work of reference on a fascinating art form about which no book has been published for nearly fifty years After discussing the part that patrons played in commissioning and financing these beautiful decorations a useful chapter is devoted to materials and methods of work and here the author describes the ingredients of good plaster he has studied the work of present day English plasterers and Swiss stucco restorers in order to establish precisely how the materials of plaster and stucco were composed and used      North York Moors & Yorkshire
