The Caribbeans Making Of America:

Caribbean Development in the New Multipolar World Order Dennis C. Canterbury, 2021-08-26 This book addresses the subject of critical development alternatives for the Caribbean Community CARICOM states in a post neoliberal new multipolar world order based on competition and co operation by the United States the European Union China and Russia for natural resources and markets Neoliberal globalization has traditionally restricted economic and political activities in the Caribbean region to Western style free market capitalism and liberal democracy However through an exploration of the new multipolar world order which replaces the US led unipolar global order that existed since the collapse of the former Soviet Union the author argues that today the Caribbean Community states now have real economic and political options for development alternatives Through examining how countries such as China and Russia have risen to economic success in recent years the book seeks to explore how the Caribbean Community states might adopt such features which would allow them to formulate another development such as introducing measures which can bring about a reconciliation between resource use and endowment and reduce inequalities As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology and development studies with interests in the Caribbean region and world order

African Diaspora in the Cultures of Latin America, the Caribbean, and the United States Persephone Braham, 2014-12-05 Scholars of the African Americas are sometimes segregated from one another by region or period by language or by discipline Bringing together essays on fashion the visual arts film literature and history this volume shows how our understanding of the African diaspora in the Americas can be enriched by crossing disciplinary boundaries to recontextualize images words and thoughts as part of a much greater whole Diaspora describes dispersion but also the seeding sowing or scattering of spores that take root and grow maturing and adapting within new environments The examples of diasporic cultural production explored in this volume reflect on loss and dispersal but they also constitute expansive and dynamic intellectual and artistic production neither wholly African nor wholly American in the hemispheric sense whose resonance deeply inflects all of the Americas African Diaspora in the Cultures of Latin America the Caribbean and the United States represents a call for multidisciplinary collaborative and complex approaches to the subject of the African diaspora

The Influence of Small States on Superpowers Richard L. Bernal, 2015-07-22 The conventional wisdom is that small developing countries exert limited if any influence on the foreign policy of superpowers in particular the United States This book challenges that premise based on the experience of the small developing country of Jamaica and its relations with the United States It raises the question if the foreign policy of the United States can be influenced by even a small developing country should Washington be worried

Turns of Event Hester Blum, 2016-02-15 American literary studies has undergone a series of field redefinitions over the past two decades that have been consistently described as turns whether transnational hemispheric postnational spatial temporal postsecular aesthetic or affective In Turns of Event Hester Blum and a splendid roster of contributors explore the conditions that have produced such movements Offering an overview of the state of the study of nineteenth century American literature Blum contends that the field's propensity to turn to reinvent itself constantly without dissolution is one of its greatest strengths The essays in the volume's first half Provocations trace the theoretical and methodological development and institutional emergence of certain turns as well as providing calls to arms The geopolitically oriented turns toward the transnational hemispheric and oceanic whether Atlantic Caribbean Pacific or archipelagic in focus have held a certain prevalence in American studies in recent years and the second half of this volume presents a series of scholarly essays that exemplify these subfields Taken together these essays survey the field of American literary studies as it moves beyond new historicism as its primary methodology and evolves in light of ideological conceptual and material considerations There is much at stake in these movements the consequences and opportunities range from citational and evidentiary practices to canon expansion resource allocation and institutional futurity Contributors Monique Allewaert Ralph Bauer Hester Blum Martin Brückner Michelle Burnham Christopher Castiglia Sean X Goudie Meredith L McGill Geoffrey Sanborn
