ENBPV

CORPORATION

Is an artificial being created by operation of law having the right of succession, and the powers attributes and properties expressly authorized by law or incident to its existence (Section 2 of Revised Corporation Code, R.A. 11232)

- Generally composed of of 5 or more owners, but a corporation can now be incorporated with one owner ( One Person Corporation)

CHARACTERISTICS:

1. SEPARATE LEGAL EXISTENCE

- A corporation has a "juridical personality of its own separate and distinct from the shareholders. It can act on its own name wherein it can enter into contracts, sue and be sued , have its own assets and liabilities under its own name.
- "An entity that is created by law and granted with rights and responsibilities.

2. CREATED BY OPERATION OF LAW

- A corporation is created by law ( Revised Corporation Code or R.A. 11232) which authorizes and regulates its existence. It is not created by mere agreement by the parties who want to organize a corporation. In order for a corporation to be established, the rules and regulations in the RA 11232 must be strictly followed.

3. RIGHT OF SUCCESSION/ PERPETUAL LIFE

- A corporation can exist continuously regardless there is a death, withdrawal or incapacity of shareholders and regardless of the transfer or sale of shareholder of its shares. Based of the Revised Corporation code the life of a corporation is perpetual, meaning it can exist continuously without any limitations unless base on their articles of incorporation otherwise. Before, based on the Old Corporation code, the corporate life of a corporation is for a period not exceeding 50 years at a time from the date of incorporation, however this may be extended, by amending the articles of incorporation for periods not exceeding 50 years.

4. Powers, attributes and properties expressly authorized by law or incident to its existence.

A corporation is granted by the Revised Corporation Code the powers which are:

a.) Express powers – powers granted by the laws ( R.A. 11232/ Special laws) or enumerated in the articles of incorporation.

Example of express power is the power to extend or shorten corporate term of a private corporation when approved by a majority vote of the board of directors and ratified by at least 2/3 of the outstanding shareholders indicated in the articles of incorporation.

b.) Incidental powers – powers which are necessary for corporate existence and which can be exercised.

Corporate Social Responsibility, Accountability and Governance Istemi Demirag,2018-10-08

The business case for corporate social responsibility which suggests that socially and environmentally aware companies can expect to reap financial rewards is seemingly gaining widespread acceptance within the business community. This is particularly apparent in the ever increasing number of prominent companies parading their social ethical and environmental credentials by producing paper or web based social and environmental or sustainability reports. In so doing reporting companies claim they are demonstrating a clear commitment to transparency and accountability to their key stakeholder groups. However in the prevailing voluntaristic business case centred climate within which such initiatives are taking place little thought appears to have gone into the question of how stakeholders other than the capital provider group can actually use corporate disclosures offered in order to hold management accountable for the social and environmental consequences of their actions. While much corporate rhetoric abounds concerning notions of stakeholder dialogue and engagement rigorous analysis of the governance implications of their claimed commitment to the principles of corporate social responsibility is largely conspicuous by its absence. Corporate Social Responsibility Accountability and Governance seeks to explore this missing link between CSR and associated reporting initiatives and governance mechanisms that are capable of embracing true stakeholder accountability. A wide range of case studies drawing on experiences of both public and private sector initiatives in Europe the United States Canada South America and Asia offer insightful analysis of the complex relationships between the state the market and civil society in the development of CSR accountability and sustainable development. The book employs a multidisciplinary perspective in order to analyse the political social economic technological legal and organisational shaping of CSR. The complexities underpinning the concept are thereby clearly drawn out and the gross oversimplifications inherent in the prevailing consultancy driven business case literature painfully exposed. Above all the book offers a sound practically and theoretically informed contribution to public policy debate and reflects and builds on urgent calls from public and private sector policy makers as well as academics to develop better governance and accountability frameworks for business to deal with the imperatives of social responsibility sustainable development and ethics. This book is divided into five parts. In Part 1 the complex concepts of responsibility accountability and governance are discussed and in particular the presumed relationships between the state the market and civil society in improving accountability and governance are explored and critiqued. Part 2 consists of chapters relating to corporate social responsibility and stakeholder theory. Part 3 is concerned with empirical studies covering governance structures networking and corporate social responsibility. Part 4 deals with corporate governance and its implications for regulators and civil society. Part 5 discusses multinational companies and how they impact on national governance regimes. Finally a summary is provided with emerging international patterns of accountability and governance structures. Corporate Social Responsibility Accountability and Governance will be essential reading for public and private policy makers and practitioners and academics interested in how CSR can become more than a soundbite and rather a substantial force for better global corporate governance and accountability
